"ORDERLY RETREAT" IS PLANNED BY OPA

1945 Draftees To Be Released Before Jan. 1

Army's Existing Strength Will Be Cut One Quarter This Year

SLASH MUST BE MADE TO KEEP IN PAYROLL

Director Of Personnel Admits Army Had Been Kept Over Strength

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP) — Flooded with volunteers, the Army today ordered the discharge by January 1 of all remaining soldiers who were drafted in 1945.

The announced aim of this and other orders is to lop off a fourth of the Army's existing strength by the year's end.

The new directives included instructions by the Air Forces to discharge some 8,700 wartime air officers still on active duty in addition to those quitting active service voluntarily.

Previous Estimates Revised

Revising previous estimates in the light of the recent upsurge in volunteer enlistments, officials disclosed that 435,000 ground and air officers and enlisted men must be returned to civil life to keep within the payroll authorized by Congress.

Aiming at a total strength of 1,310,000 by December 31, the War Department:

1. Ordered the discharge of the last of the 1945 non-volunteers in time for completion of their terminal leave by the end of December.

2. Directed commanders to screen all rosters and eliminate as surplus all non-volunteers deemed to be unfit for their assigned duties, and those who have shown "ineptitude for military service."

Army Kept Over Strength

Gen. Willard S. Paul, the War Department's director of personnel and administration, acknowledged to reporters that the Army had been kept over strength for several months because of "uncertainties" over the future of the draft and the success of the drive for volunteers for the regular army.

Paul said the new measures would help put the Army on a complete volunteer basis and promise to raise efficiency.

Congress in directing the Army to reduce in twelve months from 1,550,000 to 1,070,000 on next July 1, provided funds to pay only 1,310,000 at the end of 1946.

However, the Army numbered 1,745,000 on September 30.

Reece Scents Politics

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—GOP Chairman Carroll Reece scented politics today in two government announcements: (1) the discharge this year of all 1945 army draftees and (2) a $35,000,000 increase in flood control expenditures.

If economy was the reason for the army cut, he said in a statement, "it is difficult to understand why the administration finds it advisable to increase expenditures by another branch of the government."

He called the two announcements "another and striking illustration of the incurable confusion of the present administration."

"Could it be," he asked, "that both moves are intended as a bid for votes on November 5?"

Wife Slayer Is Given 99-Year Prison Term

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 17 (AP) — Pleading guilty to a first degree murder charge for the shotgun slaying of his wife, Robert L. Horner, 49, today heard a criminal court judge sentence him to prison for 99 years.

Horner was charged with shooting his wife in a downtown department store lunchroom during the mid-day rush on July 30. His wife, Gertrude, 31, a waitress, died immediately after the shotgun blast that terrified scores of shoppers and wounded five bystanders. Horner, in turn, was felled by gunfire from a policeman.

Portion Of Jewels Stolen From Duchess Of Windsor Found Outside Apartment

Collegian Eats Ten Steaks In Two Hours To Annex Contest

IOWA CITY Ia., Oct. 17 (AP) —Big John McKay, University of Iowa junior, ate steaks for two hours today—10 of them—to win a steak-eating contest sponsored by a local restaurant celebrating the end of price controls on meat.

After an hour and 20 minutes of steak eating, his opponent, Bill Mahone, Clear Lake, Ia., conceded the contest to McKay. The score then stood at eight steaks downed by McKay to six by Mahone.

The contest was intended to last for two hours and each contestant had pledged to "eat to the finish," but Mahone, lagging by two steaks and wishing to make a university class, conceded to the Cedar Rapids, Ia., student, who is six feet, four inches tall and weighs 250 pounds.

Thieves Climbed Drain Pipe; Scotland Yard Is Investigating

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP) — London police combed night clubs tonight for a trace of expert thieves who climbed a drain pipe into the Duchess of Windsor's country apartment, looted a "considerable portion" of her glittering $1,000,000 jewel collection and left part of it scattered on a nearby golf course.

A friend of the Duke of Windsor and his American-born wife said from $80,000 to $100,000 worth of rich gems were taken late yesterday from the second story boudoir at Ednam Lodge where the ducal couple were hosts of the banker and international industrialist, Earl of Dudley.

Jewels Were Insured

Exchange Telegraph Agency said, however, it understood the value of the stolen gems was $800,000 and that $120,000 had been recovered. The Duke's friends said all the stolen jewels were insured.

Detectives announcing the recovery of a "certain amount" of the rich haul, said the loot was found in a Gladstone bag on the Earl's golf course overlooked by the Duchess' boudoir window. Other pieces of the sparkling array were scattered in the grass, the detectives said.

One Point Cleared Up

While Scotland Yard's sleuths began a checkup of all known upper crust criminals in England who might have participated in the daring raid on the former King of England's apartment, the detectives cleared up one point of mystery in the case.

They said the thief or thieves had climbed a drain pipe and entered the Duchess' room by a window. Previously there had been speculation that a presentable thief might have walked right in the front door under the noses of a special detachment of Scotland Yard men detailed to guard the premises since the Duke and his wife arrived at the estate near London last Friday.

Byrnes, Praised By Truman, Works On Radio Address

Secretary Will Report To Nation On Peace Conference Tonight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Congratulated by President Truman for doing a "most excellent job" at the Paris peace conference, Secretary of State Byrnes went to work tonight on a report to the nation in which he is expected to reinforce emphatically his "firm policy" toward Russia.

He will broadcast for 30 minutes beginning at 10 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, Friday, over NBC. The broadcast will deal at length with the inconclusive Paris conference which, Byrnes said today, made "some progress" toward peace in Europe.

Truman To Open U. N. Assembly

The address will be the first of two major government speeches on foreign policy within less than a week, the second being by Mr. Truman himself. He will open the United Nations Assembly at New York Wednesday, the White House announced.

There was speculation that the President and Byrnes, who talked for 50 minutes today, would reply to former Secretary of Commerce Wallace's criticism of Byrnes' attitude toward Russia.

Still another talk on foreign affairs will be broadcast by Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich) at 7 p. m., EST, Saturday over CBS. Vandenberg served with Byrnes in Paris and came home with him by plane today.

Russian Policy Conferences

At the State Department, meanwhile, Ambassador to Russia Walter Bedell Smith began a series of conferences with top policy-making officials on the whole range of issues with Russia to determine how present policies can be more effectively carried out.

Smith arrived from Paris last night and will be here 10 days, returning then to Moscow.

President Truman's personal plane, the four-engined "Sacred Cow," brought Byrnes, Vandenberg, their wives and some close advisers from Paris, arriving at National Airport at 8:55 a. m. They had been in the French capital for more than 11 weeks of grueling argument and frequent sharp conflict with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov and other Russian-bloc officials.

5,000 Reported Killed

CALCUTTA, Oct. 17. (AP)—Surendra Mohe Ghosh, president of the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee, said in a statement today that at least 5,000 persons had been killed and 50,000 affected in spreading communal rioting in East Bengal during the past week.

Threatened Racial Clash Is Averted

MT. PLEASANT, Tenn., Oct. 17 (AP)—Two negroes were started for Nashville in custody to Maury county officers late today after a crowd of white men described by Police Chief Gordon Poore as "a mob" gathered about the City Hall during questioning of the negroes about an incident involving themselves and a white man.

The negroes were removed to Columbia, Maury county seat, 12 miles from Mt. Pleasant, where County Sheriff Flo Fleming took charge of them and started for Nashville.

Columbia itself was the scene of a racial clash last February 25 but Editor John W. Finney, of the Columbia Daily Herald, said all remained quiet during the temporary stop of the negroes there this afternoon.

"It's a mob and they want the negroes," Police Chief Poore said here as the crowd began clustering in mid-afternoon about the City Hall, in which the jail is located.

The assemblage—between 50 and 75 men—began dissolving an hour later when it was announced the negroes had been taken out of town.

Before the removal of the negroes from Mt. Pleasant, Sheriff Fleming said the situation there was described as "aggravated."

Poore said the negroes were taken into custody after what he said was an attempt to rob Henry Bone, a 44-year old white man, of $60.

Labor Federation Convention Ends

CHICAGO, Oct. 17 (AP) — The American Federation of Labor adjourned its two-week-long convention today with a pledge to fight state court injunctions issued against unions.

Delegates approved a resolution's committee statement expressing "alarm" at a "recent tendency on the part of state courts to re-establish the evil of government by injunction."

"In the past year a number of courts in many states have issued old-time injunctions prohibiting workers from striking, peacefully picketing, boycotting and from engaging in any other peaceful economic pressure in furtherance of labor disputes," the statement said.

It noted that national law prohibits federal court injunctions against picketing and other union practices. Delegates said privately the injunction issued by a state court in the Pittsburgh, Pa., power strike, though later dissolved, was the principal bases of the convention action.

"In fact," the convention's policy statement said, "anti-labor legislators and congressmen have given notice they will introduce repressive labor measures in the forthcoming sessions of the legislatures and Congress.

"The AFL will vigorously oppose these anti-labor laws and take all proper means to defeat them."

13 Aboard Large Transport Plane Killed In Crash

Unexplained Tragedy Strikes Craft During Wyoming Snowstorm

LARAMIE, Wyo., Oct. 17 (AP) — Unexplained tragedy struck a twin-engined transport plane during a heavy snowstorm west of Laramie early today and the craft plunged into the treeless prairie, killing all ten passengers and a crew of three.

Among the victims were the pilot of the DC-3, Clarence Robert Abernathy, 27, San Lorenzo, Calif., formerly of Crystal City, Mo., and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Boland, Toronto, Canada. Mrs. Boland was en route home after visiting her daughter and son-in-law following the birth of a child to the couple two months ago.

Other Dead Identified

The other dead were identified from an airline passenger list issued at Oakland as:

Harry Holle, San Francisco, co-pilot; Dorothy Hartman, Elizabeth, N. J.; R. A. Gregor, Somerville, Mass.; Steven A. Smith, Springfield, Ill.; J. W. Trogdon, Spartanburg, S. C.; A. Gunza, East Paterson, N. J.; Ray A. Butler, Marlboro, Mass.; H. Whidden, Kennett, Mo.; Mrs. H. E. Thompson, Falls City, Nebr., and June Thompson, her daughter.

Acting Coroner E. L. Knight said several of the seven men passengers were sailors.

Bound For Chicago

Abernathy, a former lieutenant commander in the Navy Air Transport Service, was treasurer of the "NATS Air Transport Service," a postwar commercial line organized by a group of former Navy pilots. The line carries passengers and freight on a charter basis between Oakland and Newark, N. J.

The NATS plane which crashed three miles west of here at about 1 a. m. (MST) was bound for Chicago and was to have stopped at Cheyenne to refuel and change crews. Officials of the Civil Aeronautics Administration at Cheyenne said the weather was unfavorable there at midnight and that a routine report was given the pilot, but that he was not ordered to land at Laramie, where no stop was scheduled.

Mrs. Goering "Innocent"

Bodies Of 11 Top Nazis Are Reduced To Ashes

Educator Sees Era Of Leisure Ahead But Fears Boredom

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 17 (AP)—"If we are not all killed in the next few years, we will all be bored to death," Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, chancellor of the University of Chicago, said today.

He told a conference marking the Princeton University bicentennial that "an era of leisure and plenty" lies just ahead for the American people.

"Our whole economy, which has rested upon a philosophy of work and scarcity, will disintegrate," he said. "In its place, we will have an era of leisure and plenty."

He added:

"The horrors of peace in the atom age are almost as bad as the horrors of war."

Ashes "Secretly Dispersed"; Guard Foiled Goering In Suicide Try Three Months Ago

NUERNBERG, Oct. 17. (AP)—The bodies of the suicide Hermann Goering and 10 hanged Nazi war leaders have been reduced to ashes —like the thousands of their victims who perished in concentration camps—and "secretly dispersed," the Allied Control Council announced today.

The official announcement of the cremation did not say whether the ashes had been scattered over land or sea.

Meanwhile, it was learned from a security officer that Goering, who cheated the hangman's noose by taking poison shortly before he was to have gone to the gallows had planned to commit suicide three months ago with a piece of celluloid. An alert guard foiled him.

The officer gave this account account of the incident which occurred while the Nazi leaders were on trial before the International Military Tribunal:

The ear phones which Goering used during the trial seemed to be faulty and he was unable to hear some of the proceedings. Becoming suspicious, a guard examined the ear phones and discovered that they had been tampered with and the inner working extracted.

New Speculation Opened

This working contained a piece of celluloid which the officer said was sharp enough to slit a vein or an artery. The ear phones were used during the trial to provide translations of the proceedings.

The officer's account conflicted with one theory that Goering had the poison vial a long time before he took his own life. It also opened new speculation as to how soon before his impending hanging he managed to obtain the poison and from whom.

There were these other developments in the backwash created by Goering's suicide and the executions of the 10 other Nazis:

1. It was disclosed that Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel also may have planned to foil the hangman by suicide, but was balked by his own inept handling of his wallet.

2. A special board of three United States Army officers pursued all possible angles and 12 German prison employes were kept under close scrutiny in an attempt to unravel the mystery of how Goering obtained the vial of potassium cyanide that killed him. If the board found any clues it was not making them public.

3. Former Nazis among the Germans were jubilant and anti-Nazis shocked at Goering's act.

Cremation Communique

Col. B. C. Andrus, commandant of the Nuernberg prison, speaking in the name of the Allied Control Council, released this brief communique on the cremation:

Berger Is Named No. 1 Red In U. S.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)—Louis F. Budenz, Fordham University economics instructor who a year ago renounced Communism to embrace the Catholic faith, today named a man he said was known as Hans Berger as No. 1 Communist agent in the United States.

Budenz, who said he expected to testify concerning Berger before the House Committee on Unamerican Activities probably late next month, described Berger as director of all Communist activity in this country but a man virtually unknown among the party's rank and file.

Budenz said Berger formerly was a member of the staff of the Daily Worker, the party's newspaper published in New York, but declined to give other details concerning him.

Agreement Reached

CHICAGO, Oct. 17. (AP)—James C. Petrillo announced late today that an agreement for a 37½ per cent wage increase for musicians who make recordings had been reached at negotiations with members of the industry.

Adm. Waesche, Wartime Leader Of U. S. Coast Guard, Dies At 60

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP) — Adm. Russell Randolph Waesche, wartime commandant of the Coast Guard, died this afternoon at the Naval Medical Center of a coronary heart disease. He was 60.

Commandant of the Coast Guard from 1936 to his retirement on December 31, 1945, Adm. Waesche was named by President Truman as one of his "elder statesmen" to consult with him on national defense.

But ill health had prevented the Admiral from serving in that capacity.

Born in Thurmont, Md., he was commissioned an ensign in the Coast Guard in 1906. He rose through the ranks to become the Coast Guard's first full admiral.

Adm. Waesche received the Distinguished Service Medal in September, 1945, for his wartime service when the Coast Guard grew from a peacetime force of about 15,000 to more than 170,000 officers and men. He was cited for "exceptionally meritorious service."

Lower-Grade Cattle, Hog Prices Drop

Collapse From $1 To $10 Per 100 Pounds; Most Commodities Deflated

CHICAGO, Oct. 17 (AP) — Meat exploded onto the nation's livestock markets today in the largest numbers in 10 months. When the storm was over virtually all price ballons except those on top grade cattle had collapsed from $1 to $10 a hundred pounds.

Most commodities likewise were deflated, including butter, eggs, poultry, wheat, corn, oats, and cotton. Lard, soybeans, and flax kept out of the storm area, however, and moved to new high ground.

Markets Are Swamped

Some markets, such as Oklahoma City, were swamped with so many animals the yards couldn't handle them. Others of major importance were on the receiving end of miles-long lines of trucks filled with beef roats, pork chops, and lamb steaks on the hoof.

Prices which had set new records only yesterday receded steadily almost with every new truckload, particularly on hogs and lower grade cattle.

Strictly choice cattle went to a new high mark at Chicago, however, odd head going for $37.50 and load lots peaking at $36. The Omaha market set a new record for the third day in a row, hitting $33 or $2 better than yesterday.

Rail Cars At Premium

The popular price at Chicago was $20 after an early top had been set at $23 and compared with yesterday's record-equalling mark of $27.50. Sheep also were off $1 to $1.50, topping at $26.50 in comparison with yesterday's new record of $28.

Other markets showed similar reactions as buyers found difficulty in getting the rail cars to move their purchases to eastern areas.

Some grades of hogs at the St. Louis, Mo., market were off from $8 to $10. At St. Paul, Minn., average prices were $6.50 down, and at Sioux City, Ia., as much as $4.25 less.

Clark Blames GOP Members For War

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 17 (AP)—United States Attorney General Thomas C. Clark in a bitter attack on Republican senators and representatives, charged members of that party tonight with responsibility for World War II and with trying to tie the hands of the United States representative on the Security Council.

Speaking before an overflow audience at a Democratic rally here, Clark said that "the combination of Martin, Barton and Fish (former members of the House of Representative) was responsible for World War II because they kept us from fortifying the Pacific and scuttled plans for two airplane carriers."

He added that "Taft, Millikin and Wheery (Republican senators Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado and Kenneth S. Wheery of Nebraska) have tried to tie the hands of the United States representatives on the Security Council."

He also recalled that Taft had tried to kill the full employment bill as "'born of Communism and the CIO'."

Production Of Autos Dropped In September

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—The Civilian Production Administration announced today that automotive production declined during September, halting the industry's previous climb toward prewar levels.

The agency attributed the decline to general shortages in sheet steel, pig iron, copper and lead.

The sharpest drop was in truck production which fell to 92,044 trucks from 105,506 produced in August.

Most Controls Will Be Lifted By November 1

President's Program To Be Carried Out Without "Riot Or Chaos"

CEILINGS ARE SLATED TO REMAIN ON RENTS

Lids Will Be Kept On Autos, Building Materials; Coffee "Freed"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP) —A top level official said tonight that OPA has set a November 1 deadline for doing away with most of the remaining price controls on foods, commodities and services.

This disclosure came as OPA released all price controls on coffee and millers argued for lifting ceilings from flour.

The government official, who withheld the use of his name, told a reporter that plans are laid for "an orderly retreat."

"We are going to carry out the President's (decontrol) program to the fullest possible degree," he said, "but it is not going to be a riot or chaos."

"We must keep ceilings on rent. We also must keep them on automobiles, building materials and certain durable goods."

Scheduled to stay under ceilings are many household appliances such as refrigerators, certain basic clothing items, furniture and farm implements.

Coffee Controls Removed

Removal of OPA controls on coffee today was cited as an example of other actions to follow.

Coffee prices had been raised so high under ceilings that it was a fiction to retain controls when supply came into balance with demand, the official said.

He related that OPA divisions now are busy compiling a complete list of all controlled products, both food and non-food, and listing those on which the public spends less than $75,000,000 a year.

These items will be decontrolled, the official added, as unimportant to living or business costs.

Congress had directed that all such items be freed from ceilings before January 1 next but the OPA schedule now calls for action two months early.

Other items and services with an annual outlay or volume above $75,000,000 are to be freed from ceilings as soon as it is determined that such action will not upset stabilization efforts against wild inflation.

Anti-Control Drive Expected

Administration leaders are reported agreed that, before Congress reassemblies in January, the entire OPA staff and its functions must be whittled to the minimum. This is necessary, the official said, if any controls are to survive. Officials said they expect a drive upon the part of congressional critics, aimed at killing off all of them, including rent controls and the complex veterans' housing program.

On the rent front, Ivan D. Carson, OPA administrator for rents, told a reporter there will be no nationwide increase in rent ceilings.

Carson said that OPA is granting individual rent increases at the rate of 20,000 monthly. He said a survey of the 575 rental control areas showed that most landlords are enjoying better profits than they did in prewar years.

As to housing, Expediter Wilson Wyatt emerged from a White House conference today with word that ceilings would "definitely remain on all building materials and upon sales and rentals under the veterans' housing program."

Hospital Campaign

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 17. (AP)—Sponsors of a proposed new King's Daughters Hospital to be erected on the public square adjacent to the present structure announced today a campaign for a minimum public subscription of $450,000 would be started November 1.

"Reluctant Turtle," Jeep Equipped With "Submarine" Kit, Is Unveiled

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 17 (AP)—The Navy unveiled "The Reluctant Turtle" today, a submarine jeep that adds one new talent to the versatile vehicle of World War II fame.

Experts said the depth to which the sea-going jeep may submerge "seems to be limited only to the length of the neck of the driver, whose head must stick out of water."

Marine Sgt. Roy Harmon, Washington, D. C., veteran of Pacific fighting and driver of the Turtle, wore a diving suit, minus headpiece. The waves lapped over his collar and wet him to the waist.

Hitting the water at 18 miles an hour, in a demonstration for newspapermen, the Turtle threw a spray 20 feet into the air and slowed to a walk. The impact snapped Harmon's neck forward until he almost cracked the windshield.

But the Turtle, using four-wheel power, churned on and the wheels submerged. Then the fenders and finally the windshield disappeared.

Nothing remained but Harmon's beaming smile and two pipes, like periscopes, sticking out of the water. Harmon rode the waves like a duck. The demonstration lasted more than an hour.

The Turtle is an ordinary jeep equipped with a "submarine" kit. Marine and Navy men at the demonstration said the seagoing jeep might have saved lives and equipment in war time beach invasion. It also will permit jeep-borne soldiers to ford rivers.

Foe Of Government Questionnaires Admits He's Fighting Losing Battle

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—The fellow who tries to whack down on government questionnaires admitted today he's fighting a losing battle.

"Every time we get a questionnaire or a report straightened out," said Russell Schneider, "eight fuzzy ones spring up somewhere else."

Schneider is executive secretary of the Advisory Committee on Government Questionnaires, the baffled businessman's little helper.

Seven national organizations — such as the United States Chamber of Commerce and the National Industrial Council — pay for the committee.

But it differs from the usual business group, Schneider said, in this way:

Many business outfits don't like what's going on here in Washington, and yearn to change policy. The committee takes the policy as it is, and tries to find out how to make the best of it.

The committee works closely with the Budget Bureau, which has the power to decide how much any government agency can heckle a businessman.

Here's an example of how the committee works:

During the war the OPA sent out a questionnaire which asked:

Do you want your prices increased? If so, fill out this form, showing the cost of each part in the article you produce.

"Our machine tool boys hit the ceiling," Schneider told a reporter. "You see, some machine tools have 20,000 parts."

Schneider consulted a machine tool expert. After the expert cooled down to 160 degrees Fahrenheit, he worked up a substitute, with only five questions.

Truman Would Bring More Nazis To Justice

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—President Truman declared today that the task of meting out justice to Nazi "malefactors" is not finished —that guilty industrialists, diplomats, police officials and others remain to be punished.

He did not say specifically how they should be brought to book, but declared he would give "careful consideration" to Supreme Court Justice Jackson's suggestion that the four occupying powers individually hold the trials.

The President gave his views in a letter accepting the resignation of Jackson as United States prosecutor at the International Military Tribunal which sentenced leading Nazis.

Army's Existing Strength Will Be Cut One Quarter This Year

Director Of Personnel Admits Army Had Been Kept Over Strength

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP) — Flooded with volunteers, the Army today ordered the discharge by January 1 of all remaining soldiers who were drafted in 1945.

The announced aim of this and other orders is to lop off a fourth of the Army's existing strength by the year's end.

The new directives included instructions by the Air Forces to discharge some 8,700 wartime air officers still on active duty in addition to those quitting active service voluntarily.

Previous Estimates Revised

Revising previous estimates in the light of the recent upsurge in volunteer enlistments, officials disclosed that 435,000 ground and air officers and enlisted men must be returned to civil life to keep within the payroll authorized by Congress.

Aiming at a total strength of 1,310,000 by December 31, the War Department:

1. Ordered the discharge of the last of the 1945 non-volunteers in time for completion of their terminal leave by the end of December.

2. Directed commanders to screen all rosters and eliminate as surplus all non-volunteers deemed to be unfit for their assigned duties, and those who have shown "ineptitude for military service."

Army Kept Over Strength

Gen. Willard S. Paul, the War Department's director of personnel and administration, acknowledged to reporters that the Army had been kept over strength for several months because of "uncertainties" over the future of the draft and the success of the drive for volunteers for the regular army.

Paul said the new measures would help put the Army on a complete volunteer basis and promise to raise efficiency.

Congress in directing the Army to reduce in twelve months from 1,550,000 to 1,070,000 on next July 1, provided funds to pay only 1,310,000 at the end of 1946.

However, the Army numbered 1,745,000 on September 30.

Reece Scents Politics

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—GOP Chairman Carroll Reece scented politics today in two government announcements: (1) the discharge this year of all 1945 army draftees and (2) a $35,000,000 increase in flood control expenditures.

If economy was the reason for the army cut, he said in a statement, "it is difficult to understand why the administration finds it advisable to increase expenditures by another branch of the government."

He called the two announcements "another and striking illustration of the incurable confusion of the present administration."

"Could it be," he asked, "that both moves are intended as a bid for votes on November 5?"

Collegian Eats Ten Steaks In Two Hours To Annex Contest

IOWA CITY Ia., Oct. 17 (AP) —Big John McKay, University of Iowa junior, ate steaks for two hours today—10 of them—to win a steak-eating contest sponsored by a local restaurant celebrating the end of price controls on meat.

After an hour and 20 minutes of steak eating, his opponent, Bill Mahone, Clear Lake, Ia., conceded the contest to McKay. The score then stood at eight steaks downed by McKay to six by Mahone.

The contest was intended to last for two hours and each contestant had pledged to "eat to the finish," but Mahone, lagging by two steaks and wishing to make a university class, conceded to the Cedar Rapids, Ia., student, who is six feet, four inches tall and weighs 250 pounds.

Byrnes, Praised By Truman, Works On Radio Address

Secretary Will Report To Nation On Peace Conference Tonight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Congratulated by President Truman for doing a "most excellent job" at the Paris peace conference, Secretary of State Byrnes went to work tonight on a report to the nation in which he is expected to reinforce emphatically his "firm policy" toward Russia.

He will broadcast for 30 minutes beginning at 10 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, Friday, over NBC. The broadcast will deal at length with the inconclusive Paris conference which, Byrnes said today, made "some progress" toward peace in Europe.

Truman To Open U. N. Assembly

The address will be the first of two major government speeches on foreign policy within less than a week, the second being by Mr. Truman himself. He will open the United Nations Assembly at New York Wednesday, the White House announced.

There was speculation that the President and Byrnes, who talked for 50 minutes today, would reply to former Secretary of Commerce Wallace's criticism of Byrnes' attitude toward Russia.

Still another talk on foreign affairs will be broadcast by Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich) at 7 p. m., EST, Saturday over CBS. Vandenberg served with Byrnes in Paris and came home with him by plane today.

Russian Policy Conferences

At the State Department, meanwhile, Ambassador to Russia Walter Bedell Smith began a series of conferences with top policy-making officials on the whole range of issues with Russia to determine how present policies can be more effectively carried out.

Smith arrived from Paris last night and will be here 10 days, returning then to Moscow.

President Truman's personal plane, the four-engined "Sacred Cow," brought Byrnes, Vandenberg, their wives and some close advisers from Paris, arriving at National Airport at 8:55 a. m. They had been in the French capital for more than 11 weeks of grueling argument and frequent sharp conflict with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov and other Russian-bloc officials.

5,000 Reported Killed

CALCUTTA, Oct. 17. (AP)—Surendra Mohe Ghosh, president of the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee, said in a statement today that at least 5,000 persons had been killed and 50,000 affected in spreading communal rioting in East Bengal during the past week.

Threatened Racial Clash Is Averted

MT. PLEASANT, Tenn., Oct. 17 (AP)—Two negroes were started for Nashville in custody to Maury county officers late today after a crowd of white men described by Police Chief Gordon Poore as "a mob" gathered about the City Hall during questioning of the negroes about an incident involving themselves and a white man.

The negroes were removed to Columbia, Maury county seat, 12 miles from Mt. Pleasant, where County Sheriff Flo Fleming took charge of them and started for Nashville.

Columbia itself was the scene of a racial clash last February 25 but Editor John W. Finney, of the Columbia Daily Herald, said all remained quiet during the temporary stop of the negroes there this afternoon.

"It's a mob and they want the negroes," Police Chief Poore said here as the crowd began clustering in mid-afternoon about the City Hall, in which the jail is located.

The assemblage—between 50 and 75 men—began dissolving an hour later when it was announced the negroes had been taken out of town.

Before the removal of the negroes from Mt. Pleasant, Sheriff Fleming said the situation there was described as "aggravated."

Poore said the negroes were taken into custody after what he said was an attempt to rob Henry Bone, a 44-year old white man, of $60.

Labor Federation Convention Ends

CHICAGO, Oct. 17 (AP) — The American Federation of Labor adjourned its two-week-long convention today with a pledge to fight state court injunctions issued against unions.

Delegates approved a resolution's committee statement expressing "alarm" at a "recent tendency on the part of state courts to re-establish the evil of government by injunction."

"In the past year a number of courts in many states have issued old-time injunctions prohibiting workers from striking, peacefully picketing, boycotting and from engaging in any other peaceful economic pressure in furtherance of labor disputes," the statement said.

It noted that national law prohibits federal court injunctions against picketing and other union practices. Delegates said privately the injunction issued by a state court in the Pittsburgh, Pa., power strike, though later dissolved, was the principal bases of the convention action.

"In fact," the convention's policy statement said, "anti-labor legislators and congressmen have given notice they will introduce repressive labor measures in the forthcoming sessions of the legislatures and Congress.

"The AFL will vigorously oppose these anti-labor laws and take all proper means to defeat them."

"Reluctant Turtle," Jeep Equipped With "Submarine" Kit, Is Unveiled

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 17 (AP)—The Navy unveiled "The Reluctant Turtle" today, a submarine jeep that adds one new talent to the versatile vehicle of World War II fame.

Experts said the depth to which the sea-going jeep may submerge "seems to be limited only to the length of the neck of the driver, whose head must stick out of water."

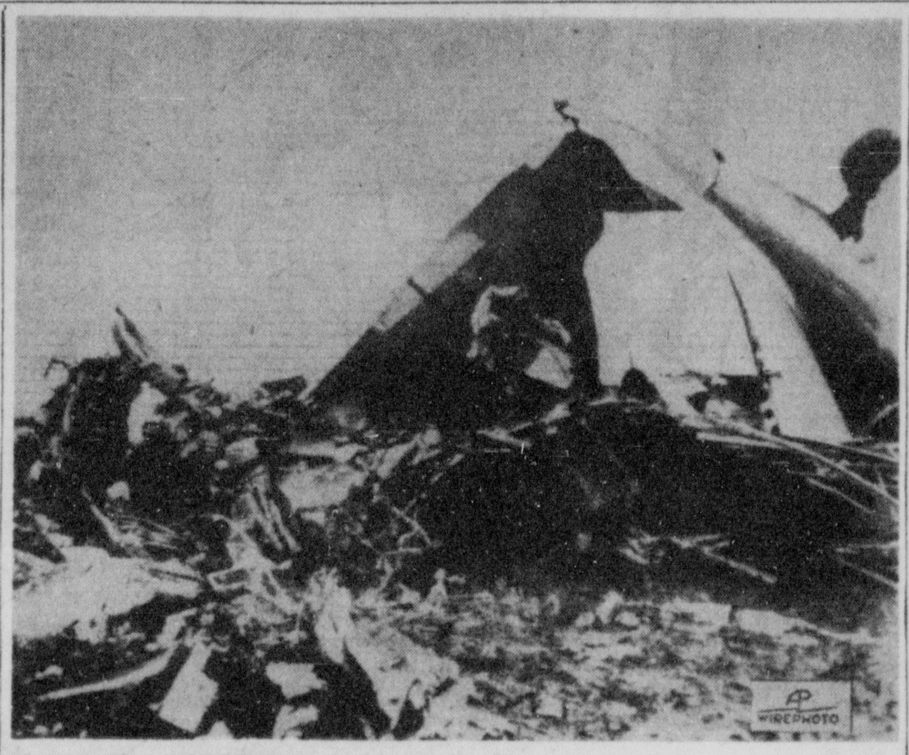

Marine Sgt. Roy Harmon, Washington, D. C., veteran of Pacific fighting and driver of the Turtle, wore a diving suit, minus headpiece. The waves lapped over his collar and wet him to the waist.

Hitting the water at 18 miles an hour, in a demonstration for newspapermen, the Turtle threw a spray 20 feet into the air and slowed to a walk. The impact snapped Harmon's neck forward until he almost cracked the windshield.

But the Turtle, using four-wheel power, churned on and the wheels submerged. Then the fenders and finally the windshield disappeared.

Nothing remained but Harmon's beaming smile and two pipes, like periscopes, sticking out of the water. Harmon rode the waves like a duck. The demonstration lasted more than an hour.

The Turtle is an ordinary jeep equipped with a "submarine" kit. Marine and Navy men at the demonstration said the seagoing jeep might have saved lives and equipment in war time beach invasion. It also will permit jeep-borne soldiers to ford rivers.

13 Aboard Large Transport Plane Killed In Crash

Unexplained Tragedy Strikes Craft During Wyoming Snowstorm

LARAMIE, Wyo., Oct. 17 (AP) — Unexplained tragedy struck a twin-engined transport plane during a heavy snowstorm west of Laramie early today and the craft plunged into the treeless prairie, killing all ten passengers and a crew of three.

Among the victims were the pilot of the DC-3, Clarence Robert Abernathy, 27, San Lorenzo, Calif., formerly of Crystal City, Mo., and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Boland, Toronto, Canada. Mrs. Boland was en route home after visiting her daughter and son-in-law following the birth of a child to the couple two months ago.

Other Dead Identified

The other dead were identified from an airline passenger list issued at Oakland as:

Harry Holle, San Francisco, co-pilot; Dorothy Hartman, Elizabeth, N. J.; R. A. Gregor, Somerville, Mass.; Steven A. Smith, Springfield, Ill.; J. W. Trogdon, Spartanburg, S. C.; A. Gunza, East Paterson, N. J.; Ray A. Butler, Marlboro, Mass.; H. Whidden, Kennett, Mo.; Mrs. H. E. Thompson, Falls City, Nebr., and June Thompson, her daughter.

Acting Coroner E. L. Knight said several of the seven men passengers were sailors.

Bound For Chicago

Abernathy, a former lieutenant commander in the Navy Air Transport Service, was treasurer of the "NATS Air Transport Service," a postwar commercial line organized by a group of former Navy pilots. The line carries passengers and freight on a charter basis between Oakland and Newark, N. J.

The NATS plane which crashed three miles west of here at about 1 a. m. (MST) was bound for Chicago and was to have stopped at Cheyenne to refuel and change crews. Officials of the Civil Aeronautics Administration at Cheyenne said the weather was unfavorable there at midnight and that a routine report was given the pilot, but that he was not ordered to land at Laramie, where no stop was scheduled.

Mrs. Goering "Innocent"

Bodies Of 11 Top Nazis Are Reduced To Ashes

Educator Sees Era Of Leisure Ahead But Fears Boredom

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 17 (AP)—"If we are not all killed in the next few years, we will all be bored to death," Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, chancellor of the University of Chicago, said today.

He told a conference marking the Princeton University bicentennial that "an era of leisure and plenty" lies just ahead for the American people.

"Our whole economy, which has rested upon a philosophy of work and scarcity, will disintegrate," he said. "In its place, we will have an era of leisure and plenty."

He added:

"The horrors of peace in the atom age are almost as bad as the horrors of war."

Ashes "Secretly Dispersed"; Guard Foiled Goering In Suicide Try Three Months Ago

NUERNBERG, Oct. 17. (AP)—The bodies of the suicide Hermann Goering and 10 hanged Nazi war leaders have been reduced to ashes —like the thousands of their victims who perished in concentration camps—and "secretly dispersed," the Allied Control Council announced today.

The official announcement of the cremation did not say whether the ashes had been scattered over land or sea.

Meanwhile, it was learned from a security officer that Goering, who cheated the hangman's noose by taking poison shortly before he was to have gone to the gallows had planned to commit suicide three months ago with a piece of celluloid. An alert guard foiled him.

The officer gave this account of the incident which occurred while the Nazi leaders were on trial before the International Military Tribunal:

The ear phones which Goering used during the trial seemed to be faulty and he was unable to hear some of the proceedings. Becoming suspicious, a guard examined the ear phones and discovered that they had been tampered with and the inner working extracted.

New Speculation Opened

This working contained a piece of celluloid which the officer said was sharp enough to slit a vein or an artery. The ear phones were used during the trial to provide translations of the proceedings.

The officer's account conflicted with one theory that Goering had the poison vial a long time before he took his own life. It also opened new speculation as to how soon before his impending hanging he managed to obtain the poison and from whom.

There were these other developments in the backwash created by Goering's suicide and the executions of the 10 other Nazis:

1. It was disclosed that Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel also may have planned to foil the hangman by suicide, but was balked by his own inept handling of his wallet.

2. A special board of three United States Army officers pursued all possible angles and 12 German prison employes were kept under close scrutiny in an attempt to unravel the mystery of how Goering obtained the vial of potassium cyanide that killed him. If the board found any clues it was not making them public.

3. Former Nazis among the Germans were jubilant and anti-Nazis shocked at Goering's act.

Cremation Communique

Col. B. C. Andrus, commandant of the Nuernberg prison, speaking in the name of the Allied Control Council, released this brief communique on the cremation:

"The body of Hermann Wilhelm Goering, together with

Berger Is Named No. 1 Red In U. S.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)—Louis F. Budenz, Fordham University economics instructor who a year ago renounced Communism to embrace the Catholic faith, today named a man he said was known as Hans Berger as No. 1 Communist agent in the United States.

Budenz, who said he expected to testify concerning Berger before the House Committee on Unamerican Activities probably late next month, described Berger as director of all Communist activity in this country but a man virtually unknown among the party's rank and file.

Budenz said Berger formerly was a member of the staff of the Daily Worker, the party's newspaper published in New York, but declined to give other details concerning him.

Agreement Reached

CHICAGO, Oct. 17. (AP)—James C. Petrillo announced late today that an agreement for a 37½ per cent wage increase for musicians who make recordings had been reached at negotiations with members of the industry.

Adm. Waesche, Wartime Leader Of U. S. Coast Guard, Dies At 60

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP) — Adm. Russell Randolph Waesche, wartime commandant of the Coast Guard, died this afternoon at the Naval Medical Center of a coronary heart disease. He was 60.

Commandant of the Coast Guard from 1936 to his retirement on December 31, 1945, Adm. Waesche was named by President Truman as one of his "elder statesmen" to consult with him on national defense.

But ill health had prevented the Admiral from serving in that capacity.

Born in Thurmont, Md., he was commissioned an ensign in the Coast Guard in 1906. He rose through the ranks to become the Coast Guard's first full admiral.

Adm. Waesche received the Distinguished Service Medal in September, 1945, for his wartime service when the Coast Guard grew from a peacetime force of about 15,000 to more than 170,000 officers and men. He was cited for "exceptionally meritorious service."

Lower-Grade Cattle, Hog Prices Drop

Collapse From $1 To $10 Per 100 Pounds; Most Commodities Deflated

CHICAGO, Oct. 17 (AP) — Meat exploded onto the nation's livestock markets today in the largest numbers in 10 months. When the storm was over virtually all price ballons except those on top grade cattle had collapsed from $1 to $10 a hundred pounds.

Most commodities likewise were deflated, including butter, eggs, poultry, wheat, corn, oats, and cotton. Lard, soybeans, and flax kept out of the storm area, however, and moved to new high ground.

Markets Are Swamped

Some markets, such as Oklahoma City, were swamped with so many animals the yards couldn't handle them. Others of major importance were on the receiving end of miles-long lines of trucks filled with beef roats, pork chops, and lamb steaks on the hoof.

Prices which had set new records only yesterday receded steadily almost with every new truckload, particularly on hogs and lower grade cattle.

Strictly choice cattle went to a new high mark at Chicago, however, odd head going for $37.50 and load lots peaking at $36. The Omaha market set a new record for the third day in a row, hitting $33 or $2 better than yesterday.

Rail Cars At Premium

The popular price at Chicago was $20 after an early top had been set at $23 and compared with yesterday's record-equalling mark of $27.50. Sheep also were off $1 to $1.50, topping at $26.50 in comparison with yesterday's new record of $28.

Other markets showed similar reactions as buyers found difficulty in getting the rail cars to move their purchases to eastern areas.

Some grades of hogs at the St. Louis, Mo., market were off from $8 to $10. At St. Paul, Minn., average prices were $6.50 down, and at Sioux City, Ia., as much as $4.25 less.

Clark Blames GOP Members For War

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 17 (AP)—United States Attorney General Thomas C. Clark in a bitter attack on Republican senators and representatives, charged members of that party tonight with responsibility for World War II and with trying to tie the hands of the United States representative on the Security Council.

Speaking before an overflow audience at a Democratic rally here, Clark said that "the combination of Martin, Barton and Fish (former members of the House of Representative) was responsible for World War II because they kept us from fortifying the Pacific and scuttled plans for two airplane carriers."

He added that "Taft, Millikin and Wheery (Republican senators Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado and Kenneth S. Wheery of Nebraska) have tried to tie the hands of the United States representatives on the Security Council."

He also recalled that Taft had tried to kill the full employment bill as "born of Communism and the CIO'."

Truman Would Bring More Nazis To Justice

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—President Truman declared today that the task of meting out justice to Nazi "malefactors" is not finished —that guilty industrialists, diplomats, police officials and others remain to be punished.

He did not say specifically how they should be brought to book, but declared he would give "careful consideration" to Supreme Court Justice Jackson's suggestion that the four occupying powers individually hold the trials.

The President gave his views in a a letter accepting the resignation of Jackson as United States prosecutor at the International Military Tribunal which sentenced leading Nazis.

Production Of Autos Dropped In September

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—The Civilian Production Administration announced today that automotive production declined during September, halting the industry's previous climb toward prewar levels.

The agency attributed the decline to general shortages in sheet steel, pig iron, copper and lead.

The sharpest drop was in truck production which fell to 92,044 trucks from 105,506 produced in August.

Most Controls Will Be Lifted By November 1

President's Program To Be Carried Out Without "Riot Or Chaos"

CEILINGS ARE SLATED TO REMAIN ON RENTS

Lids Will Be Kept On Autos, Building Materials; Coffee "Freed"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP) —A top level official said tonight that OPA has set a November 1 deadline for doing away with most of the remaining price controls on foods, commodities and services.

This disclosure came as OPA released all price controls on coffee and millers argued for lifting ceilings from flour.

The government official, who withheld the use of his name, told a reporter that plans are laid for "an orderly retreat."

"We are going to carry out the President's (decontrol) program to the fullest possible degree," he said, "but it is not going to be a riot or chaos."

"We must keep ceilings on rent. We also must keep them on automobiles, building materials and certain durable goods."

Scheduled to stay under ceilings are many household appliances such as refrigerators, certain basic clothing items, furniture and farm implements.

Coffee Controls Removed

Removal of OPA controls on coffee today was cited as an example of other actions to follow.

Coffee prices had been raised so high under ceilings that it was a fiction to retain controls when supply came into balance with demand, the official said.

He related that OPA divisions now are busy compiling a complete list of all controlled products, both food and non-food, and listing those on which the public spends less than $75,000,000 a year.

These items will be decontrolled, the official added, as unimportant to living or business costs.

Congress had directed that all such items be freed from ceilings before January 1 next but the OPA schedule now calls for action two months early.

Other items and services with an annual outlay or volume above $75,000,000 are to be freed from ceilings as soon as it is determined that such action will not upset stabilization efforts against wild inflation.

Anti-Control Drive Expected

Administration leaders are reported agreed that, before Congress reassembles in January, the entire OPA staff and its functions must be whittled to the minimum. This is necessary, the official said, if any controls are to survive. Officials said they expect a drive upon the part of congressional critics, aimed at killing off all of them, including rent controls and the complex veterans' housing program.

On the rent front, Ivan D. Carson, OPA administrator for rents, told a reporter there will be no nationwide increase in rent ceilings.

Carson said that OPA is granting individual rent increases at the rate of 20,000 monthly. He said a survey of the 575 rental control areas showed that most landlords are enjoying better profits than they did in prewar years.

As to housing, Expediter Wilson Wyatt emerged from a White House conference today with word that ceilings would "definitely remain on all building materials and upon sales and rentals under the veterans' housing program."

Hospital Campaign

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 17. (AP)—Sponsors of a proposed new King's Daughters Hospital to be erected on the public square adjacent to the present structure announced today a campaign for a minimum public subscription of $450,000 would be started November 1.

Foe Of Government Questionnaires Admits He's Fighting Losing Battle

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—The fellow who tries to whack down on government questionnaires admitted today he's fighting a losing battle.

"Every time we get a questionnaire or a report straightened out," said Russell Schneider, "eight fuzzy ones spring up somewhere else."

Schneider is executive secretary of the Advisory Committee on Government Questionnaires, the baffled businessman's little helper.

Seven national organizations — such as the United States Chamber of Commerce and the National Industrial Council — pay for the committee.

But it differs from the usual business group, Schneider said, in this way:

Many business outfits don't like what's going on here in Washington, and yearn to change policy. The committee takes the policy as it is, and tries to find out how to make the best of it.

The committee works closely with the Budget Bureau, which has the power to decide how much any government agency can heckle a businessman.

Here's an example of how the committee works:

During the war the OPA sent out a questionnaire which asked:

Do you want your prices increased? If so, fill out this form, showing the cost of each part in the article you produce.

"Our machine tool boys hit the ceiling," Schneider told a reporter. "You see, some machine tools have 20,000 parts."

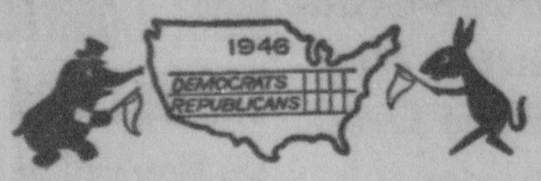

Schneider consulted a machine tool expert. After the expert cooled down to 160 degrees Fahrenheit, he worked up a substitute, with only five questions.

Vote Of 34,000,000 Is Forecast In November By Gallup Survey

If Relationship Between New York Registrations And November National Turn-Out Holds, Vote Will Be Low

THE GALLUP POLL

POLITICAL SCOREBOARD

Following is a summary of recent Gallup Poll findings on the political situation.

1. Congressional Party Strength: If the Congressional elections were held now, the Republicans would win 57 per cent of the total vote cast, the Democrats 43 per cent.

2. Presidential Party Strength: If a presidential election were being held today, Republican Party strength would be 53 per cent of the total vote cast, Democratic Party strength 47 per cent.

3. President Truman's Popularity: The number of voters who approve the way the President is handling his job dropped to 32 per cent in late September at the height of the meat crisis.

4. The Independent Vote: If a Congressional election were held today, the Independent vote would divide 59 per cent in favor of the Republicans, 41 per cent in favor of the Democrats.

5. In the New York State gubernatorial race Gov. Dewey polls 62 per cent among voters who have made up their minds, while Senator Mead polls 38 per cent. The no opinion vote is 17 per cent.

6. In Ohio, if the election for U. S. Senator were being held today, John W. Bricker would win 56 per cent of the total vote cast, his rival Huffman, 28 per cent. The no opinion vote is 16 per cent.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 17—Although the New York City voting registration figures are the highest in history for any gubernatorial year, the Democrats can take little comfort from what this indicates as to the probable turn-out for the nation in November.

Experience has shown a moving relationship between how many people register to vote in New York City and how many voters turn out to vote throughout the entire country in the November elections. The relationship shows the New York City registration becoming constantly greater in relation to the total vote of the nation.

In 1934, 1,977,360 voters registered in New York City. The turn-out for the nation in November of that year was 32,487,865. The national vote was thus 16.4 times greater than New York City registrations.

In 1938, the turn-out throughout the nation was only 14.9 times greater than the New York City registrations. In 1942, the national vote was only 13.1 times greater than the New York City registrations.

Statisticians, taking into account a number of factors operating on the relationship of New York City registrations to total vote, estimate that the total vote will his year be about 12.5 times larger than the New York City registrations.

If the relationship as it has consistently obtained in the past holds good this year, it would indicate a total voter turn-out in November of 34,000,000.

This would mean a total turn-out this year running about 14,000,000 below the number who voted in the presidential year of 1944.

It would be about 9,000,000 below what Institute statisticians estimate could be considered a normal turn-out for this year, taking into account population growth, the increase in eligible voters, etc. The normal turn-out, statisticians say, would be approximately 43,000,000 if turn-out trends in effect before the war continue.

A 34,000,000 turn-out would be no higher than the 1938 vote, when there were about 10,000,000 fewer eligible voters than there are today. In 1938, the national vote for Congress was about 36,000,000.

Proud Privilege Awaits Every Cumberland Citizen

The people of Cumberland still have, during the next week, an opportunity to contribute to the Community Chest. Volunteer workers are circulating among their neighbors, seeking donations for one of the most worthy social causes in history. It is the duty of Cumberlanders to respond liberally; for more than that, it is their proud privilege to do so.

Those who contribute will, of course, be extending a helping hand to their fellow citizens who most desperately need it. They may be saving the life of the little fellow around the corner, who must have hospital care which his parents cannot afford; they may be providing the miracle of hope for the youngster on the next street, to whom life has been meaningless since an automobile accident orphaned him; they may be bringing a little sunshine into the invalid existence of the man who gave his legs for them on a Pacific battlefield.

Yes, the Community Chest donor will be aiding flesh-and-blood residents of his own city. If his contributions did no more than that, it could not in all conscience be denied. But this year—this coming week—it will do more. This year as never before, it will aid the entire nation through a trying period for which the individual victims certainly cannot be held individually responsible.

As has been said so many times before, wartime suffering did not end with the war itself. To us who are more fortunate, the war may be over. But it is not over for the disabled servicemen still undergoing painful treatment in Army and Navy hospitals here and abroad. It is not over for the destitute families of the slain now dependent upon community support. It is not over for the war-dislocated people caught in the squeeze of industrial reconversion and its inflationary companion.

The war is not over, either, for the men who are now in service, torn from their families and their personal plans to serve their country in the farthest corners of the earth. Nor is suffering a thing of the past for the luckless men, women, and children who fall prey to injury or disease every day in this land of ours and who cannot themselves finance their medical care.

All these unfortunates are benefited by the health and welfare agencies to which Community Chest funds are distributed. Benefited too are the underprivileged children, who, left to their own devices, so often are driven to careers of crime which destroy both them and their innocent victims.

Here, truly, is a case where giving doesn't hurt—but where not giving does hurt. So, when the Community Chest volunteer in your neighborhood stops in to see you, remember the 1946 slogan, "Everybody Benefits. Everybody Gives," remember that of the unfortunates dependent upon your aid you may truthfully say, "There, but for the grace of God, go I"—then let your heart be your guide.

A proud man, indeed, he who wears the Red Feather of the Community Chest contributor in this year 1946.

Production The Key

Marriner S. Eccles is an experienced banker and businessman, chairman of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System and member of the Board of Economic Stabilization. As such he is entitled to speak his mind on the current economic situation. What he says is interesting chiefly because of the source from which it emanates. Everything he says has been said more ably by others.

Despite the fact that he feels inflationary factors continue to outweigh deflationary factors, Mr. Eccles is not discouraged by present prospects—under certain conditions.

He predicts the United States will enjoy several years of prosperity provided that wages and prices are held in line, further "work stoppages" are prevented, and consumer goods are not withheld from the market.

Few would deny that production is the key to prosperity. Wages are high today, but so, unfortunately, are prices. The remedy lies, not in further wage increases which inevitably mean correspondingly higher prices, but in a degree of production which cannot help but bring about lower prices.

What the consumers of this country want is a buyers' market, and that is not possible when consumer goods are in such short supply as they are at present.

It is to be hoped that Mr. Eccles' cautiously expressed views on the subject make the proper impression in the proper places.

Where's The Meat?

It should surprise no one that the meat cases are nearly as devoid of steaks and pork chops as they were a week ago. Many weeks will be required to stock retailers by a meat industry which was laid completely low and was emitting only faint gasps when the bureaucrats, fearful of the political storm they saw approaching, removed their paws from its neck. Meat offers proof of what advocates of the traditional American economy have contended all along—that the longer wartime controls are continued, the more devastating will be their effects. Men in the meat business, who know what they are talking about, say a year will be required for the industry to return to normal efficient operation. Had meat controls remained for another month, two years would have been required, they say.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

INTESTINAL OBSTRUCTION

WHEN the intestinal tract becomes obstructed, an emergency exists and an operation may be required. This is the usual sequence of events for if the situation is not given prompt attention, the results are serious.

The condition is suspected whenever colicky pain persists in the abdominal region. This indicates that the bowel is trying to overcome a stoppage by forceful contractions. The spasms are likely to come and go and while they are in progress, discomfort is noted. Fortunately, between these waves a quiet period exists and relief is the rule.

The distress is not localized as in appendicitis or a gall bladder attack but is scattered throughout the abdominal area so that the victim is unable to tell where it hurts most. Early, the soreness may be so mild that the individual believes it is insignificant. Hence many resort to home remedies which do more harm than good. They may ward off the difficulty temporarily but actually serve only to delay the ultimate outcome.

The contents of the bowel begin to accumulate when they are no longer able to pass the barrier. Consequently vomiting appears and as the trouble grows worse the persistent throwing up becomes more severe and leads to dehydration. The stagnant liquid contains not only the undigested food and stomach juices but fermentation increases and a poisonous substance forms which is absorbed, causing toxemia. As a rule, constipation is marked. Sometimes the movements of the bowels are so active in attempting to overcome the blockage that the swishing and gurgling can be heard and the churning is discernible thru the abdominal wall. As time goes on, the abdomen becomes distended with gas and, should peritonitis set in, tenderness develops.

These symptoms will vary in each case, depending on where the blockage is located. When it is high—that is, closer to the stomach, they come on quickly and are more serious. On the other hand, if the obstacle is in the large intestine, several hours may elapse before the manifestations are noted.

There are many ways in which obstruction is produced. Some children are born with a marked narrowing of the outlet of the stomach (pyloric stenosis) which prevents the passage of food. Adhesions following certain operations may cause the mishap to arise. Sometimes they are troublemakers soon after surgery but, now and then, many years pass before one is aware of the disorder. The bands begin to contract which leads to kinking or twisting of the intestinal coils. Occasionally a hernia, or rupture may be responsible. Under these circumstances, the bowel becomes caught in the defect and strangulation takes place.

One of the most peculiar causes is known as "intussusception" in which the bowel actually telescopes into itself. An inflammatory lesion or a tumor within the passageway may also dam back the contents. The same effect may be created by a gallstone should it dislodge from the gall blader and migrate into the intestine. Even fecal material may accumulate and harden so that an impaction ensues.

The surgeon has devised many plans to cope with the situation. In addition, the patient is prepared beforehand by forceful feedings thru the veins. The stagnant material is withdrawn which helps to allay vomiting. The ordeal has lost much of its sting and more and more victims pull thru without difficulty.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

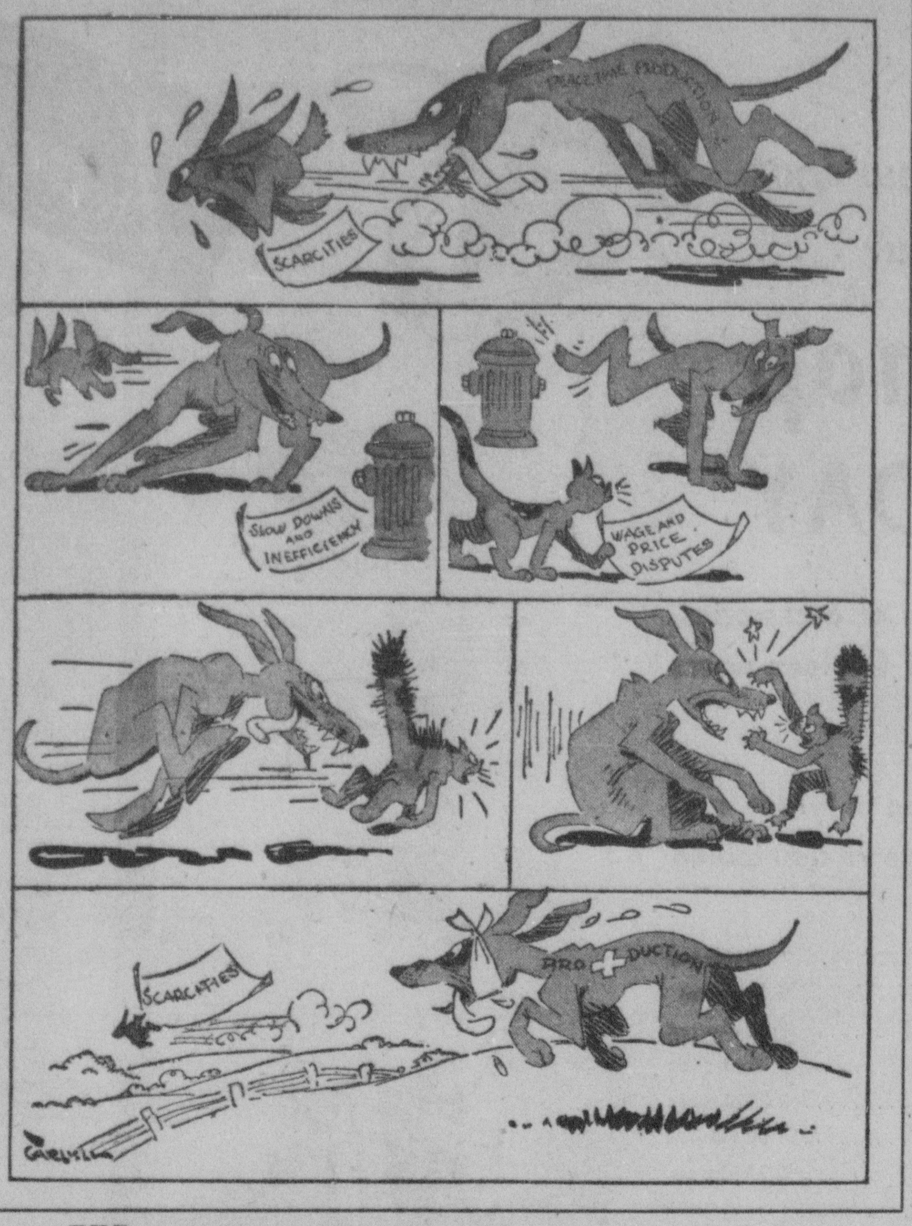

Always something unusual. Now it's a fourteen-year-old boy who was raised with a herd of gazelles. You know, a gazelle is a large, gracious animal with beautiful flowing curves...A sort of cross between an antelope and Betty Grable.

The boy is reported able to run fifty miles an hour...and this feat is attributed to the fact that he was fed on a certain herb that grows somewhere in Africa. There must be something to this, because Crosby has been feeding his horses on it for three weeks now and already they're standing up. And I don't know if the wolves in Hollywood are going for the stuff or not, but the other day I passed a sporting goods store and Lana Turner was in...e buying a pair of tennis shoes.

I don't know that the herb will do all they say it will, but who wants to make a trip all the way to Africa ...to get an herb that will make them run fast enough to catch the girls?...Well, folks, that's all for now...I have to finish my packing.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

United States May Follow French Inflation; Greedy Congress Disillusioned American Public; Country Needs To Work At Being Good Neighbor

By DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note—Drew Pearson column today takes the form of a letter to his brother in Paris.)

Washington
Oct. 17, 1946

Leon Pearson,
International News Service,
Paris, France.

Dear Kid,

Well, we are in for some interesting times in this country. A meat-mad America has been threatening to tear Harry Truman limb-from-limb politically unless its appetite for red meat was met, and poor Harry has finally surrendered. I felt sorry for him. But I feel sorrier over what may be ahead for all of us. We may be ready to follow the French road to inflation.

Something has been happening in this country—something that doesn't jibe with our usual good sense and patriotism. Several weeks ago this normally sane nation suddenly went mad over meat, and it has stayed mad ever since. I have been trying to figure out the reason.

Actually we ate more meat during the war than before; 140 pounds per person per year, which was 12 pounds more than we ate annually before the war started. And as I look back on it, we never used to be a nation of such passionate meat-eaters.

Remember when we were kids? We never had meat more than three or four times a week. Mother said it was too expensive and that vegetables were just as good, anyway. Remember what a big event it was when, once a week, we had round-steak ground?

"Chicken In Every Pot"

At that time chicken was an even greater delicacy. We always had it on Sundays, and I guess most every family did, for when Herbert Hoover wanted to promise the American people the super-duper of food, he told 'em they'd get "a chicken in every pot" if they elected him President. It got him elected all right, but now that Harry Truman has given us a chicken in every pot, and sometimes turkey to boot, we're not satisfied. Now it's to hell with chicken and Truman. We've got to have a beefsteak in every refrigerator.

Sitting over there in Paris you will hardly believe some of these things. And if you come back on a quick trip you would hardly recognize some of your fellow Americans. They simply went berserk over meat.

I took a quick trip through the Middle West last week, and that was all they were talking about—meat. Our dangerous problems with Russia, the hopes of the Peace Conference, the relative merits of political candidates all were forgotten in the rage over meat.

Of course, part of this was purposely whipped up by the Republicans—a strategy they'll live to regret. Republican candidates drove loudspeakers up to lines outside butcher shops and made the most of it. It got so bad that fine, able Congressmen like Mike Monroney of Oklahoma were in danger of defeat.

But in addition to the politics involved, I am afraid that patriotism and unselfishness and the things that have made this country great, have slid into a terrific backwash.

It began, as it usually begins, near the top. And it filtered down, as it always does, to the people below. When folks see their leaders in Congress put a hand out, they wonder why they shouldn't put a hand out, too. And the last session of Congress saw the greatest greed-grab I have ever witnessed since the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act was written under Hoover. That act helped to wreck Hoover. And the same selfish prejudices, the same sectional interests, the same public-be-damned attitude of the last Congress have already wrecked Truman—whether he was to blame or not.

Everybody was looking out for himself and the devil take the hindmost—especially when it came to killing price control.

Congressional Greed-Bag

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, Rep., an automobile dealer, introduced an OPA amendment lifting the profit for automobile dealers. Senator Butler, Rep., of Nebraska, a big cattleman, worked for decontrolling meat. Senator Murdock, Dem., of Utah, land of the beet sugar, tacked on an amendment favoring the beet-sugar growers. Senator Hoey, Dem., of North Carolina, which grows tobacco, took the price ceiling off tobacco.

Senator Radcliffe, Dem., of Maryland, where they go in for poultry, introduced an amendment boosting the poultry industry. Senator Ed Moore, Rep., the big oil man from Oklahoma, made sure that price ceilings were taken off oil.

Congressman Ed Gossett, Dem., of Texas, inserted a decontrol amendment for the National Association of Manufacturers; Congressman Jesse Walcott, Rep., of Michigan, sometimes called the "General Motors Spokesman" in Congress, introduced the cost-plus-profit amendment; Congressman Fred Hartley, Rep., of New Jersey, did everything possible to help the National Retail Dry Goods Association, while millionaire Senator Taft of Ohio inserted the assured-profit amendement by which business was guaranteed the same lush, bonanza profits of the early war years.

Meanwhile Congressman Gillespie of Colorado, Rep., who shamelessly battled OPA, did not seem to think it wrong that his company, Bluehill Foods, violated OPA price ceilings to the tune of $15,000; while Senators Thomas of Oklahoma and Bankhead of Alabama had the gall to make speeches against OPA curbs on cotton speculation while they themselves were personally speculating in cotton.

Patriotism Goes Into Doldrums

That is how our great lawmakers were cavorting with the public trust in the summer of 1946, one year after fifteen million men had ended their fight for a principle which they though sacred and a country which they thought was governed by unselfish Congressmen.

However, Congress usually reflects the sentiment of pressure groups back home, and we can't blame Congressmen for everything. In fact, if the American people have gone meat-mad and money-crazy, it's probably nobody's fault but our own.

We have developed a great machine age. We have turned out rockets, atomic bombs, and world-girdling airplanes. There isn't anything we haven't specialized on—except the scheme of science of living with our fellow men. We preach the good-neighbor policy with Latin America, and we send movie stars to foreign countries to tell them how great we are. But if we don't practice good neighborliness at home, I sometimes wonder how we can expect to preach it abroad.

Having cared for our bodily comforts with well-stocked refrigerators and air-cooling, and having developed the deadliest weapons in the world, it looks to me as if we would have to begin working at the science of being our brothers' keeper. If we don't, there may not be much of a civilization left for us to live in.

Please excuse this, kill-joy letter. I hope this prediction will be 82 per cent wrong.

Your—at the moment very pessimistic—Brother

DREW.

P. S.—I am planning to run for Congress on the platform of a side of beef in every deep-freeze and two deep-freezes in every garage.

Figures Disprove New Dealers And Commies On Meat

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

Looking for a goat to explain the absence of meat, the New Dealers and Communists have published some horrible sounding figures, showing that millions of pounds of meat are in the cold rooms of the packers, Congressman Marcantonio, who generally follows the Moscow line, wants the meat industry nationalized so that a good wise government can grab the meat from the profiteers, and put it on the kitchen table.

All this makes good campaign oratory, but unfortunately, the official reports of the Department of Agriculture show conclusively that it is nothing but oratory.

Supply Would Last Three Days

The fact is that if all the meat in "storage" could be moved into the markets and kitchens, it would last the country about three days. It is at a record low level, even if it does total some millions of pounds.

Some of the little meat there is in packing house refrigerators does not belong to the packers at all. It belongs to government agencies, hotels, restaurants, railroads, and shipping companies. A lot more is useful only for making sausage, canned meat, etc. A lot more is in the process of being cured.

The slaughter of meat subject to federal inspection (not black market meat), in the month of September, was the lowest on record.

Mr. Truman says "meat is one thing I know what I'm talking about." A few days later we read that the army has asked England for meat to feed our soldiers in Europe. As the army has the priority right to buy American meat (if it is available) why does it have to ask Britain for meat? The orators ought to tell the army where the meat is!

Well, the Minnesota Supreme Court (following a U. S. Supreme Court decision) has held that a labor union can picket a one-man grocery store or meat market—a place where nobody is employed—to force the owner of the store to join the union!

A Chicago judge has just ruled that a man has no right to try to go through a picket line to work. In this case the picketeers were arrested for beating up the man who wanted to work. The judge released the picketeers and put the blame on the man who wanted to work on the ground that he had provoked the disorderly conduct of the picketeers!

In another case, a company sued a labor union for damages because the union had called a strike in violation of the "30-day cooling-off period" of the Smith-Connally Act. The federal judge held that it is unconstitutional to ask anybody to cool off. He decided that the company had no remedy for the damage.

It is quite within the law for the maritime strikers to blockade interstate and foreign commerce by striking every ship in every American port, by blockading more commerce than Hitler's U-boats.

However, we declared war on Hitler and his Black Shirt racketeers who beat up the people there—but they did not have votes in this country.

Political Outcome Of Truman's Meat Decontrol Being Surveyed

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. — The political consequences of President Truman's decision to decontrol meat are being variously surveyed today. Democrats seem to lean to the idea that the action came in time to ward off defeat in the congressional elections. Certainly if the decontrol order had not been issued, the Republicans would have had more of an issue than they have now.

The Republicans, on the other hand, insist that the entire economic situation is causing widespread protest and that this will be reflected at the polls. They believe that the protest feeling is already deeply ingrained in the electorate and that the decontrol action comes too late to bring stability of the meat supply.

The Democrats expect to benefit politically by the obvious rise in prices. For it is reasoned that, by forcing the removal of controls, the President has demonstrated that inflationary forces are at work to raise the cost of living.

Controls Can Be Reimposed

It seems to have been overlooked that the President can reimpose controls under his broad powers and that theoretically nothing final has been attained by recent decisions. After election, controls can be reimposed as a means of stopping the rise of living costs. But the predictions from informed quarters are that prices will drop after a few weeks and that the ultimate price level will not be far beyond what it was under ceilings. If meat becomes adequate at reasonable prices, it seems unlikely that there will be a demand for the replacement of controls.

It is, therefore, the immediate future—the time between now and November 5th—which has to be appraised from a political viewpoint. Prices will remain high until election day at least and it seems improbable that much meat will find its way to the nation's dinner table for some time to come. If the voters are unhappy about this turn of events and if they continue to blame the Democratic administration, it would appear that the protest vote would be considerable.

The Democratic managers are issuing statements of confidence that they will retain a majority in both houses. Usually statements before election are made for psychological effect not only on voters but on party workers. The Democrats, it must be noted, are basing their confidence on something more than wishful thinking. In the last several elections the Democrats have had the benefit of the organization work of the regular organizations of any political party. The CIO-PAC gets out the vote and the heavy registration figures in many states just announced are being viewed by Democratic managers as a sign that the vote has been gotten out through the labor union organizations.

The labor strength, however, is concentrated in the cities. It can influence the outcome of gubernatorial or senatorial races because big majorities in the cities can cut down and overcome Republican majorities in rural districts and small towns. In the voting, on the other hand, for members of the House of Representatives this cannot be a factor. Each congressional district is a unit and there can be no help to gain control of the House if twice as big a majorty is rolled up in city districts than heretofore. The CIO-PAC doesn't have the organization to do the work in small towns and rural districts.

The chances are that, based on what has appeared to date, the Republicans will secure control of the House of Representatives but not by a big margin whereas control of the Senate by the Republicans would appear to be much less likely.

May Be Era Of Vetos

If the Democrats succeed in keeping control of the Senate by a small majority, they will control the selection of committee chairmanships but the Upper House will be controlled in fact by a coalition of southern Democrats and Republicans. The veto power in the next two years will then come into more use than ever before and this in turn will have an effect on President Truman's political record on current issues, assuming that he is a candidate for renomination, which is by no means settled.

If the Democrats maintain control of both Houses by comfortable majorities, it would be a vote of confidence in Mr. Truman's administration and his renomination would seem to be assured.

Book knowledge is very well, but that which stimulates and inspires most is that which we learn ourselves from totally strange things. In nature we are forever questioning, wondering, and speculating. We enter God's classroom every day of our lives. Our very entity is the strangest thing that we have to face.

I read in my newspaper today about "civilized warfare." Warfare is killing. Can warfare be honestly said to be civilized? Certainly it cannot be said to be refined! Unless, of course, the idea is to fool ourselves.

Never is the sight of an orchid so full of wonder and beauty, as when seen as an intruder, growing wild from a tree, or waving its bridal wreath-like arm in the sunlight. It looked totally strange to me as I viewed these heavenly flowers hanging in wooded gardens in Hawaii. Why is it that so many of our most beautiful flowers and birds are a product of the mudy marsh and jungle? nyway why should we be cheated the sight of a water ousel, or a chiff-chaff, and compelled to roam afar, to gain the acquaintance of either?

You have to read "The Golden Bough," by Sir James George Frazer, to learn how superstition has controlled the lives of millions for age upon age. What a slow path to tread for human being created in the image of God, so it is said, to where there will be a just government over all, controlled by love and impartiality toward all, from the humbest to the greatest!

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

Chairman B. Carroll Reece
Republican National Committee
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Reece:

Your worries are over. I've got the man who can win the 1948 Presidential election for the Grand Old Party. His name is Claude William Dukenfeld, and he was born in Philadelphia. The man in the street knows him as W. C. Fields.

Here are his qualifications for President:

Billy Rose

1. If I know the Great Montebank, he'll get more votes than there are voters.

2. During the campaign you won't have to pay for his radio time. Even the Democrats would be glad to sponsor a Republican speech by old Thunder-in-the-Mountains.

3. He'd get along fine with Stalin. Ten minutes with the greatest buffoon of our time and Uncle Joe would be inviting American correspondents to read his personal mail.

4. He has the great presidential qualification — he's good at double-talk. I can prove this with an old story. On the golf links Fields swung at a ball and missed. "Stand here," he said to the caddy. He swung again and missed. "Stand over there," he barked.

"But," said the caddy, "you told me to stand here."

"Don't do what I tell you to do," bellowed Fields. "Do what I tell you to do."

5. He's economical. After he has emptied the bottles, he juggles them.

6. Unlike some Presidents in my time, when he's funny at a press conference we'll all know it's intentional. If we're going to have a comedian in the White House—let's have a good one.

Down the field with Fields!

Billy

Hon. William O'Dwyer
City Hall
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Did you hear what that fellow up at Bellevue Hospital is saying? Dr. Foster Kennedy, the head neurologist, says we're drinking ourselves into headaches and convulsions. And it's not whiskey he's talking about — it's water, plain water. He says the American habit of guzling countless glasses of water each day causes edema of the brain, resulting in convulsions.

As Mayor, it's up to you to do something muy pronto. I know it would be too expensive to fill the Croton Reservoir with tomato juice. Because of the sugar shortage, it may not be practical to pipe hot-and-cold running cream soda into every kitchen.

Perhaps David Sarnoff, head of RCA, can help. He recently announced scientists will soon be able to control the weather. Maybe you two boys can fix it so it will rain seltzer.

Anyhow, I know now why I had the jimjams this morning. It was the water the bartender kept putting in my highballs last night.

A Loyal Citizen

Secretary John W. Snyder
Treasury Department
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Secretary:

Don't you think it would be a good idea to run this add in the Lost and Found column?

LOST—TWO BILLION DOLLARS. Somewhere between the White House and the Treasury Building. Finder please return to Secretary John W. Snyder. Liberal reward.

If we review how it happened maybe you'll remember where you dropped it. A couple of weeks ago the President announced the budget would be balanced this year. A few days later you said we'd wind up $2,000,000,000 in the red. Next day you both declared everything was hunky-dory — no difference between you.

I don't get it. You can't both be right. Either the budget is balanced or we're two billion in the hole. I know how busy you fellows are these days, and that in Washington they don't even ring the register for that kind of dough. But maybe you'll worry more about it when you realize that if you started counting it at a dollar a second you'd still be at it in 2200 A. D. — assuming the Democrats were still in office.

I wish you'd look in the bottom drawer of your desk, benind the pillows on the sofa, and in the pockets of your pants.

I'm kind of worried about that two billion — a little piece of it is mine.

Respectfully,

Billy.

Proud Privilege Awaits Every Cumberland Citizen

The people of Cumberland still have, during the next week, an opportunity to contribute to the Community Chest. Volunteer workers are circulating among their neighbors, seeking donations for one of the most worthy social causes in history. It is the duty of Cumberlanders to respond liberally; for more than that, it is their proud privilege to do so.

Those who contribute will, of course, be extending a helping hand to their fellow citizens who most desperately need it. They may be saving the life of the little fellow around the corner, who must have hospital care which his parents cannot afford; they may be providing the miracle of hope for the youngster on the next street, to whom life has been meaningless since an automobile accident orphaned him; they may be bringing a little sunshine into the invalid existence of the man who gave his legs for them on a Pacific battlefield.

Yes, the Community Chest donor will be aiding flesh-and-blood residents of his own city. If his contributions did no more than that, it could not in all conscience be denied. But this year—this coming week—it will do more. This year as never before, it will aid the entire nation through a trying period for which the individual victims certainly cannot be held individually responsible.

As has been said so many times before, wartime suffering did not end with the war itself. To us who are more fortunate, the war may be over. But it is not over for the disabled servicemen still undergoing painful treatment in Army and Navy hospitals here and abroad. It is not over for the destitute families of the slain now dependent upon community support. It is not over for the war-dislocated people caught in the squeeze of industrial reconversion and its inflationary companion.

The war is not over, either, for the men who are now in service, torn from their families and their personal plans to serve their country in the farthest corners of the earth. Nor is suffering a thing of the past for the luckless men, women, and children who fall prey to injury or disease every day in this land of ours and who cannot themselves finance their medical care.

All these unfortunates are benefited by the health and welfare agencies to which Community Chest funds are distributed. Benefited too are the underprivileged children, who, left to their own devices, so often are driven to careers of crime which destroy both them and their innocent victims.

Here, truly, is a case where giving doesn't hurt—but where not giving does hurt. So, when the Community Chest volunteer in your neighborhood stops in to see you, remember the 1946 slogan, "Everybody Benefits. Everybody Gives," remember that of the unfortunates dependent upon your aid you may truthfully say, "There, but for the grace of God, go I"—then let your heart be your guide.

A proud man, indeed, he who wears the Red Feather of the Community Chest contributor in this year 1946.

Production The Key

Marriner S. Eccles is an experienced banker and businessman, chairman of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System and member of the Board of Economic Stabilization. As such he is entitled to speak his mind on the current economic situation. What he says is interesting chiefly because of the source from which it emanates. Everything he says has been said more ably by others.

Despite the fact that he feels inflationary factors continue to outweigh deflationary factors, Mr. Eccles is not discouraged by present prospects—under certain conditions.

He predicts the United States will enjoy several years of prosperity provided that wages and prices are held in line, further "work stoppages" are prevented, and consumer goods are not withheld from the market.

Few would deny that production is the key to prosperity. Wages are high today, but so, unfortunately, are prices. The remedy lies, not in further wage increases which inevitably mean correspondingly higher prices, but in a degree of production which cannot help but bring about lower prices.

What the consumers of this country want is a buyers' market, and that is not possible when consumer goods are in such short supply as they are at present.

It is to be hoped that Mr. Eccles' cautiously expressed views on the subject make the proper impression in the proper places.

Where's The Meat?

It should surprise no one that the meat cases are nearly as devoid of steaks and pork chops as they were a week ago. Many weeks will be required to stock retailers by a meat industry which was laid completely low and was emitting only faint gasps when the bureaucrats, fearful of the political storm they saw approaching, removed their paws from its neck. Meat offers proof of what advocates of the traditional American economy have contended all along—that the longer wartime controls are continued, the more devastating will be their effects. Men in the meat business, who know what they are talking about, say a year will be required for the industry to return to normal, efficient operation. Had meat controls remained for another month, two years would have been required, they say.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

INTESTINAL OBSTRUCTION

WHEN the intestinal tract becomes obstructed, an emergency exists and an operation may be required. This is the usual sequence of events for if the situation is not given prompt attention, the results are serious.

The condition is suspected whenever colicky pain persists in the abdominal region. This indicates that the bowel is trying to overcome a stoppage by forceful contractions. The spasms are likely to come and go and while they are in progress, discomfort is noted. Fortunately, between these waves a quiet period exists and relief is the rule.

The distress is not localized as in appendicitis or a gall bladder attack but is scattered throughout the abdominal area so that the victim is unable to tell where it hurts most. Early, the soreness may be so mild that the individual believes it is insignificant. Hence many resort to home remedies which do more harm than good. They may ward off the difficulty temporarily but actually serve only to delay the ultimate outcome.

The contents of the bowel begin to accumulate when they are no longer able to pass the barrier. Consequently vomiting appears and as the trouble grows worse the persistent throwing up becomes more severe and leads to dehydration. The stagnant liquid contains not only the undigested food and stomach juices but fermentation increases and a poisonous substance forms which is absorbed, causing toxemia. As a rule, constipation is marked. Sometimes the movements of the bowels are so active in attempting to overcome the blockage that the swishing and gurgling can be heard and the churning is discernible thru the abdominal wall. As time goes on, the abdomen becomes distended with gas and, should peritonitis set in, tenderness develops.

These symptoms will vary in each case, depending on where the blockage is located. When it is high—that is, closer to the stomach, they come on quickly and are more serious. On the other hand, if the obstacle is in the large intestine, several hours may elapse before the manifestations are noted.

There are many ways in which obstruction is produced. Some children are born with a marked narrowing of the outlet of the stomach (pyloric stenosis) which prevents the passage of food. Adhesions following certain operations may cause the mishap to arise. Sometimes they are troublemakers soon after surgery but, now and then, many years pass before one is aware of the disorder. The bands begin to contract which leads to kinking or twisting of the intestinal coils. Occasionally a hernia, or rupture may be responsible. Under these circumstances, the bowel becomes caught in the defect and strangulation takes place.

One of the most peculiar causes is known as "intussusception" in which the bowel actually telescopes into itself. An inflammatory lesion or a tumor within the passageway may also dam back the contents. The same effect may be created by a gallstone should it dislodge from the gall blader and migrate into the intestine. Even fecal material may accumulate and harden so that an impaction ensues.

The surgeon has devised many plans to cope with the situation. In addition, the patient is prepared beforehand by forceful feedings thru the veins. The stagnant material is withdrawn which helps to allay vomiting. The ordeal has lost much of its sting and more and more victims pull thru without difficulty.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

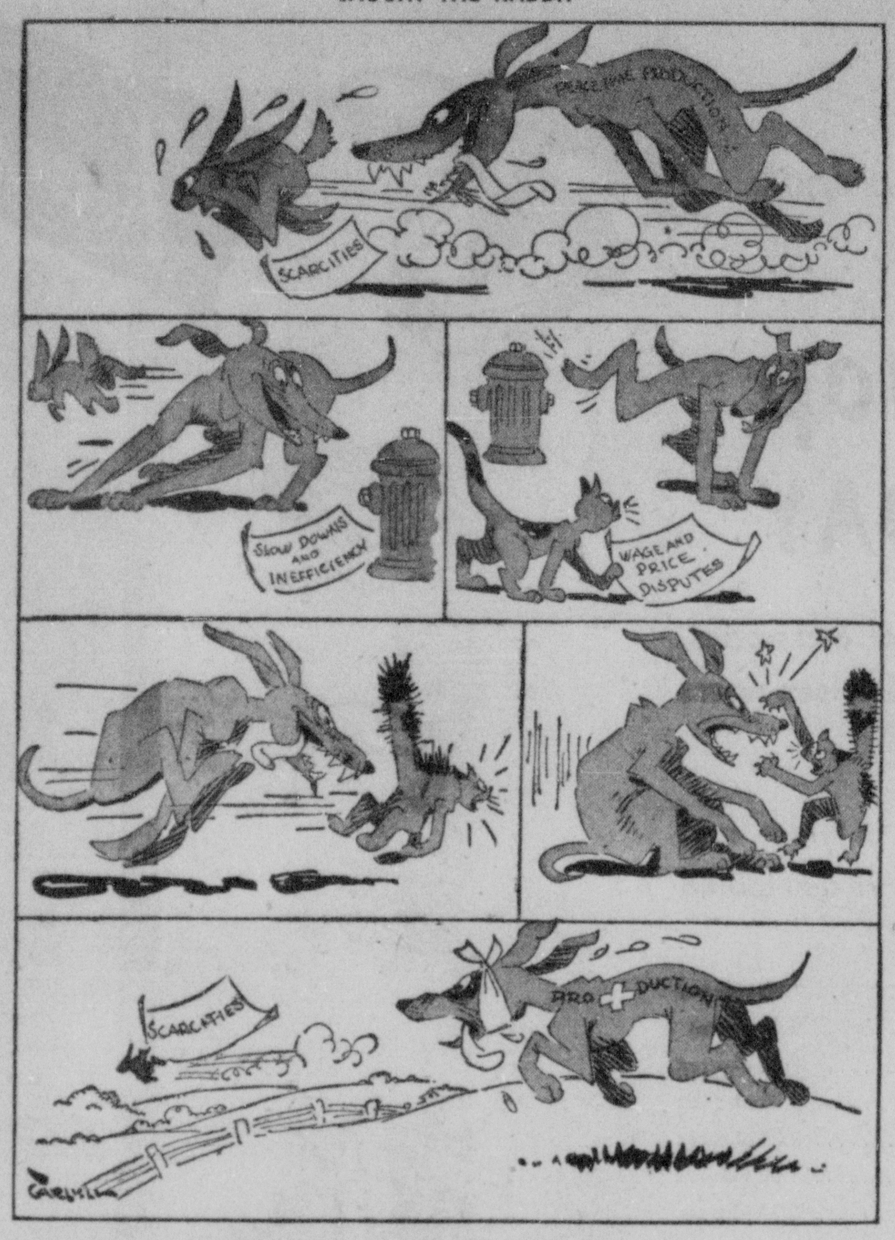

Always something unusual. Now it's a fourteen-year-old boy who was raised with a herd of gazelles. You know, a gazelle is a large, gracious animal with beautiful flowing curves...A sort of cross between an antelope and Betty Grable.

The boy is reported able to run fifty miles an hour...and this feat is attributed to the fact that he was fed on a certain herb that grows somewhere in Africa. There must be something to this, because Crosby has been feeding his horses on it for three weeks now and already they're standing up. And I don't know if the wolves in Hollywood are going for the stuff or not, but the other day I passed a sporting goods store and Lana Turner was in there buying a pair of tennis shoes.

I don't know that the herb will do all they say it will, but who wants to make a trip all the way to Africa ... to get an herb that will make them run fast enough to catch the girls?...Well, folks, that's all for now...I have to finish my packing.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

United States May Follow French Inflation; Greedy Congress Disillusioned American Public; Country Needs To Work At Being Good Neighbor

By DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note—Drew Pearson column today takes the form of a letter to his brother in Paris.)

Washington
Oct. 17, 1946

Leon Pearson,
International News Service,
Paris, France,

Dear Kid,

Well, we are in for some interesting times in this country. A meat-mad America has been threatening to tear Harry Truman limb-from-limb politically unless its appetite for red meat was met, and poor Harry has finally surrendered. I felt sorry for him. But I feel sorrier over what may be ahead for all of us. We may be ready to follow the French road to inflation.

Something has been happening in this country—something that doesn't jibe with our usual good sense and patriotism. Several weeks ago this normally sane nation suddenly went mad over meat, and it has stayed mad ever since. I have been trying to figure out the reason.

Actually we ate more meat during the war than before; 140 pounds per person per year, which was 12 pounds more than we ate annually before the war started. And as I look back on it, we never used to be a nation of such passionate meat-eaters.

Remember when we were kids? We never had meat more than three or four times a week. Mother said it was too expensive and that vegetables were just as good, anyway. Remember what a big event it was when, once a week, we had round-steak ground?

"Chicken In Every Pot"

At that time chicken was an even greater delicacy. We always had it on Sundays, and I guess most every family did, for when Herbert Hoover wanted to promise the American people the super-duper of food, he told 'em they'd get "a chicken in every pot" if they elected him President. It got him elected all right, but now that Harry Truman has given us a chicken in every pot, and sometimes turkey to boot, we're not satisfied. Now it's to hell with chicken and Truman. We've got to have a beefsteak in every refrigerator.

Sitting over there in Paris you will hardly believe some of these things. And if you come back on a quick trip you would hardly recognize some of your fellow Americans. They simply went berserk over meat.

I took a quick trip through the Middle West last week, and that was all they were talking about—meat. Our dangerous problems with Russia, the hopes of the Peace Conference, the relative merits of political candidates all were forgotten in the rage over meat.

Of course, part of this was purposely whipped up by the Republicans—a strategy they'll live to regret. Republican candidates drove loudspeakers up to lines outside butcher shops and made the most of it. It got so bad that fine, able Congressmen like Mike Monroney of Oklahoma were in danger of defeat.

But in addition to the politics involved, I am afraid that patriotism and unselfishness and the things that have made this country great, have slid into a terrific backwash.

It began, as it usually begins, near the top. And it filtered down, as it always does, to the people below. When folks see their leaders in Congress put a hand out, they wonder why they shouldn't put a hand out, too. And the last session of Congress saw the greatest greed-grab I have ever witnessed since the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act was written under Hoover. That act helped to wreck Hoover. And the same selfish prejudices, the same sectional interests, the same public-be-damned attitude of the last Congress have already wrecked Truman—whether he was to blame or not.

Everybody was looking out for himself and the devil take the hindmost—especially when it came to killing price control.

Congressional Greed-Bag

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, Rep., an automobile dealer, introduced an OPA amendment lifting the profit for automobile dealers. Senator Butler, Rep., of Nebraska, a big cattleman, worked for decontrolling meat. Senator Murdock, Dem., of Utah, land of the beet sugar, tacked on an amendment favoring the beet-sugar growers. Senator Hoey, Dem., of North Carolina, which grows tobacco, took the price ceiling off tobacco.

Senator Radcliffe, Dem., of Maryland, where they go in for poultry, introduced an amendment boosting the poultry industry. Senator Ed Moore, Rep., the big oil man from Oklahoma, made sure that price ceilings were taken off oil.

Congressman Ed Gossett, Dem., of Texas, inserted a decontrol amendment for the National Association of Manufacturers; Congressman Jesse Walcott, Rep., of Michigan, sometimes called the "General Motors Spokesman" in Congress, introduced the cost-plus-profit amendment; Congressman Fred Hartley, Rep., of New Jersey, did everything possible to help the National Retail Dry Goods Association, while millionaire Senator Taft of Ohio inserted the assured-profit amendement by which business was guaranteed the same lush, bonanza profits of the early war years.

Meanwhile Congressman Gillespie of Colorado, Rep., who shamelessly battled OPA, did not seem to think it wrong that his company, Bluehill Foods, violated OPA price ceilings to the tune of $15,000; while Senators Thomas of Oklahoma and Bankhead of Alabama had the gall to make speeches against OPA curbs on cotton speculation while they themselves were personally speculating in cotton.

Patriotism Goes Into Doldrums

That is how our great lawmakers were cavorting with the public trust in the summer of 1946, one year after fifteen million men had ended their fight for a principle which they though sacred and a country which they thought was governed by unselfish Congressmen.

However, Congress usually reflects the sentiment of pressure groups back home, and we can't blame Congressmen for everything. In fact, if the American people have gone meat-mad and money-crazy, it's probably nobody's fault but our own.

We have developed a great machine age. We have turned out rockets, atomic bombs, and world-girdling airplanes. There isn't anything we haven't specialized on—except the scheme of science of living with our fellow men. We preach the good-neighbor policy with Latin America, and we send movie stars to foreign countries to tell them how great we are. But if we don't practice good neighborliness at home, I sometimes wonder how we can expect to preach it abroad.

Having cared for our bodily comforts with well-stocked refrigerators and air-cooling, and having developed the deadliest weapons in the world, it looks to me as if we would have to begin working at the science of being our brothers' keeper. If we don't, there may not be much of a civilization left for us to live in.

Please excuse this kill-joy letter. I hope this prediction will be 82 per cent wrong.

Your—at the moment very pessimistic—Brother

DREW.

P. S.—I am planning to run for Congress on the platform of a side of beef in every deep-freeze and two deep-freezes in every garage.

Figures Disprove New Dealers And Commies On Meat

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

Looking for a goat to explain the absence of meat, the New Dealers and Communists have published some horrible sounding figures, showing that millions of pounds of meat are in the cold rooms of the packers. Congressman Marcantonio, who generally follows the Moscow line, wants the meat industry nationalized so that a good wise government can grab the meat from the profiteers, and put it on the kitchen table.

All this makes good campaign oratory, but unfortunately, the official reports of the Department of Agriculture show conclusively that it is nothing but oratory.

Supply Would Last Three Days

The fact is that if all the meat in "storage" could be moved into the markets and kitchens, it would last the country about three days. It is at a record low level, even if it does total some millions of pounds.

Some of the little meat there is in packing house refrigerators does not belong to the packers at all. It belongs to government agencies, hotels, restaurants, railroads, and shipping companies. A lot more is useful only for making sausage, canned meat, etc. A lot more is in the process of being cured.

The slaughter of meat subject to federal inspection (not black market meat), in the month of September, was the lowest on record.

Mr. Truman says "meat is one thing I know what I'm talking about." A few days later we read that the army has asked England for meat to feed our soldiers in Europe. As the army has the priority right to buy American meat (if it is available) why does it have to ask Britain for meat? The orators ought to tell the army where the meat is!

Well, the Minnesota Supreme Court (following a U. S. Supreme Court decision) has held that a labor union can picket a one-man grocery store or meat market—a place where nobody is employed—to force the owner of the store to join the union!

A Chicago judge has just ruled that a man has no right to try to go through a picket line to work. In this case the picketeers were arrested for beating up the man who wanted to work. The judge released the picketeers and put the blame on the man who wanted to work on the ground that he had provoked the disorderly conduct of the picketeers!

In another case, a company sued a labor union for damages because the union had called a strike in violation of the "30-day cooling-off period" of the Smith-Connally Act. The federal judge held that it is unconstitutional to ask anybody to cool off. He decided that the company had no remedy for the damage.

It is quite within the law for the maritime strikers to blockade interstate and foreign commerce by striking every ship in every American port, by blockading more commerce than Hitler's U-boats.

However, we declared war on Hitler and his Black Shirt racketeers who beat up the people there—but they did not have votes in this country.

Political Outcome Of Truman's Meat Decontrol Being Surveyed

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. — The political consequences of President Truman's decision to decontrol meat are being variously surveyed today. Democrats seem to lean to the idea that the action came in time to ward off defeat in the congressional elections. Certainly if the decontrol order had not been issued, the Republicans would have had more of an issue than they have now.

The Republicans, on the other hand, insist that the entire economic situation is causing widespread protest and that this will be reflected at the polls. They believe that the protest feeling is already deeply ingrained in the electorate and that the decontrol action comes too late to bring stability of the meat supply.

The Democrats expect to benefit politically by the obvious rise in prices. For it is reasoned that, by forcing the removal of controls, the President has demonstrated that inflationary forces are at work to raise the cost of living.

Controls Can Be Reimposed

It seems to have been overlooked that the President can reimpose controls under his broad powers and that theoretically nothing final has been attained by recent decisions. After election, controls can be reimposed as a means of stopping the rise of living costs. But the predictions from informed quarters are that prices will drop after a few weeks and that the ultimate price level will not be far beyond what it was under ceilings. If meat becomes adequate at reasonable prices, it seems unlikely that there will be a demand for the replacement of controls.

It is, therefore, the immediate future—the time between now and November 5th—which has to be appraised from a political viewpoint. Prices will remain high until election day at least and it seems improbable that much meat will find its way to the nation's dinner table for some time to come. If the voters are unhappy about this turn of events and if they continue to blame the Democratic administration, it would appear that the protest vote would be considerable.

The Democratic managers are issuing statements of confidence that they will retain a majority in both houses. Usually statements before election are made for psychological effect not only on voters but on party workers. The Democrats, it must be noted, are basing their confidence on something more than wishful thinking. In the last several elections the Democrats have had the benefit of the organization work of the regular organizations of any political party. The CIO-PAC gets out the vote and the heavy registration figures in many states just announced are being viewed by Democratic managers as a sign that the vote has been gotten out through the labor union organizations.

The labor strength, however, is concentrated in the cities. It can influence the outcome of gubernatorial or senatorial races because big majorities in the cities can cut down and overcome Republican majorities in rural districts and small towns. In the voting, on the other hand, for members of the House of Representatives this cannot be a factor. Each congressional district is a unit and there can be no help to gain control of the House if twice as big a majority is rolled up in city districts than heretofore. The CIO-PAC doesn't have the organization to do the work in small towns and rural districts.

The chances are that, based on what has appeared to date, the Republicans will secure control of the House of Representatives but not by a big margin whereas control of the Senate by the Republicans would appear to be much less likely.

May Be Era Of Vetos

If the Democrats succeed in keeping control of the Senate by a small majority, they will control the selection of committee chairmanships but the Upper House will be controlled in fact by a coalition of southern Democrats and Republicans. The veto power in the next two years will then come into more use than ever before and this in turn will have an effect on President Truman's political record on current issues, assuming that he is a candidate for renomination, which is by no means settled.

If the Democrats maintain control of both Houses by comfortable majorities, it would be a vote of confidence in Mr. Truman's administration and his renomination would seem to be assured.

I have read of the spread of circles, from the drop of a pebble into clear and calm water, but I had to enact the thing in order to get its significance. In nature we are forever questioning, wondering, and speculating. We enter God's classroom every day of our lives. Our very entity is the strangest thing that we have to face.

I read in my newspaper today about "civilized warfare." Warfare is killing. Can warfare be honestly said to be civilized? Certainly it cannot be said to be refined! Unless, of course, the idea is to fool ourselves.

Never is the sight of an orchid so full of wonder and beauty, as when seen as an intruder, growing wild from a tree, or waving its bridal wreath-like arm in the sunlight. It looked totally strange to me as I viewed these heavenly flowers hanging in wooded gardens in Hawaii. Why is it that so many of our most beautiful flowers and birds are a product of the mudy marsh and jungle? nyway why should we be cheated the sight of a water ousel, or a chiff-chaff, and compelled to roam afar, to gain the acquaintance of either?

You have to read "The Golden Bough," by Sir James George Frazer, to learn how superstition has controlled the lives of millions for age upon age. What a slow path to tread for human being created in the image of God, so it is said, to where there will be a just government over all, controlled by love and impartiality toward all, from the humbest to the greatest!

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

Chairman B. Carroll Reece
Republican National Committee
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Reece:

Your worries are over. I've got the man who can win the 1948 Presidential election for the Grand Old Party. His name is Claude William Dukenfeld, and he was born in Philadelphia. The man in the street knows him as W. C. Fields.

Here are his qualifications for President:

Billy Rose

1. If I know the Great Montebank, he'll get more votes than there are voters.

2. During the campaign you won't have to pay for his radio time. Even the Democrats would be glad to sponsor a Republican speech by old Thunder-in-the-Mountains.

3. He'd get long fine with Stalin. Ten minutes with the greatest buffoon of our time and Uncle Joe would be inviting American correspondents to read his personal mail.

4. He has the great presidential qualification — he's good at double-talk. I can prove this with an old story. On the golf links Fields swung at a ball and missed. "Stand here," he said to the caddy. He swung again and missed. "Stand over there," he barked.

"But," said the caddy, "you told me to stand here."

"Don't do what I tell you to do," bellowed Fields. "Do what I tell you to do."

5. He's economical. After he has emptied the bottles, he juggles them.

6. Unlike some Presidents in my time, when he's funny at a press conference we'll all know it's intentional. If we're going to have a comedian in the White House—let's have a good one.

Down the field with Fields!

Billy

Hon. William O'Dwyer
City Hall
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Did you hear what that fellow up at Bellevue Hospital is saying? Dr. Foster Kennedy, the head neurologist, says we're drinking ourselves into headaches and convulsions. And it's not whiskey he's talking about — it's water, plain water. He says the American habit of guzling countless glasses of water each day causes edema of the brain, resulting in convulsions.

As Mayor, it's up to you to do something muy pronto. I know it would be too expensive to fill the Croton Reservoir with tomato juice. Because of the sugar shortage, it may not be practical to pipe hot-and-cold running cream soda into every kitchen.

Perhaps David Sarnoff, head of RCA, can help. He recently announced scientists will soon be able to control the weather. Maybe you two boys can fix it so it will rain seltzer.

Anyhow, I know now why I had the jimjams this morning. It was the water the bartender kept putting in my highballs last night.

A Loyal Citizen

Treasury Department
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Secretary:

Don't you think it would be a good idea to run this add in the Lost and Found column?

LOST—TWO BILLION DOLLARS. Somewhere between the White House and the Treasury Building. Finder please return to Secretary John W. Snyder. Liberal reward.

If we review how it happened maybe you'll remember where you dropped it. A couple of weeks ago the President announced the budget would be balanced this year. A few days later you said we'd wind up $2,000,000,000 in the red. Next day you both declared everything was hunky-dory — no difference between you.

I don't get it. You can't both be right. Either the budget is balanced or we're two billion in the hole. I know how busy you fellows are these days, and that in Washington they don't even ring the register for that kind of dough. But maybe you'll worry more about it when you realize that if you started counting it at a dollar a second you'd still be at it in 2200 A. D. — assuming the Democrats were still in office.

I wish you'd look in the bottom drawer of your desk, behind the pillows on the sofa, and in the pockets of your pants.

I'm kind of worried about that two billion — a little piece of it is mine.

Respectfully,

Billy.

ADDIE MASTERS . . . One-piece playsuit is made of white crepe and features long sleeves, high collar, tulip applique.

TABAK . . . Black and white butcher linen playsuit with matching skirt and "fool-the-eye" buckles embroidered at neckline.

MARY ANN DE WEESE . . . Poncho beach coat of gold and gray cotton print. Coat spreads out flat for towel or may be worn belted.

IRENE SALTERN . . . Optical illusion design in pink and black stripe blouse worn with streamlined black "strutter" pedal pushers.

DE DE JOHNSON . . . High collar sun dress of pure Irish linen with backless top and split-hip peplum concealing deep pocket.

LOS ANGELES—California designers believe they have given the 1947 resort and cruise wear an entirely new and smooth personality.

Arms that went bare before have been covered with sleeves and caplets, and especial emphasis was paid to the bra department. It is getting a higher neckline and displays more midriff.

The coordinated outfit is still the favorite—the one and two piece playsuit with skirt; one and two piece playsuit with dress; playsuit with tunic length jacket or brief bolero, and playsuit with skirt that can double for a cape as well.

Collars, especially on the high necked bra, tend toward points and scallops. Where the outfit has a bolero jacket the decollete often is low. Straps worn in many ways are popular, spreading from side seams, from bra centers and over one shoulder.

In most cases shoulder straps can be wrapped around the top of the bust and tied in a bow, or brought around the throat twice and fashioned into a high collar which will tie in either front or back. Halter straps are good, too.

Play shorts are either very brief and full or slim and modest, ending 8 to 10 inches above the knee.

Such were the trends and designs displayed at the recent showing of 1946-1947 creations by California's apparel industry here, which marked another milestone in the west's fast developing sports wear business.

There is a variety of quality fabrics—real American linens, Guatemalan hand-woven fabrics in bold plaids and stripes, bright ginghams, batistes, lawns, balloon cloth, linen weaves in rayon poplins, chambrays and wools.

Slacks are more feminine, employing unpressed pleats, tucks and shirring. Accent is on soft overblouses and slack tunics in matching or contrasting colors. Pedal pushers remain popular, and some knickers and a few culottes are in evidence.

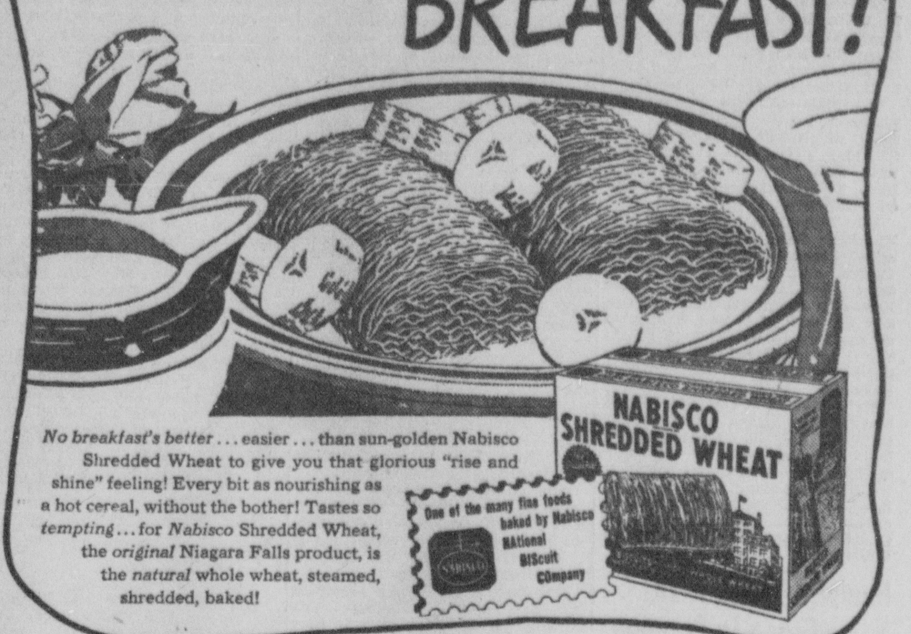

Pockets are important, too, in sports dresses. Some come inserted in the side seams, some hang from belts and some have only one large pocket.

The next great meteoric display will take place six years and nine months from now—or just in time for some fireworks display on July 4, 1952.

Woman's Civic Club To Sponsor Junior Group

Various Meetings Are Scheduled For Different Groups This Month

A Junior Woman's Civic Club is being sponsored by the Woman's Civic Club, Mrs. Arthur C. Bright, president, told members of her club at the meeting yesterday at Emmanuel Episcopal parish house.

Mrs. Bright announced that the new club is for young women in the 18 to 29 age group. It will be independent of the Woman's Civic Club except for a contact chairman, but will join the older club for some activities.

Rev. John Stanley Grauel addressed the group; invitations to two affairs were extended; reports given and six new members welcomed into the club.

Rev. Mr. Grauel, introduced by Mrs. William H. Longwell, Program chairman, warned that all is not well in America, or in the world, and that a new low in a sense of moral responsibility, as a result of the war and the practice of evading government controls, has been reached. If Christianity cannot be made to work, he suggested it be abandoned; and although one does not agree with Communism, everyone should try to understand Russia.

If war can be averted for the next 10 to 25 years, it may be possible to keep out of it forever, he said. He warned that unless the present policies, such as thinking in terms of balance of power and spheres of influence, all of which were outmoded with the atomic bomb, are changed we will have war shortly.

The number one problem to be settled, he declared, is the Jewish one. The Jews, he said, must be given a National Home in Palestine as they were promised as far back as 1917. Rev. Grauel blames the spectre of Communism for the present opposition to more Jews entering Palestine, and pointed out that the Arabs were aroused by the Nazis. The Jews, he said, have shown the Arabs a new way of life, having increased wages and improved conditions in Palestine.

All club members, as well as officers and chairmen, were invited to attend the district meeting, October 30, at the Hotel Alexander, Hagerstown, when Dr. Dean Roberts of the State Public Health department, will be the speaker. Luncheon reservations should be made with Mrs. Bright.

Club members were also invited to attend the reception for Mrs. Ruby Frazier Frey, author of "Red Morning," to be held at the library, October 29.

Announcements included a meeting of the American Home Group to be held at the home of Miss Elizabeth L. Lowndes, chairman, at 2 o'clock, October 24, when William A. Gunter will speak on the divorce problem. The Civic Group, Mrs. A. M. Lichtenstein, chairman, will meet at the library October 31; and the Welfare Group, Mrs. G. Frank Malin, chairman, is preparing to send a box of hose, playing cards and men's magazines to the Perry Point Hospital. Contributions should be left at Mrs. Malin's home.

Mrs. George Henderson, Mrs. Phillip J. Arendes, Miss Henrietta Schwarzenbach, Mrs. Lloyd F. Keiler, Mrs. O. D. Parrish and Mrs. L. H. Shafferman were enrolled as new members.

Guests were members of Mrs. Eggleston's bridge club and cards featured the entertainment.

Wedding Ceremony To Be Performed November 8 In St. Mary's Rectory

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Filler, Route 2, Williams Road, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth Filler, to Leo Lester Mooreland, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Moreland, 217 Race street.

Woman's Civic Club To Sponsor Junior Group

Various Meetings Are Scheduled For Different Groups This Month

A Junior Woman's Civic Club is being sponsored by the Woman's Civic Club, Mrs. Arthur C. Bright, president, told members of her club at the meeting yesterday at Emmanuel Episcopal parish house.

Mrs. Bright announced that the new club is for young women in the 18 to 29 age group. It will be independent of the Woman's Civic Club except for a contact chairman, but will join the older club for some activities.

Rev. John Stanley Grauel addressed the group; invitations to two affairs were extended; reports given and six new members welcomed into the club.

Rev. Mr. Grauel, introduced by Mrs. William H. Longwell, Program chairman, warned that all is not well in America, or in the world, and that a new low in a sense of moral responsibility, as a result of the war and the practice of evading government controls, has been reached. If Christianity cannot be made to work, he suggested it be abandoned; and although one does not agree with Communism, everyone should try to understand Russia.

If war can be averted for the next 10 to 25 years, it may be possible to keep out of it forever, he said. He warned that unless the present policies, such as thinking in terms of balance of power and spheres of influence, all of which were outmoded with the atomic bomb, are changed we will have war shortly.

The number one problem to be settled, he declared, is the Jewish one. The Jews, he said, must be given a National Home in Palestine as they were promised as far back as 1917. Rev. Grauel blames the spectre of Communism for the present opposition to more Jews entering Palestine, and pointed out that the Arabs were aroused by the Nazis. The Jews, he said, have shown the Arabs a new way of life, having increased wages and improved conditions in Palestine.

All club members, as well as officers and chairmen, were invited to attend the district meeting, October 30, at the Hotel Alexander, Hagerstown, when Dr. Dean Roberts of the State Public Health department, will be the speaker. Luncheon reservations should be made with Mrs. Bright.

Club members were also invited to attend the reception for Mrs. Ruby Frazier Frey, author of "Red Morning," to be held at the library, October 29.

Announcements included a meeting of the American Home Group to be held at the home of Miss Elizabeth L. Lowndes, chairman, at 2 o'clock, October 24, when William A. Gunter will speak on the divorce problem. The Civic Group, Mrs. A. M. Lichtenstein, chairman, will meet at the library October 31; and the Welfare Group, Mrs. G. Frank Malin, chairman, is preparing to send a box of hose, playing cards and men's magazines to the Perry Point Hospital. Contributions should be left at Mrs. Malin's home.

Mrs. George Henderson, Mrs. Phillip J. Arendes, Miss Henrietta Schwarzenbach, Mrs. Lloyd F. Keller, Mrs. O. D. Parrish and Mrs. L. H. Shafferman were enrolled as new members.

Wife Says Mate Got Very Drunk On Wedding Day

Mrs. Macie Ross Asks Annulment, Says Husband Left Her In 10 Days

Declaring that her husband got drunk on his wedding day, stayed intoxicated for 10 days and then deserted her, Mrs. Macie V. Ross file suit in Circuit Court yesterday for annulment of her marriage to Joseph P. Ross.

Mrs. Ross said the wedding took place last April 7 and that the marriage was never consummated.

She charged that Ross fraudulently entered into the marriage, asserting that he had represented himself to her as a "total abstainer" from alcohol and further represented that he was in a financial position to take care of her.

Mrs. Ross stated that on the date of their marriage Ross became "exceedingly drunk and continued in that state for approximately 10 days" when he deserted her.

She charged that he has not given a penny toward her support and that she has talked with him only once and that by long distance telephone when he asked her to divorce him. Edwin M. Horchler is her attorney.

An absolute divorce was granted Cecil G. Moore, 26, Maryland avenue, from Mrs. Catherine P. Moore in a decree signed by Chief Judge William A. Huster.

Moore filed the suit in November, 1945, about four months after their marriage, and said his wife left him and showed him a telegram she had sen. to a man in Hagerstown in which she asked him to "come and get me."

According to the testimony, the Hagerstown man did come, and he and Moore's wife lived as man and wife in a local hotel before leaving for Hagerstown. Julius E. Schindler represented Moore.

Mrs. Edith G. Schade filed suit for divorce from Arthur E. Schade on undisclosed grounds. Horchler is her attorney.

Smith Islanders Welcome Doctor

SMITH ISLAND, Md., Oct. 17 (AP)—School let out and virtually everyone in this Chesapeake Bay fishing community turned up in Sunday best to welcome their new doctor after a five-month lapse in medical service.

They crowded the dock and waved to Dr. Merriett Goodrich Chambers as he stepped off the Island Belle, the mail boat which is the island's only regular contact with Maryland's Eastern Shore.

Skipper Ben Whitelock shucked off his overalls and stepped forth in a gray pinstripe to take his place with the island medical board, official welcoming committee.

Dr. Chambers, 69, and his youthful wife came here from West Brentwood, N. Y., where he was senior assistant psychiatrist at Pilgrim State Hospital and assisted in management of the institution.

The doctor said he looked upon his new work as a chance for partial retirement.

The 750 residents of the three islets which make up Smith Island have been without a physician since Dr. William F. Seabold died in April after five months of service. They were beginning to worry. In rough winter weather, they often are isolated for days at a time.

The announcement shed no light on where the cremation took place, nor the hour.

Andrus also disclosed the story of how Keitel, who had asked that he die before a firing squad instead of on the gallows, tried to keep hidden in his wallet a long, sharp piece of metal easily capable of slashing the wrists or throat.

Keitel had returned to the prison after an appearance in court and was changing to his old clothing when a guard saw him push something down a billfold. The guard grabbed the wallet and found the piece of metal.

Andrus said Keitel glared angrily at the guard, but refused to explain how he got the possible suicide weapon.

Board To Report To Council

Andrus declared he did not know what was in the note Goering left for him or in the two other letters found in his cell. Translations were made available to the Allied Control Council, but their contents were not divulged.

The special board investigating the suicide will report directly to the council. The board was working without any special technical assistance such as Scotland Yard or United States FBI agents.

While strictest secrecy surrounded its activities, it was learned that every person within shouting distance of Goering's cell during the days and nights he had contemplated self-destruction were summoned for questioning.

At least 12 German employes in the jail were described as "protectively held" until they are completely cleared.

Andrus said that none of the prison attaches had any idea that Goering would take his life and a psychologist advanced the same idea the Thursday before the hangings.

Andrus remained perplexed on where Goering hid the vial of poison. He could have shifted it from court to cell clothing by using a handkerchief but where he placed it while bathing remained a mystery, Andrus said.

Changes In 34 Years Outlined To G.O.P. Women

Reminiscing of the changes during the past 34 years, former Judge D. Lindley Sloan told members of the Republican Women's Club, at the meeting last night in the Girl Scout little house, that the last time he was in the building he was attending a meeting of the city council in 1912. The meetings, he explained, were held there for two years, following tre city hall fire.

It was during this period he said that the council took action because of the polution of the river and arranged for the water system now in use.

Judge Sloan told his audience that in those days men appreciated their right to vote and considered it a serious matter. To illustrate his point he told of one man, he knew personally, who walked eight miles to vote. He was accompanied by a Democrat who was to vouch for him, however when they arrived at the polls, the friend denied he knew the man, and so Judge Sloan's friend had to go home for his citizenship papers before he was permitted to vote.

Mrs. J. Glenn Beall introduced the speaker, who was accompanied by Mrs. Sloan, a guest.

Mrs. David Steele presided at the business session when Mrs. James Morris was elected an alternate to the state convention in Baltimore October 30. Mrs. Elsie Babst is delegate. Five new members were enrolled. They are Mrs. Eva B. Browning, Mrs. Marie Shaffer, Mrs. Laura Flurshutz, Mrs. Eldora C. Kean and Miss Eleanor Bennett. Fifty-five members attended the meeting.

A social hour concluded the meeting and refreshments were served by Mrs. Jessie White, Mrs. Alva Davis, Mrs. Elsie Brinkman, Mrs. Beall, Miss Lillian Myers, Mrs. Alice Beightol and Mrs. Edith Grose.

W. Md. Railway Adopts Vets Training Program

Adjutant William L. Dailey of Knobley Mountain Post No. 136, American Legion, was notified yesterday by Representative to Congress from West Virginia, Jennings Randolph, that veterans employed by the Western Maryland Railway shops at Ridgeley and Elkins, W. Va., are eligible for on-the-job training.

The communication explained that Congressman Randolph presented petitions of veterans to both the Veterans Administration and the Railway Company, and an agreement has been reached to institute the training program.

It was also mentioned in the communication that the on-the-job training for veterans has worked out satisfactorily for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and other companies and Randolph expressed the opinion that this type of training "is a good investment for the veteran, the company and the government."

Howard H. Dickey, 419 Washington street, secured a permit yesterday in the city engineer's office to build a two-story brick house on Lot No. 45, Buckingham road, The Dingle, at an estimated cost of $7,000. The house, which will contain six rooms and a bath, will measure 34 by 28 feet, with a concrete block foundation and asbestos shingle roof. The Cumberland Improvement Company is the contractor.

Morris Kline, 700 North Mechanic street, was granted a permit to enclose space in the rear of a store at 700-702 North Mechanic street for storage purposes, at an estimated cost of $250. The addition, which will be one story high, will measure 10 by 15 feet, with a concrete footer foundation, concrete block walls and a tin roof.

Parents Ask $30,000 For Child's Death

Damages amounting to $30,000 are being asked in a declaration filed yesterday in Circuit Court by the State of Maryland to the use of Melvin Logsdon and Annie L. Logsdon, parents of Clyde W. Logsdon, against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad as the result of an accident June 14 at the Hyndman, Pa. railroad crossing in which two persons were killed and three injured.

Clyde Logsdon, six months, was fatally hurt and died a short time after the crash. Declarations previously were filed in three other suits against the railroad resulting from the accident.

The declaration, filed by Edward J. Ryan and William L. Wilson, Jr., attorneys for the plaintiffs, said the eastbound cattle train went over the crossing at a speed greater than allowed by a town ordinance and without ringing a warning bell.

The infant was a passenger in the car operated by Homer Troutman, Hyndman, who was injured.

Of course, the opposition party might bob up with a ticket headed by Gary Cooper and Frankie Sinatra, with a sure-fire campaign slogan: "Kiss and tell—your friends to vote right."

City Officials To Test Legibility Of Signs

Two sample types of street signs which have been received at City Hall will be set up temporarily at a street intersection in the city tonight so that council members may test legibility of the signs for night drivers, according to Mayor Thomas S. Post.

Following a conference with Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer, and William Spurgeon, representative of the Traffic and Street Sign Company, Newark, N. J., the mayor said he has asked Rizer to select the spot the signs will be erected, adding that the Mayor and Council will inspect them tonight.

The signs to be used are the Scotchlight type, brought here yesterday with an aluminum type by Spurgeon, and one of the two sample steel signs previously sent to City Hall by the Lyle Sign Company, Minneapolis, Minn. The former costs $10.20 a pair, while the latter, reportedly favored by the Mayor and Council, costs $5.65. All have a white background with black lettering.

Spurgeon told the mayor that his company has been supplying Chief of Police Oscar A. Eyerman with traffic signs for several years.

"Signed, the Quadpartite Committee for the Detention of War Criminals."

The announcement shed no light on where the cremation took place nor the hour.

Andrus also disclosed the story of how Keitel, who had asked that he die before a firing squad instead of on the gallows, tried to keep hidden in his wallet a long, sharp piece of metal easily capable of slashing the wrists or throat.

Keitel had returned to the prison after an appearance in court and was changing to his old clothing when a guard saw him push something down a billfold. The guard grabbed the wallet and found the piece of metal.

Andrus said Keitel glared angrily at the guard, but refused to explain how he got the possible suicide weapon.

Board To Report To Council

Andrus declared he did not know what was in the note Goering left for him or in the two other letters found in his cell. Translations were made available to the Allied Control Council, but their contents were not divulged.

The special board investigating the suicide will report directly to the council. The board was working without any special technical assistance such as Scotland Yard or United States FBI agents.

While strictest secrecy surrounded its activities, it was learned that every person within shouting distance of Goering's cell during the days and nights he had contemplated self-destruction were summoned for questioning.

At least 12 German employes in the jail were described as "protectively held" until they are completely cleared.

Andrus said that none of the prison attaches had any idea that Goering would take his life and a psychologist advanced the same idea the Thursday before the hangings.

Andrus remained perplexed over where Goering hid the vial of poison. He could have shifted it from court to cell clothing by using a handkerchief but where he placed it while bathing remained a mystery, Andrus said.

Changes In 34 Years Outlined To G.O.P. Women

Reminiscing of the changes during the past 34 years, former Judge D. Lindley Sloan told members of the Republican Women's Club, at the meeting last night in the Girl Scout little house, that the last time he was in the building he was attending a meeting of the city council in 1912. The meetings, he explained, were held there for two years, following the city hall fire.

It was during this period he said that the council took action because of the polution of the river and arranged for the water system now in use.

Judge Sloan told his audience that in those days men appreciated their right to vote and considered it a serious matter. To illustrate his point he told of one man, he knew personally, who walked eight miles to vote. He was accompanied by a Democrat who was to vouch for him, however when they arrived at the polls, the friend denied he knew the man, and so Judge Sloan's friend had to go home for his citizenship papers before he was permitted to vote.

Mrs. J. Glenn Beall introduced the speaker, who was accompanied by Mrs. Sloan, a guest.

Mrs. David Steele presided at the business session when Mrs. James Morris was elected an alternate to the state convention in Baltimore October 30. Mrs. Elsie Babst is delegate. Five new members were enrolled. They are Mrs. Eva B. Browning, Mrs. Marie Shaffer, Mrs. Laura Flurshutz, Mrs. Eldora C. Kean and Miss Eleanor Bennett. Fifty-five members attended the meeting.

A social hour concluded the meeting and refreshments were served by Mrs. Jessie White, Mrs. Alva Davis, Mrs. Elsie Brinkman, Mrs. Beall, Miss Lillian Myers, Mrs. Alice Beightol and Mrs. Edith Grose.

W. Md. Railway Adopts Vets Training Program

Adjutant William L. Dailey of Knobley Mountain Post No. 136, American Legion, was notified yesterday by Representative to Congress from West Virginia, Jennings Randolph, that veterans employed by the Western Maryland Railway shops at Ridgeley and Elkins, W. Va., are eligible for on-the-job training.

The communication explained that Congressman Randolph presented petitions of veterans to both the Veterans Administration and the Railway Company, and an agreement has been reached to institute the training program.

It was also mentioned in the communication that the on-the-job training for veterans has worked out satisfactorily for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and other companies and Randolph expressed the opinion that this type of training "is a good investment for the veteran, the company and the government."

Dickey Secures Permit To Build Residence

Howard H. Dickey, 419 Washington street, secured a permit yesterday in the city engineer's office to build a two-story brick house on Lot No. 45, Buckingham road, The Dingle, at an estimated cost of $7,000. The house, which will contain six rooms and a bath, will measure 34 by 28 feet, with a concrete block foundation and asbestos shingle roof. The Cumberland Improvement Company is the contractor.

Morris Kline, 790 North Mechanic street, was granted a permit to enclose space in the rear of a store at 700-702 North Mechanic street for storage purposes, at an estimated cost of $250. The addition, which will be one story high, will measure 10 by 15 feet, with a concrete footer foundation, concrete block walls and a tin roof.

Parents Ask $30,000 For Child's Death

Damages amounting to $30,000 are being asked in a declaration filed yesterday in Circuit Court by the State of Maryland to the use of Melvin Logsdon and Annie L. Logsdon, parents of Clyde W. Logsdon, against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad as the result of an accident June 14 at the Hyndman, Pa. railroad crossing in which two persons were killed and three injured.

Clyde Logsdon, six months, was fatally hurt and died a short time after the crash. Declarations previously were filed in three other suits against the railroad resulting from the accident.

The declaration, filed by Edward J. Ryan and William L. Wilson, Jr., attorneys for the plaintiffs, said the eastbound cattle train went over the crossing at a speed greater than allowed by a town ordinance and without ringing a warning bell.

The infant was a passenger in the car operated by Homer Troutman, Hyndman, who was injured.

Of course, the opposition party might bob up with a ticket headed by Gary Cooper and Frankie Sinatra, with a sure-fire campaign slogan: "Kiss and tell—your friends to vote right."

City Officials To Test Legibility Of Signs

Two sample types of street signs which have been received at City Hall will be set up temporarily at a street intersection in the city tonight so that council members may test legibility of the signs for night drivers, according to Mayor Thomas S. Post.

Following a conference with Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer, and William Spurgeon, representative of the Traffic and Street Sign Company, Newark, N. J., the mayor said he has asked Rizer to select the spot the signs will be erected, adding that the Mayor and Council will inspect them tonight.

The signs to be used are the Scotchlight type, brought here yesterday with an aluminum type by Spurgeon, and one of the two sample steel signs previously sent to City Hall by the Lyle Sign Company, Minneapolis, Minn. The former costs $10.20 a pair, while the latter, reportedly favored by the Mayor and Council, costs $5.65. All have a white background with black lettering.

Spurgeon told the mayor that his company has been supplying Chief of Police Oscar A. Eyerman with traffic signs for several years.

Markey Assails Administration In Radio Speech

GOP Candidate For U. S. Senate Poses This Question: "Had Enough?"

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17 (AP) — D. John Markey, Republican candidate for the United States Senate declared tonight that "for 14 years this country has been under the complete and unrestrained domination of a political ideology which we once called the New Deal and now may well be termed the Double Deal."

He posed this question:

"Had enough?"

In a broadcast campaign speech, Markey accused the national administration of removing meat and other commodities from price control because of political considerations and said that the whole situation:

"Good Riddance" To OPA

"Left no doubt in the minds of anyone that Truman and his men are still full-fledged disciples of the New Deal and so long as they remain in control of the Congress there will be no change whatever in the policies which have brought us close to a lowering of the highest standard of living in the world."

He declared that Truman made his broadcast on the meat problem "as a vote-seeking politician and not as a statement."

"The OPA is gone and good riddance" the GOP candidate said. "It should have been dropped from the government's agenda last July. But the unstatesmanlike, fumbling, small-time politician's method in which Mr. Truman and his men have met this crisis must leave every citizen more convinced than ever before that he himself has had enough."

Markey's Pledges

Markey said that if he were elected senator:

1—"You may expect to find me in vigorous opposition to the expenditure of government moneys for any purpose except the support of necessary government activities and agencies."

2—"I shall, of course, use every power I can muster to reduce government activities x x x."

3—"I pledge you that I will scrutinize in the most careful manner the activities, payrolls and expenditures of all government agencies and I shall seek on the floor of the Senate x x x to eliminate those which are improper and unnecessary.

4—"I shall seek to free the hand of the businessman and the working man from government interference with the settlement of their problems."

Lane Says Climbing Costs Are Jeopardizing State's Postwar Building Program

FREDERICK, Md., Oct. 17 (AP)—William Preston Lane, Jr., Democratic candidate for governor, said tonight sharply climbing costs have placed Maryland's postwar construction program in danger.

In an address prepared for a broadcast by Democratic Party candidates over a network of Maryland stations, he said estimates intended to cover 167 projects would pay for only a part of them.

"I ought to tell you," Lane said, "because my studies have revealed the fact that practically the entire postwar construction program is in danger.

"This program was framed by the Maryland Planning Commission and by the Postwar Reconstruction and Development Commission. It was approved by the General Assembly of 1945. There were about 167 construction projects, divided among 30 agencies or groups, at an estimated cost of nearly $19,000,000.

"The General Assembly provided $12,550,000 for these projects, leaving about $6,500,000 yet to be raised. But the few bids already taken by the Board of Awards indicate that, in most cases, due to the great increases in costs, and perhaps partly due to the modest estimates, the cost of these projects together with several since approved, may, on present prices, exceed $40,000,000 or $45,000,000.

"All the construction in the program has been approved as necessary. It now appears that the funds already provided will be insufficient for anything but a relatively small part of the program."

Lane said this was a matter the next state administration must face.

He said the next state government must deal with the problem of modernizing the roads system.

"It is necessary," Lane said, "to formulate and adopt a long-range fiscal policy for roads construction. x x x The cost of maintenance and of administration is absorbing so much of the available revenues that there is little left for constructions."

Lane declared that the Democratic Party was committed to an improvement in the state's educational system.

"It is our intention, he said, "to make the rewards for able teachers in the public schools more attractive, so that the best talent will become available to train our children x x x."

Gov. O'Conor, the party's candidate for the United States Senate, said that his GOP opponent for the seat, D. John Markey, was lacking the experience in business administration, government financing and in legislation necessary for the post.

He said that "on my own behalf, I advance the claim of my experience in governmental administration. Alone among the governors of the country today I have had the responsibility of administering the state's affairs during the days of peace prior to Pearl Harbor, all during the critical months of the war, and likewise during the postwar period."

Sen. Millard E. Tydings introduced the candidates on the broadcast.

James J. Lacy, candidate for state comptroller, in a brief address, said he believed the interests of veterans would be in safe hands with Lane, who is a veteran himself.

Public Asked To Support Anti-Pollution Plan

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17. (AP)—Dr. S. S. Steinberg, dean of the College of Engineering at the University of Maryland today asked general public support for proposals that the Legislature set up a water pollution control commission.

Steinberg, chairman of a committee which drafted a bill now in the hands of the Legislative Council and due for consideration by the General Assembly early next year, said "the trouble is that prevention of pollution of our streams is nobody's official business."

"Our idea is to set up a control agency that will co-ordinate the authority of several existing agencies with regard to pollution. It would not be a commission that would immediately start applying laws and prosecuting cases, but would, by educational means, show everyone the value of ending pollution of our streams.

Dr. Steinberg said the foremost advantage of ending stream pollution would be an improvement in health conditions. It would also make them more useful for recreation, for sportsmen, and for industries he said.

Estonians Denied Admittance To U. S.

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 17 (AP)—It was a dark day for the stout little band of 47 Estonian refugees who sailed across 6,000 miles of choppy ocean from Sweden in three batted fishing boats with freedom from political persecution as their goal.

The Justice Department announced in Washington this afternoon that the first group of 18 which arrived August 21 in the 38-foot sloop "Indiana" without visas had been excluded from the country.

The other groups of 11 and 18 which arrived September 9 and September 29, respectively, knew it would not be long before they were dealt the same fate for they too did not have visas and the country's quota of 116 annually had long been filled.

The word came as they were moving from a city-owned pier warehouse where all 47 had been living, after being evicted in order that a shipping company might move in. To top it off, rain fell as they began the move, wetting their personal effects.

The nearer the sun approaches the earth the colder the weather becomes. This is a paradox—like the super-shortage of everything now that the war, which absorbed commodities, is over.

Heat Being Restored In Pittsburgh Buildings

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17 (AP) — Partial restoration of heat in many big downtown buildings warmed business today in the task of recovering losses in a 24-year-old power strike as the work stoppage dragged wearily on with no settlement in view.

The Allegheny County Steam Heating Company, an affiliate of the struck Duquesne Light Company was supplying partial service to 384 customers—including public and office buildings, hotels, stores and the Y.M.C.A. Full service was expected by tomorrow.

The company had cut off steam supplies for heat because of picketing activities in the power strike. AFL truckers drove through independent union picket lines yesterday to supply the firm with coal for generating steam.

Austin Issues Policy Statement As Delegates Gather In New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)—The United States announced today it would exercise a "real leadership" in working in the forthcoming United Nations General Assembly towar the abolition of war and the establishment of peaceful means of settling controversies among the nations of the world.

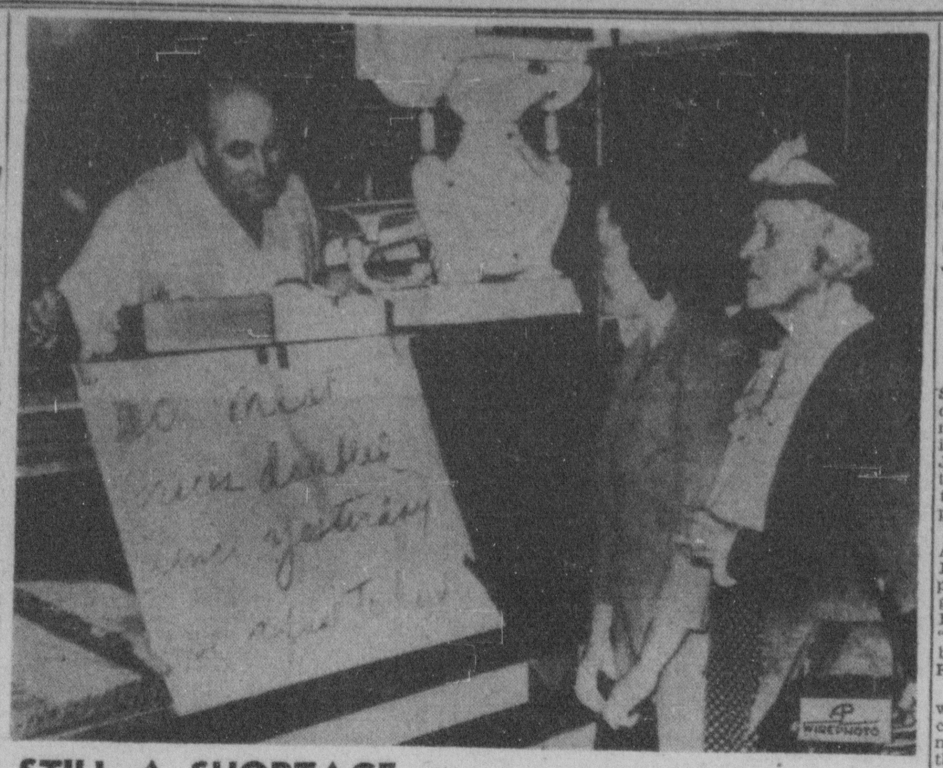

This policy statement was made by Warren R. Austin, former United States senator and chief United States delegate to United Nations at the first meeting of the American delegation and later at a news conference.

It came as top-ranking diplomats of 51 countries pledged to keep world peace began converging on New York for the first meeting of the United Nations General Assembly in the United States which will be opened by President Truman next Wednesday at Flushing Meadows.

Declaring that the United States has the "greatest stakes in the cause of peace as we have the greatest risk," Austin told the American delegation:

"We are going to these (General Assembly) meetings with a deep sense of our obligation to develop and promote a positive definite policy. We are not going into these meeting with an unyielding stand but we want to say this is what we stand for, this what we aim at.

"We have set this policy as our idea of achieving our supreme objective—the abolition of war and the establishment of peaceful means of settling controversies among nations and of doing away with the causes of war by lifting up the standards of life of all people intellectually, spiritually and materially."

Cinder Pit Explosion Claims Three Lives

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17 (AP)—Three men were killed and seven injured today in a cinder pit explosion at the South Side works, Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation.

The injured were rushed to a hospital in the plant ambulance and in private cars.

Dog Owner's Meat Worries Increase

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP) —Meat worries increased today for one Washington dog owner.

His pet canine turned highwayman last night, stuck his head through a picket fence and snatched a package of sausage from the hands of a surprised passerby, Albert Toles.

Toles demanded payment. The dog's master refused. Toles reported to police and now the corporation counsel must decide the case.

BROWN SAYS TRUMAN CAUSED MEAT CRISIS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Rep. Clarence J. Brown, of Ohio, Republican campaign director, said tonight it was President Truman who brought on the meat shortage by his veto of the first price control bill.

In an address for an ABC broadcast, Brown declared Mr. Truman vetoed the measure "against the advice of his own Democrat legislative leaders, in order to please his more radical supporters."

"Then, just to complicate matters," Brown added, "late in July he (the President) signed the weaker second price control bill, which continued the decontrol of meat until August 20 and left it up to the President's Decontrol Board to say whether meat should ever be recontrolled or not.

"That board did, in late August, order meat put back under price control, effective the second week in September—and that's where the Truman administration made its big mistake, for immediately livestock prices jumped crazily and, once the controls became effective, meat disappeared from the store counters and the dinner tables of America."

Ibn Saud Blasts Truman's Stand Supporting Jews

Saudi Arabian Monarch Declares "Previous Promises" Violated

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP)—King Ibn Saud, of Saudi Arabia, charged today in a letter to President Truman that the latter's call for opening the gates of Palestine to more Jews was in "complete contradiction" to a presidential assurance to the Arabs and violated "previous promises" made to them.

The letter, released by the Saudi Arabian legation in London, said Ibn Saud had "never ceased to point out that the Jews were aggressors from the start" in the Holy Land and mentioned the "sincere friendship" he enjoyed both with Truman and the late President Roosevelt.

Ibn Saud, monarch in a land where the Americans have rich oil concessions and are proceeding now with plans for an oil pipeline through the country, met with President Roosevelt aboard a United States warship in the Suez Canal after the Big Three meeting at Yalta.

Roosevelt, a week before he died, sent word to Ibn Saud that he would take no action in Palestine hostile to the Arab people.

Ibn Saud said to President Truman that he could not hide "my great surprise on hearing of certain declarations attributed to you, supporting the Jews and demanding the immediate admission of their emigrants into Palestine, thus disturbing the present conditions in these lands, without any due regard to all the previous promises given the Arabs."

The Allegheny County Steam Heating Company, an affiliate of the struck Duquesne Light Company was supplying partial service to 384 customers—including public and office buildings, hotels, stores and the Y.M.C.A. Full service was expected by tomorrow.

The company had cut off steam supplies for heat because of picketing activities in the power strike. AFL truckers drove through independent union picket lines yesterday to supply the firm with coal for generating steam.

Dog Owner's Meat Worries Increase

Toles demanded payment. The dog's master refused. Toles reported to police and now the corporation counsel must decide the case.

BROWN SAYS TRUMAN CAUSED MEAT CRISIS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Rep. Clarence J. Brown, of Ohio, Republican campaign director, said tonight it was President Truman who brought on the meat shortage by his veto of the first price control bill.

In an address for an ABC broadcast, Brown declared Mr. Truman vetoed the measure "against the advice of his own Democrat legislative leaders, in order to please his more radical supporters."

"Then, just to complicate matters," Brown added, "late in July he (the President) signed the weaker second price control bill, which continued the decontrol of meat until August 20 and left it up to the President's Decontrol Board to say whether meat should ever be recontrolled or not.

"That board did, in late August, order meat put back under price control, effective the second week in September—and that's where the Truman administration made its big mistake, for immediately livestock prices jumped crazily and, once the controls became effective, meat disappeared from the store counters and the dinner tables of America."

Ibn Saud Blasts Truman's Stand Supporting Jews

Saudi Arabian Monarch Declares "Previous Promises" Violated

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP)—King Ibn Saud, of Saudi Arabia, charged today in a letter to President Truman that the latter's call for opening the gates of Palestine to more Jews was in "complete contradiction" to a presidential assurance to the Arabs and violated "previous promises" made to them.

The letter, released by the Saudi Arabian legation in London, said Ibn Saud had "never ceased to point out that the Jews were aggressors from the start" in the Holy Land and mentioned the "sincere friendship" he enjoyed both with Truman and the late President Roosevelt.

Ibn Saud, monarch in a land where the Americans have rich oil concessions and are proceeding now with plans for an oil pipeline through the country, met with President Roosevelt aboard a United States warship in the Suez Canal after the Big Three meeting at Yalta.

Roosevelt, a week before he died, sent word to Ibn Saud that he would take no action in Palestine hostile to the Arab people.

Ibn Saud said to President Truman that he could not hide "my great surprise on hearing of certain declarations attributed to you, supporting the Jews and demanding the immediate admission of their emigrants into Palestine, thus disturbing the present conditions in these lands, without any due regard to all the previous promises given the Arabs."

According to S/Sgt. W. B. Sewell, local recruiter, Major Pickle announced that a new regulation effective January 1, will be of interest to men re-enlisting in the Marines. After that date, re-enlistment must be made within 30 days of date of discharge, if the Marine intends to keep his rating. Otherwise he will be permitted to re-enlist in grade of private first class only.

Theft Is Reported In Local Restaurant

The crime wave which has plagued local police for the past few weeks continued unabated yesterday as the G. and W. Restaurant, within sight of police headquarters, was robbed of $8 in pennies and an undetermined amount of cash.

Police reported an intruder broke into the restaurant on 43 North Liberty street yesterday between 2 and 7 a. m. through a rear window after breaking the glass near the lock.

The pennies, they reported, were taken from a box while the cash was taken from the coin container of a juke box. Officer C. C. Roby investigated for city police.

Also reported to police was the breaking into of a car owned by Francis Whinnie, 222 Springdale street, about 3:30 a. m. as the vehicle was parked in the rear of Shriver's store, Baltimore street. Although the vehicle was thoroughly ransacked police said nothing was reported missing.

Most recent in the string of robberies was the theft of narcotics and drugs valued at about $100 and $3.45 in cash at the West Side Pharmacy Wednesday morning.

Two Traffic Cases Heard In Local Court

Two traffic violations were recorded yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court, with one case dismissed and another defendant entering a plea of guilty.

A charge of passing another vehicle on a curve near Crystal Park, U. S. Route 40, against Robert D. Howell, Barton, was dismissed because the young man was about to be inducted into the Army. Howell told Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr. he was enlisting at 12:30 p. m. yesterday. The charge was preferred by State Trooper William F. Baker, Wednesday night.

Marshall Floyd Wilt, Westernport, was fined $2.75 when he entered a plea of guilty for failure to stop at a boulevard sign on Route 220. Trooper Glen D. Folk made the arrest.

Youth Admits Theft Of Automobile Here

One of two youths who escaped from the West Virginia Industrial School and left a trail of stolen cars and trucks from Fairmont, W. Va., to Winchester, Va., including Cumberland, has been taken into custody, according to Virginia authorities.

Police identified the youth as Neely Alfred Moore, 17, following his arrest at Clearbrook, Va., Tuesday night. His companion, Bernard Muldrew, is still being sought by Virginia officers who threw a net around the area. The former confessed that he and Muldrew had stolen seven cars since October 11.

Officials said the pair stole a car at Fairmont, W. Va., and drove to the Wheeling race track. There they stole another automobile and drove beyond Wheeling where they took a truck and returned to the city again. Picking up another car they traveled to Cumberland and abandoned the machine for still another car. Going through Romney, W. Va., they stole another car and separated. Both vehicles were abandoned near Winchester.

Federal complaints will be lodged against Moore, authorities said.

Union Announces End Of Six-Week Trucking Strike

Wholesale Grocery Workers Are Granted 10 Cent Wage Increase

Trucks of three major Cumberland transportation firms, strike-bound since Labor Day, will begin to roll this morning as a result of an agreement reached yesterday afternoon between the companies and Local 453, Teamsters Union. C. E. Stutzman, union business agent, predicted that normal trucking oprations will be resumed in this area by Monday.

Some 50 members of the union, employes of the Cumberland Motor Express, Charlton Brothers and Novick Transfer Company, voted to accept an agreement reached Wednesday between company and union officials, and to return to work today, Stutzman said.

A preliminary agreement was reached Wednesday night when company and union representatives met in Washington with Conciliation Commissioner John Murray.

The new contract, reached after the longest strike in the history of the truck drivers union here, provides for a weekly rate of $44.64 for city drivers, or a 13 cent increase to 93 cents per hour, and represents a $6.24 weekly wage boost, Stutzman said.

Receive Increases

Over-the-road drivers will receive a $1.51 increase for each trip, giving them $15.83 for each of the six trips a week which on the Pittsburgh, Washington and Baltimore runs averages about 280 miles, Stutzman said. When drivers are routed by way of the superhighway to Pittsburgh, the rate is $14.52.

Increases for the three firms were effective as of today while similar rates for Maryland Motor Lines, Crites, Glenn Morris and Chaney companies, which resumed operations early in October, were retroactive to September 1. The agreements, which also increase hotel allowances from $1.50 to $2.50 daily, will expire August 31, 1947.

The settlement also ended sympathy strikes which threw about 125 Cumberland Motor Express drivers out of work at Pittsburgh and the same number of Novick drivers in Winchester, Va.

Stutzman said the last strike of truck drivers called by the local was in 1942 and lasted two weeks.

There was, however, no hint yesterday of a settlement with the Steinla Transportation Company. Since the company operates on a mileage basis, it was explained that terms of the other settlements would not apply. A company representative said last night the firm works under different runs and that an agreement is still pending.

Hearing Is Planned

A NLRB hearing will be held Monday at 10 a. m. in the Post Office Building here on the union's dispute with the Celanese Corporation of America. The union, Stutzman said, is seeking a contract for some 15 drivers employed on trucking operations of the company here. Workers at the plant are represented by Local 1874, TWUA, CIO.

The six-week strike virtually shut off liquor deliveries here for a month and has curtailed supplies of candy, clothing, tobacco and all sundries.

The union also announced yesterday that the C. D. Kenny and Kenneweg Wholesale Grocery companies have granted an additional 10 cents an hour to some 40 drivers and warehousemen, bringing the rate to $1 an hour. The new rate will be effective until January 31, 1947, Stutzman said.

A contract has also been signed with the National Biscuit Company, the union said, which provides $44.24 weekly for drivers on a 48 hour week and $33 a week for warehousemen for a 40 hour week. The wage, retroactive to September 1, will be effective until May 1, 1948.

Premier Shovels Rubble

WARSAW, Poland—(AP)—Premier Edward Osubka-Morawski and Vice-Premier Wladyslaw Gomulka, with spades in hand, joined a group of workers clearing ruins from Warsaw streets. They afterward received certificates from the president of their trade union group, saying they had done their duty as citizens in helping clean up Warsaw.

Obscenity Hazard

RIO DE JANEIRO — (AP) — The Correio da Manha has asked the police here to prohibit the selling of used magazines and comic books by news dealers. The paper said a child innocently reading one comic book has been shocked by obscene words written in the margins in pencil.

MARJORIE: "It's going to be a splendid hospital, Judge. We've included a special clinic, too, for the study and treatment of alcoholism."
OLD JUDGE: "That's fine, Marjorie. I've been hoping all along the board would do that. It proves we've got one of the most enlightened communities in the country."
MARJORIE: "Our new superintendent persuaded us, Judge. He says the time has come when people have to recognize the fact that alcoholics are sick people, and should be given the same facilities for treatment as any other person who is ill."
OLD JUDGE: "I hope more communities will take that sensible point of view. Fortunately only about 1½% of the people who use alcoholic beverages are problem drinkers, but in most cases they are people with deep-seated personality defects which can only be corrected by psychiatrists and medical men who understand these conditions."

Union Announces End Of Six-Week Trucking Strike

Wholesale Grocery Workers Are Granted 10 Cent Wage Increase

Trucks of three major Cumberland transportation firms, strike-bound since Labor Day, will begin to roll this morning as a result of an agreement reached yesterday afternoon between the companies and Local 453, Teamsters Union. C. E. Stutzman, union business agent, predicted that normal trucking operations will be resumed in this area by Monday.

Some 50 members of the union, employes of the Cumberland Motor Express, Charlton Brothers and Novick Transfer Company, voted to accept an agreement reached Wednesday between company and union officials, and to return to work today, Stutzman said.

A preliminary agreement was reached Wednesday night when company and union representatives met in Washington with Conciliation Commissioner John Murray.

The new contract, reached after the longest strike in the history of the truck drivers union here, provides for a weekly rate of $44.64 for city drivers, or a 13 cent increase to 93 cents per hour, and represents a $6.24 weekly wage boost, Stutzman said.

Receive Increases

Over-the-road drivers will receive a $1.51 increase for each trip, giving them $15.83 for each of the six trips a week which on the Pittsburgh, Washington and Baltimore runs averages about 280 miles, Stutzman said. When drivers are routed by way of the superhighway to Pittsburgh, the rate is $14.52.

Increases for the three firms were effective as of today while similar rates for Maryland Motor Lines, Crites, Glenn Morris and Chaney companies, which resumed operations early in October, were retroactive to September 1. The agreements, which also increase hotel allowances from $1.50 to $2.50 daily, will expire August 31, 1947.

The settlement also ended sympathy strikes which threw about 125 Cumberland Motor Express drivers out of work at Pittsburgh and the same number of Novick drivers in Winchester, Va.

Stutzman said the last strike of truck drivers called by the local was in 1942 and lasted two weeks.

There was, however, no hint yesterday of a settlement with the Steinla Transportation Company. Since the company operates on a mileage basis, it was explained that terms of the other settlements would not apply. A company representative said last night the firm works under different runs and that an agreement is still pending.

Hearing Is Planned

A NLRB hearing will be held Monday at 10 a. m. in the Post Office Building here on the union's dispute with the Celanese Corporation of America. The union, Stutzman said, is seeking a contract for some 15 drivers employed on trucking operations of the company here. Workers at the plant are represented by Local 1874, TWUA, CIO.

The six-week strike virtually shut off liquor deliveries here for a month and has curtailed supplies of candy, clothing, tobacco and all sundries.

The union also announced yesterday that the C. D. Kenny and Kenneweg Wholesale Grocery companies have granted an additional 10 cents an hour to some 40 drivers and warehousemen, bringing the rate to $1 an hour. The new rate will be effective until January 31, 1947, Stutzman said.

A contract has also been signed with the National Biscuit Company, the union said, which provides $44.24 weekly for drivers on a 48 hour week and $33 a week for warehousemen for a 40 hour week. The wage, retroactive to September 1, will be effective until May 1, 1948.

WARSAW, Poland—(AP)—Premier Edward Osubka-Morawski and Vice-Premier Wladyslaw Gomulka, with spades in hand, joined a group of workers clearing ruins from Warsaw streets. They afterward received certificates from the president of their trade union group, saying they had done their duty as citizens in helping clean up Warsaw.

EMERGENCY BED—A solution to the guest room problem is a new mattress-bed which is inflated for sleeping and can be stowed away on the closet shelf. You take the mattress made of cotton, coated with neoprene, lay it on the floor and blow it up with a vacuum cleaner blower attachment. It can also be blown up with a hand pump and in cases of emergency, by mouth. Though the 11-pound mattress and pillow are one piece, they are inflated separately, so that each section can be adjusted to the desire of the sleeper. If it becomes soiled from an outdoor trip it can be cleaned with the garden hose or washed in the bathtub.

Cream Sauce

For the beginner here are some pointers for making a good cream sauce. First, to avoid lumpiness, see that the fat and flour are thoroughly blended before adding liquid and then stir constantly while cooking. Second, use added seasoning such as minced onion, parsley or a few drops of tobasco or Worcestershire sauce, to add flavor.

Macie V. Ross, Vs. Joseph P. Ross, No. 19677, Equity, in the Circuit Court, for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to secure the passage of a decree annulling the marriage of the Complainant and Defendant.

The Bill states that the couple were married on April seventh, 1946 at Cumberland, Maryland, and that the marriage was never consumated; that the Complainant was ill at the time of the marriage, and that the Defendant misrepresented both himself and his financial status to the Complainant, and that he has not been seen or heard from except once over the long distance telephone at which time he requested her to divorce him, and that the Complainant is a resident of Allegany County, Maryland, and that the Defendant also was a citizen of the state of Maryland so far as the Complainant is able to learn.

It is thereupon ORDERED this 17th day of October, 1946, by the Circuit Court, for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, that the Plaintiff cause a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, once each week for four successive weeks, before the 18th day of November, 1946, giving notification to the Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill of Complaint, and warning him to be in this Court either in person, or by solicitor on or before the 4th day of December, 1946, to show cause if any he may have why a decree ought not be passed as prayed.

BACHELOR GEOLOGIST MAY BE WORLD'S NEW "RICHEST MAN"

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—A 40-year-old Canadian bachelor, of quiet and scholarly tastes, will be the richest man in the world if current tests confirm the sensational promise of a diamond mine he discovered in the remote Shinyanga region of Tanganyika.

He is Dr. John Thorburn Williamson, Quebec-born graduate of McGill University who switched from the study of English Literature to that of Geology. A former professor described him as something of a "dud" before he turned to science.

He came to South Africa soon after leaving the university in 1922. After three years in the copper mining area of northern Rhodesia Williamson decided to work his way back to Canada. But in Tanganyika he became interested in diamonds and went prospecting in the wilds.

Strikes It Rich

His search revealed deposits which led to the opening of his mine in 1941. Today it is turning out the bulk of Tanganyika's $4,000,000 annual yield of export diamonds.

The diamond-bearing surface of the mine is eight times as great as that of the largest mine in the group at Kimberly, South Africa. Tests now are being conducted to assess the value of its central diamond "pipe" which is nearly five times larger in area than that of the world's largest diamond mine near Pretoria.

The Williamson mine now is handling 800 tons of earth daily. The biggest diamond so far found is 135 carats, and the "pipe" proper has not yet been worked.

Recently Williamson refused an offer of several million pounds sterling from De Beers Consolidated Mines Ltd.

Model Employer

Apparently little moved by the prospect of becoming the world's richest man, Williamson seldom leaves his isolated property, where he has established an unusually high standard of living for his 6,000 African workers. He spends largely from his profits in setting up better medical, housing, health and recreation facilities for those connected with the enterprise.

Factory Smoke Used To Improve Crops

NEW YORK (AP) — Factory smoke can be used to grow bigger crops of vegetables, says the American Russian Institute for Cultural Relations with the Soviet Union.

The smoke was used as a kind of "air fertilizer" to supply more carbon dioxide in the air of a hothouse. Plants take carbon dioxide from the atmosphere for growth.

The smoke was fed from the furnace of an industrial plant to a reservoir, and then piped into a hothouse containing flowers and vegetables.

The Russians said the plants developed and blossomed more quickly, that production increased and that the quality of vegetables improved. An installation covering 1,800 square yards of enclosed soil on a state farm near Moscow is planned the Institute adds.

The amethyst is also known as the bishops' stone because of its wide use in bishops' rings.

200 Answer House Ad

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The Worcester Sunday Telegram carried a classified advertisement offering for rent "a beautiful new five-room house, sun porch and steam heat; concrete garage, two hen coops and garden land."

Next morning, the owner reported, 200 home hunters called at the place snarling traffic and creating general confusion. It was rented to a man who arrived at 7 a. m.

BACHELOR GEOLOGIST MAY BE WORLD'S NEW "RICHEST MAN"

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, (AP)—A 40-year-old Canadian bachelor, of quiet and scholarly tastes, will be the richest man in the world if current tests confirm the sensational promise of a diamond mine he discovered in the remote Shinyanga region of Tanganyika.

He is Dr. John Thorburn Williamson, Quebec-born graduate of McGill University who switched from the study of English Literature to that of Geology. A former professor described him as something of a "dud" before he turned to science.

He came to South Africa soon after leaving the university in 1933. After three years in the copper mining area of northern Rhodesia Williamson decided to work his way back to Canada. But in Tanganyika he became interested in diamonds and went prospecting in the wilds.

Slumping Commodity And Livestock Prices Keep Market On Downgrade

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)—Slumping commodity and livestock prices helped keep today's stock market on the downgrade although liquidating pressure never was pronounced.

Declines of one to three points were widespread in the forenoon with dealings slow after an active opening. A few "thin" issues dipped five to six. Extreme recessions were trimmed in the majority of cases at the close. Transfers of 1,310,000 shares compared with 1,650,000 Wednesday.

The strong American Woolen issues of the previous session stumbled, with the preferred certificates down 5¼ at 165¾, the preferred 3⅝ at 165⅝ and the common 1½ at 52⅝.

Prominent casualties were du Pont, off 5½ at 177½; Union Pacific 4¾ at 118¼, Allied Chemical four at 159⅛, United States Steel 1⅞ at 70, Chrysler two at 82, Montgomery Ward 1¾ at 70 and American Telephone 1¼ at 173⅜.

Others on the retreat were Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, United States Rubber, Goodrich, Woolworth, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, American Smelting, Union Carbide, Eastman Kodak, Philip Morris, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania Railroad, Chesapeake and Ohio and Atlantic Coast Line.

Firestone Tire enjoyed a late rally in the wake of a $1 extra dividened and emerged with a net advance of one half at 63¼. Pepsi-Cola added two at 26⅞, American Can one at 84, Caterpillar Tractor one at 65 and Southern Railway one half at 39.

On the offside in the Curb were Electric Bond and Share, Consolidated Textile, Cities Service and Northern States Power "A." Turnover here was 360,000 shares versus 510,000 yesterday.

Rail issues sank back to around two-year lows in the bond market.

United States governments advanced as much as 5-32ds of a point in the over-the-counter market, with the Victory Loan 2 1-2s of December '67-'72 up the outside at 102 9-32 bid. The same issue sold in the exchange at 102 11-32, up 6-32.

Sales totaled $4,360,000, against $5,750,000 Wednesday.

Slumping Commodity And Livestock Prices Keep Market On Downgrade

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)—Slumping commodity and livestock prices helped keep today's stock market on the downgrade although liquidating pressure never was pronounced.

Declines of one to three points were widespread in the forenoon with dealings slow after an active opening. A few "thin" issues dipped five to six. Extreme recessions were trimmed in the majority of cases at the close. Transfers of 1,310,000 shares compared with 1,650,000 Wednesday.

The strong American Woolen issues of the previous session stumbled, with the preferred certificates down 5¼ at 165¾, the preferred 3⅝ at 165⅝ and the common 1½ at 52⅜.

Prominent casualties were du Pont, off 5½ at 177½; Union Pacific 4¾ at 118¼, Allied Chemical four at 159½, United States Steel 1⅞ at 70, Chrysler two at 82, Montgomery Ward 1⅜ at 70 and American Telephone 1¼ at 173⅞.

Others on the retreat were Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, United States Rubber, Goodrich, Woolworth, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, American Smelting, Union Carbide, Eastman Kodak, Philip Morris, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania Railroad, Chesapeake and Ohio and Atlantic Coast Line.

Firestone Tire enjoyed a late rally in the wake of a $1 extra dividened and emerged with a net advance of one half at 63¼. Pepsi-Cola added two at 26⅞, American Can one at 84, Caterpillar Tractor one at 65 and Southern Railway one half at 39.

On the offside in the Curb were Electric Bond and Share, Consolidated Textile, Cities Service and Northern States Power "A." Turnover here was 360,000 shares versus 510,000 yesterday.

Rail issues sank back to around two-year lows in the bond market.

United States governments advanced as much as 5-32ds of a point in the over-the-counter market, with the Victory Loan 2 1-2s of December '67-'72 up the outside at 102 9-32 bid. The same issue sold in the exchange at 102 11-32, up 6-32.

Sales totaled $4,360,000, against $5,750,000 Wednesday.

Plans Outlined For $100,000 Frostburg Plant

Holding Company Will Be Set Up To Handle Sale Of Bonds

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, Oct. 17—A definite plan of action was established last night as the preliminary step towards the construction of a new $100,000 building to house a $250,000 industrial plant in the city, at a meeting of a citizens' committee and officials of the Michael Berkowitz Company at City Hall.

William B. Yates, chairman of the local committee, presided. The following items were listed to be included in the agreement to be drawn and signed by both company officials and local men who will be granted the necessary authority.

The title to the building will be transferred to the Michael Berkowitz Company on completion with an $80,000 mortgage, held by the local group against the building and the Berkowitz Company.

The money will be raised by the sale of bonds to the extent of at least $80,000 and, in addition, $20,000 of these bonds will be purchased by the Berkowitz Company.

A holding company will be formed here to be known as the Frostburg Industrial Corporation. This suggested name is still subject to change. The local corporation will issue and sell the bonds.

The Berkowitz Company will assume responsibility for constructing the building, supplying complete plans with its architect supervising.

The money received from the bonds will be paid to the company to defray construction costs on a quarterly basis, contingent on progress of construction. When completed the title will be transferred and the mortgage drawn.

Three months will be the time limit set on raising the funds by the sale of bonds. The period dating from the time the agreement is signed by both groups.

Plans Outlined For $100,000 Frostburg Plant

Holding Company Will Be Set Up To Handle Sale Of Bonds

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, Oct. 17——A definite plan of action was established last night as the preliminary step towards the construction of a new $100,000 building to house a $250,000 industrial plant in the city, at a meeting of a citizens' committee and officials of the Michael Berkowitz Company at City Hall.

William B. Yates, chairman of the local committee, presided. The following items were listed to be included in the agreement to be drawn and signed by both company officials and local men who will be granted the necessary authority.

The title to the building will be transferred to the Michael Berkowitz Company on completion with an $80,000 mortgage, held by the local group against the building and the Berkowitz Company.

The money will be raised by the sale of bonds to the extent of at least $80,000 and, in addition, $20,000 of these bonds will be purchased by the Berkowitz Company.

A holding company will be formed here to be known as the Frostburg Industrial Corporation. This suggested name is still subject to change. The local corporation will issue and sell the bonds.

The Berkowitz Company will assume responsibility for constructing the building, supplying complete plans with its architect supervising.

The money received from the bonds will be paid to the company to defray construction costs on a quarterly basis, contingent on progress of construction. When completed the title will be transferred and the mortgage drawn.

Three months will be the time limit set on raising the funds by the sale of bonds. The period dating from the time the agreement is signed by both groups.

The Michael Berkowitz company will pay interest at the rate of two per cent annually with the interest date beginning from the date of issue.

Bonds will be retired on a 15 year plan commencing three years after issue. The Berkowitz Company retains the right to begin retiring bonds before the three year period, if so desired. Interest will be paid semi-annually.

The land is an outright grant and is located on the swimming pool road. Approximately 130,000 square feet will be deeded to the company for the construction of the plant.

The local group, headed by Yates, is comprised of E. Irvin Prichard, secretary; Mayor Marshall Skidmore, Edward J. Ryan, Noel Spier Cook, William S. Jenkins, Ira Langeluttig, Robert Karlowa, A. Charles Stewart, Robert Bachman, Arthur Milleman, Russell Price and Thomas Elias.

Body Of American Airman Recovered

SINCHANG, China, Oct. 15 (AP)—(Delayed) (AP)—The bones of an unidentified American airman who died in a B-29 crash in March, 1945, were brought here today by mountain-scaling United States Army searchers who said months of work remained to prove or disprove reports that some survivors were living as slaves of the district's savage Lolo tribesmen.

The body brought in today was the fourth recovered from the wreck on 14,400-foot Mount Liangpao, southwest of here. Six other crew members are missing, but what happened to them is still speculative, said Lt. Col. Herbert Wurtzler, who headed the search party.

The hunt began last month after missionaries relayed a report from native sources that five white men were seen working as slaves of the tribesmen. Thus far nothing further has developed.

Col. Wurtzler said there were four other known B-29 crashes in the general area and he intended to check all of them.

Supreme Court Considers Plural Marriage Case

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—The Supreme Court today took under consideration a question whether the federal government may stamp out a religious group's practice of plural marriage.

Counsel for a "fundamentalist" cult urged the court to throw out the conviction in Salt Lake City of six men who practiced what the group called "celestial" marriage. They were convicted of violating the Mann White Slave Act.

A Justice Department attorney, Robert T. Hitchcock, replied that the convictions were justified "under morality standards set by sentiments and feelings of the civilized world."

Cult members contended they obeyed a mandate from God when—already having legal wives—they took one or more girls and women as their brides in cult marriages. The federal government, they said, has no power to regulate any form of marriage.

The Supreme Court heard argument in the same case in October, 1945, but was unable to reach a decision. Reargument was ordered.

STRAWS IN THE WIND

BROADWAY

By DANTON WALKER

Pat O'Brien, the movie actor, had to switch cars before he could attend the funeral of Mrs. William O'Dwyer, wife of New York's Mayor. His driver, it seems, belonged to the wrong union . . . It is John Roosevelt, not James, who is expected to head a huge dress concern here, at a reputed $75,000 a year. John is now working in California for the corporation that took over Klein's famous New York store . . . A Broadway restaurateur says the latest shipment of meat to restaurants here was of such a low grade and such a high price that practically all cafe owners refused to buy it . . . Now that the meat crisis will soon be a thing of the past, industry's biggest worry is the shortage of soap. One shortage leads to another; if the soap supply isn't increased very soon it will seriously hamper the output of rubber and wool . . . At last, Jay Burton cracks, meat will be on the table instead of under it.

CIO President Phil Murray's favorite Washington hotel hires non-union fillers-in . . . Representative Vito Marcantonio sending circular appeals to Democratic and American Labor Party voters, asking them to serve as "volunteer" clerical workers on his campaign . . . LaGuardia due for another hop abroad, this time to France, Belgium and Holland. . . . Russian Communism will get a real jolt when Jewish and Catholic organizations here make a joint statement regarding the growth of anti-Semitism and anti-Catholicism behind the iron curtain . . . Civilian employes of the U. S. Government in Berlin being quietly shadowed and checked in an attempt to uncover source of news leaks . . . Big shots in the juke box industry here to be called for questioning on the recent murder of the Chicago recording king, Leahm Kelly . . . Maybe it's just wishful thinking, but Wall St. looks for a post-election boom.

Alfred Vanderbilt and Jerry Brady framing a big sports announcement concerning a racing deal . . . Biggest laugh at the Philadelphia opening of "Park Avenue" came when Leonore Corbett inadvertently lost her undies during one of the important scenes. . . . Harry Cushing 4th, who recently inherited a goodly share of the Vanderbilt millions, is financing a newly-formed public relations firm . . . Peppino, El Morocco's clown prince, has acquired five 1946 model cars, which he'll take to Argentina . . . Danny Kaye tells Chicago friends he'll join Parade Picture Producers. . . Taylor Henry, ex-A.P. correspondent in England, France, North Africa and the Middle East (and a West Point graduate), to lecture on conditions in Europe, observed first hand . . . A New York picture frame shop reports that popularity of military heroes the past year were in this order: MacArthur, Eisenhower, Admiral George Dewey, Teddy Roosevelt in his Rough Rider uniform and Gen. Pershing.

Gertrude Stein's unfinished project, an opus on the life of Thaddeus Stevens, to be published. . . Gertrude Lawrence's autobiography, already popular in Paris, to be translated into Danish and Spanish . . . Pearl Bailey at last to get a picture break, in Paramount's "Variety Girl." . . . The sumptuous revival of Oscar Wilde's "Lady Windermere's Fan" another feather in the cap of the Broadway theatre . . . "Mr. Peebles and Mr. Hooker," while it didn't quite make the grade, is at least intelligent, interesting and well-acted . . Nice to note that George Jean Nathan, who has been covering plays since 1907, found Eugene O'Neill's monumental drama of Man and His Illusion, "The Iceman Cometh," not only O'Neill's best play but one of the best written in the English language.

Openings, openings, more openings! Henry (Red) Allen, whose pappy had the Original Dixieland Band in New Orleans, into Kelly's Stable Friday. . . . The Hotel Astor's Columbia Room going in for the classic, with concert violinist Edith Lorand and ensemble making sweet music to eat by . . . Cabot and Dresden, sensational young dance team, at Bill Miller's Embassy, with Mexico's Chucho Martinez and his dazzling Cuban wife, Estelita . . . The Delmonico Hotel planning a smart supper club. . . . Starting Oct. 21, the Joe Mooney Quartet at Dixon's to broadcast weekly over ABC's coast-to-coast network, with Paul Whiteman acting as regular master of ceremonies . . . Ann Lane introducing Saturday afternoon rumba sessions at the Club 400 on Fifth Avenue . . . A new show, believe it or not, at Leon & Eddie's.

For vice president: Dick Haymes or Van Johnson. That would take care of the first voters in the feminine contingent.

The United States prepared pet-food bill, according to statistics from the Department of Commerce, totals $100,000,000 annually. That's a lot of dough, says the man at the next desk, to throw to the dogs.

Millions Ask For It FIRST

Mrs. Filbert's Margarine was preferred by millions of women even before table spreads got scarce. Since then millions of other women found out about its sweet, fresh-tasting flavor—so different from ordinary margarine—and they, too, ask for Mrs. Filbert's first.

So at times these isn't enough Mrs. Filbert's for all. If your grocer says: "Sorry, no Mrs. Filbert's," please ask for it next time.

They coax flavor! Mrs. Filbert's Salad Dressing and Mayonnaise are so delicate—so smooth they actually coax out—never smother . . . even the hidden flavor of fruits and vegetables.

Soapless wonder liquid for faster, easier, cleaner dishwashing . . .

Cuts grease better than soap!
Cleans cleaner than soap! Glim surrounds grease, removes it faster, better. Dishes, glassware, silver sparkle without drying. No dishpan ring to scrub away.

You save money!
Tests prove Glim washes more dishes for less money—costs you less per dishwashing than a big box of many leading soap flakes. 50 dishwashings to a bottle.

Money back!
. . . if you don't like Glim better than soap! Just send bottle with unused portion to Antara Products, 230 Park Ave., New York 17, N. Y., and we'll gladly refund the purchase price plus postage.

By ELSIE ROBINSON

(Registered U. S. Patent Office)

COMMUNISM ISN'T

You may not realize it but I am peering at you across a pile of letters as tall as myself. Which is plenty tall.

All the letters are on one subject I wrote an article. It was directed at those reds and parlor pinks who insist on calling me Tovarich or Comrade.

Now I have nothing against the word Comrade in itself. It's a good word and I wish we could all live up to it. But not in the sense which my communicants used it—namely, a Communistic title.

I am not a Communist and any time anyone assumes that I am, I get so mad my ears blister. So I got mad in an article and now everything that has been booted out of Moscow is pointing the error of my ways. So I think it's time for a little homely talk on the subject.

In the first place, Communism is "the little man who isn't there." Communism ceased to be a practical performance quite some years ago when the big boys took over.

It started with a fine theory—a theory which any free minded person would have applauded. For years the working class of Russia had suffered intolerable abuse. From the time I was a child I read of that abuse and applauded the struggle against it. I have never been a communist nor wanted to be one but I was enthusiastic in my admiration for the brave men and women who eventually helped free Russia.

Everything would have been perfectly lovely if Russia had stayed free. But there is something about our strange human nature that demands to be kicked around. And for the last few years Russia has been kicked. And plenty.

The Communists are not running Russia for the Communists no longer exist, save in name. Joe Stalin is running Russia and when Joe shuffles off I suppose Molotov, that big pout, will take his place, or somebody like him.

But the poor dear Communists don't even know that they have ceased to exist.

They are a pest in this country and in every other land they have inhabited. My No. 1 gripe is not against Communism, however. It is against the sappy Americans who allow them to strut their stuff in our free institutions and sneer at us the while we give them all the advantages of democracy.

Mind you, I don't think too highly of democracy either. It's a nice name but we're a long way from living up to it. However we're making a fairly decent stab at it and I have faith enough in this nation to believe that we'll some day arrive at our goal.

But I have no use whatever for the species of bum which migrates from Moscow or other Russian way stations and then proceeds to gripe about America. America has her faults and very great ones. But at that she is so much better than what is going on behind the iron curtain that the contrast is pitiful.

In his book, "Generation of Vipers," Philip Wylie has this to say: "Apologists for Communism explain that it broke down in Russia because Russia was not an industrial nation. That specious argument needs no rebuttal. The Soviet itself has furnished it. Communism broke down because men are not created equal, do not work equally, cannot be paid equally, do not have equal social or financial deserts, will not produce their best efforts in a society that is not competitive, cannot be made to work long or hard or with brilliance if they are not permitted to own, possess, buy or sell or do business with each other."

That is the simple and devastating truth about Communism. It no longer exists and it wasn't so hot when it did. Those who are aware of current conditions in Russia know that the Russians lead about as miserable an existence as human beings ever experienced. They do not enjoy even a margin of the freedom for which their fathers died, which is a very great shame. For the Russian in himself is a brave and sturdy person and would probably make a neat job of his life if the big bullies would let him alone.

There is the truth about Russia. But it isn't half as shameful as the truth about America. Without a word of protest we let these miserable creatures into our shores and grant them all our privileges and allow them to spit in our faces. Then we send them automobiles or stand by and watch them kill Mikhailovich. Are we men or are we mice?

I'll give you one guess.

FINDERS NOT KEEPERS—Billy Sullivan, left, and Edward Tiggett examine gold and silver coins found in an earthenware jug they uncovered on a landscaping project at Mobile, Ala. Although the face value of the United States coins is only $150, the dates are prior to the Civil War which increases their value as collector items. Under law, the cache must be turned over to the Treasury Department.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Weak, Watery Blood Blamed for Making Men and Women Look and Feel Older THAN THEIR YEARS

How do you feel at the end of a day? Is that old time pep and drive lacking? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Thousands now regaining glowing good looks and vitality through the release of vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a general run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

By ELSIE ROBINSON

(Registered U. S. Patent Office)

COMMUNISM ISN'T

You may not realize it but I am peering at you across a pile of letters as tall as myself. Which is plenty tall.

All the letters are on one subject. I wrote an article. It was directed at those reds and parlor pinks who insist on calling me Tovarich or Comrade.

Now I have nothing against the word Comrade in itself. It's a good word and I wish we could all live up to it. But not in the sense which my communicants used it—namely, a Communistic title.

I am not a Communist and any time anyone assumes that I am, I get so mad my ears blister. So I got mad in an article and now everything that has been booted out of Moscow is pointing the error of my ways. So I think it's time for a little homely talk on the subject.

In the first place, Communism is "the little man who isn't there." Communism ceased to be a practical performance quite some years ago when the big boys took over.

It started with a fine theory—a theory which any free minded person would have applauded. For years the working class of Russia had suffered intolerable abuse. From the time I was a child I read of that abuse and applauded the struggle against it. I have never been a communist nor wanted to be one but I was enthusiastic in my admiration for the brave men and women who eventually helped free Russia.

Everything would have been perfectly lovely if Russia had stayed free. But there is something about our strange human nature that demands to be kicked around. And for the last few years Russia has been kicked. And plenty.

The Communists are not running Russia for the Communists no longer exist, save in name. Joe Stalin is running Russia and when Joe shuffles off I suppose Molotov, that big pout, will take his place, or somebody like him.

But the poor dear Communists don't even know that they have ceased to exist.

They are a pest in this country and in every other land they have inhabited. My No. 1 gripe is not against Communism, however. It is against the sappy Americans who allow them to strut their stuff in our free institutions and sneer at us the while we give them all the advantages of democracy.

Mind you, I don't think too highly of democracy either. It's a nice name but we're a long way from living up to it. However we're making a fairly decent stab at it and I have faith enough in this nation to believe that we'll some day arrive at our goal.

But I have no use whatever for the species of bum which migrates from Moscow or other Russian way stations and then proceeds to gripe about America. America has her faults and very great ones. But at that she is so much better than what is going on behind the iron curtain that the contrast is pitiful.

In his book, "Generation of Vipers," Philip Wylie has this to say: "Apologists for Communism explain that it broke down in Russia because Russia was not an industrial nation. That specious argument needs no rebuttal. The Soviet itself has furnished it. Communism broke down because men are not created equal, do not work equally, cannot be paid equally, do not have equal social or financial deserts, will not produce their best efforts in a society that is not competitive, cannot be made to work long or hard or with brilliance if they are not permitted to own, possess, buy or sell or do business with each other."

That is the simple and devastating truth about Communism. It no longer exists and it wasn't so hot when it did. Those who are aware of current conditions in Russia know that the Russians lead about as miserable an existence as human beings ever experienced. They do not enjoy even a margin of the freedom for which their fathers died, which is a very great shame. For the Russian in himself is a brave and sturdy person and would probably make a neat job of his life if the big bullies would let him alone.

There is the truth about Russia. But it isn't half as shameful as the truth about America. Without a word of protest we let these miserable creatures into our shores and grant them all our privileges and allow them to spit in our faces. Then we send them automobiles or stand by and watch them kill Mikhailovich. Are we men or are we mice?

I'll give you one guess.

Under law, the cache must be turned over to the Treasury Department.

Advice To The Lovelorn

English Bride Thinks Her American Husband Isn't Doing Right By Her

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

I'm very much afraid that many of the girls who married American boys overseas are bound to be sadly disappointed when they get over here.

In common with most young people whose mental picture of these United States has been built up out of movies and hearsay, they have an exaggerated idea of the ease and gayety with which life flows by in this country. To this already overbright vision were added the tales of life back home told them by homesick GIs, in whose yearning memories anything American was at least twice as desirable as could be found anywhere else.

And so, no doubt, most of these girls unconsciously thought that in such a glamorous country the usual problems that beset ordinary mortals just didn't exist. Then when they get here and settle down, perhaps in a small and definitely unglamorous town, and the handsome boy in the smart American uniform turns into an ordinary husband, trouble begins.

This is the point, of course, at which the marriage either starts downhill, with the bride beginning secretly to fill a penny bank for passage back home, or, if she has good common sense and genuinely loves her American husband, she accepts that fact that marriage problems are the same the world over, and must be met and solved accordingly.

I wonder which of these two things will be the final choice of the English bride who writes:

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

"I am an English war bride, and have been in this country six months.

"Back in England, my husband promised me my own home, and also to show me the sights here. So far I have neither. I am living with his mother. My husband works from three to eleven-thirty at night and therefore I don't get around much. I want him to give up his job and find another where he can work days, so that nights we can have some fun instead of my spending my evenings with an old lady. But he refuses to do so, saying he has a good job which pays well and is steady. I also want him to get out of his mother's house and be by ourselves. Don't you think he owes me this for coming to this country?

"My husband has a cousin who is about my age who has offered to show me around. When I told him this, he got very angry and forbade me to go with him or any other man, saying I should be satisfied with his taking me out Saturdays and Sundays. But I am very lonesome the rest of the week.

"Don't you think I'm right, and that my husband should do everything to please me? After all, I have come a long way and I think he owes it to me.

"ENGLISH BRIDE"

Here's how I feel about your problem, "English Bride." I agree that you and your husband should have a home of your own, and I also think that unless he is willing to change his job so that you can have evenings together, he should be fair enough to let his friends and relatives take you about and give you some good times. Of course you are lonely, the way things are now. He should understand that and do everything he can to see that you are happy.

But I think, to, that you need to change your own attitude a bit and stop thinking that you're "owed" anything for leaving home and coming to this country. You made your own free choice, knowing that if you married this man it would mean you would make your home in his own land. Nobody "owes" you anything, except what any husband owes any wife in the way of kindness, thoughtfulness and consideration, and you owe him the same.

Aren't you making some woman friends with whom you could go about and have a good time? It's easy to make new acquaintances here, and if you'd like me to suggest some definite ways to do this, send me your name and address and I'll write you a personal letter. I can't see any reason why you should have to sit home every evening with only your husband's mother for company.

So brace up now, and approach your problem from a happier angle. If you don't bore and irriate your husband by constantly talking about what he owes you, but be as cheerful and good-natured as you can, you may gradually win him around to your point of view.

Army Mothers Ask Voice In Peace Deliberations

EMPORIA, Kas., Oct. 17 (AP)—The National Convention of United States Army Mothers has asked President Truman and congressional leaders for representation in world peace deliberations.

A resolution asked that the Army mother chosen "be included in whatever capacity we would be best fitted to serve."

"Since the mothers of the world are the ones who suffer most when war comes, we should have a voice in making a lasting peace," the resolution added.

Grant Asked To Explain Nazi Execution Protest

ATLANTA, Oct. 17 (AP) — Hugh Grant, former United States minister to Albania, and now an employe of the Veterans' Administration, has been called in by his superiors to explain the sending of a telegram to President Truman protesting the execution of 11 Nazi war criminals.

Vaux Owen, state manager for the Veterans' Administration, announced that Grant had been ordered to report here for a conference tomorrow shortly after A. H. Fuller, district commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Valdosta announced, that he had demanded that Grant be fired for sending the telegram.

Grant is chief of the administration's Vocational Guidance Center in Valdosta.

LaGuardia Says Truman "Has Joined Opposition"

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 17 (AP)—Fiorello H. LaGuardia, director of UNRRA and former New York mayor, said Wednesday night that President Truman "has joined the opposition" in his "about face" on meat price controls.

LaGuardia who described himself, as a liberal, came here to address the National Aviation Clinic, and spoke over radio network (ABC).

"There is something more than meat involved," LaGuardia said in his address. "The budget of every American family has been hit. The cost of living is leaping beyond the reach of the average family. The lid on profiteering is off— the bars of control are down.

"There is more even than the cost of living involved. It is the science of government. The first industrial strike in our country has forced a complete surrender of government."

Woonsocket Hospital Is 147 Times Blessed

WOONSOCKET, R. I. (AP) — The Woonsocket Hospital thinks this is some kind of record:

In one month 147 babies were delivered, an average of about five per day.

That's enough in itself, hospital officials said, but 17 infants were delivered in one 24-hour period and, at another time, seven in four hours.

Vet Houses Family In Remodeled Bus

FRONT door to Carters' home. Please step to the rear.

CHILDREN help with the dishes, mother uses electric washer and pop cooks on four-burner range in Carters' bus home. They can move easily any time they get the idea.

SEATTLE (AP) — When Harold Carter got back from South Pacific service as a naval lieutenant commander, he took one look at the houses they wanted to sell for $10,000-and-up and said (it says here) "Nuts!"

So, to house Mrs. Carter and Craig, 8; Susan, 5, and Karen, 4, Carter went out and bought a 30-year-old Los Angeles Railway bus for $1,800; sold the seats back to the company for $100 and found 28 cents under the cushions. Taking out the seats and installing the sort of housekeeping-equipment you find in trailers set him back $200.

Carter, freight-traffic agent for the Union Pacific railroad at Los Angeles, says that "when prices go down, we'll build a house; meantime this does, wonderfully."

The Carters arrived in Seattle in their wheeled residence on a vacation trip, having crowded the old bus around 40 miles an hour most of the way, with a gasoline consumption of 7½ miles to the gallon.

But what pleases Carter most is the tax situation. He pays $11.85 a year on his sedan, which sits home in a garage, and only $6.90 on his bus-house.

The engine occupies part of the rear bedroom and the beds are nested around it. Cooking is done on a four-burner butane gas stove; there's a sink, refrigerator, small electric washing machine, plus ample closets and storage space. The bus has venetian blinds, homey curtains and fluorescent lighting.

The Giacobini-Zinner comet is moving away from us now at the rate of many miles per second. Even it couldn't hang around long enough to find out just who was going to win that marathon World Series.

Gold Fever Rages In Australian Town

NORSEMAN, Australia—(AP)—The whole of this small town in western Australia has been pegged out with gold-mining claims by excited citizens after discovery of gold in the backyard of a cafe.

Paul Tomich, who made the strike while sinking a well for Mick Mavros, cafe owner, quietly tried to buy the cafe, but Mavros wouldn't sell. Eventually Tomich persuaded the owner of the vegetable market next door to permit him to sink a shaft; mining laws will permit him to tunnel into the cafe yard.

Bulls are color blind, and charge at the matador's cape only because it is moving.

Doc Gets Socked For Not Being Quick

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dr. Richard Weinberger had to go to a hospital for treatment himself after calling on a patient here.

A 19-year-old son of the patient complained that the doctor had not responded quickly enough, then punched him in the mouth, cutting his lip.

Dr. Weinberger continued attending the youth's mother, despite his cut lip, then went to a hospital and had his lip treated. He had been unable to answer the call earlier because he had been on a confinement case.

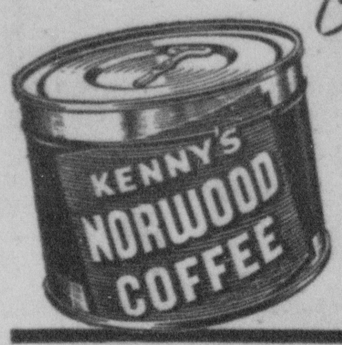

Russians View Fashions

LEIPZIG, (AP) — The wives of Russian officers and uniformed women soldiers of the Red army wearing rows of medals were among the most interested spectators at the fashion show held by Berlin and Leipzig firms recently. Some of the Russian women brought their husbands to see mannequins parade nearly two hundred models ranging from beach-suits to evening gowns across a flower-lined runway leading out from the stage of the local theater.

Woonsocket Hospital Is 147 Times Blessed

WOONSOCKET, R. I. (AP) — The Woonsocket Hospital thinks this is some kind of record:

In one month 147 babies were delivered, an average of about five per day.

That's enough in itself, hospital officials said, but 17 infants were delivered in one 24-hour period and, at another time, seven in four hours.

Early experiments in dive-bombing were conducted by U. S. Marines in 1920 in Haiti.

Vet Houses Family In Remodeled Bus

FRONT door to Carters' home. Please step to the rear.

CHILDREN help with the dishes, mother uses electric washer and pop cooks on four-burner range in Carters' bus home. They can move easily any time they get the idea.

SEATTLE (AP) — When Harold Carter got back from South Pacific service as a naval lieutenant commander, he took one look at the houses they wanted to sell for $10,000-and-up and said (it says here) "Nuts!"

So, to house Mrs. Carter and Craig, 8; Susan, 5, and Karen, 4, Carter went out and bought a 30-year-old Los Angeles Railway bus for $1,800; sold the seats back to the company for $100 and found 28 cents under the cushions. Taking out the seats and installing the sort of housekeeping equipment you find in trailers set him back $200.

Carter, freight-traffic agent for the Union Pacific railroad at Los Angeles, says that "when prices go down, we'll build a house; meantime this does, wonderfully."

The Carters arrived in Seattle in their wheeled residence on a vacation trip, having crowded-the old bus around 40 miles an hour most of the way, with a gasoline consumption of 7½ miles to the gallon.

But what pleases Carter most is the tax situation. He pays $11.85 a year on his sedan, which sits home in a garage, and only $6.90 on his bus-house.

The engine occupies part of the rear bedroom and the beds are nested around it. Cooking is done on a four-burner butane gas stove; there's a sink, refrigerator, small electric washing machine, plus ample closets and storage space. The bus has venetian blinds, homey curtains and fluorescent lighting.

The Giacobini-Zinner comet is moving away from us now at the rate of many miles per second. Even it couldn't hang around long enough to find out just who was going to win that marathon World Series.

Gold Fever Rages In Australian Town

NORSEMAN, Australia—(AP)—The whole of this small town in western Australia has been pegged out with gold-mining claims by excited citizens after discovery of gold in the backyard of a cafe.

Paul Tomich, who made the strike while sinking a well for Mick Mavros, cafe owner, quietly tried to buy the cafe, but Mavros wouldn't sell. Eventually Tomich persuaded the owner of the vegetable market next door to permit him to sink a shaft; mining laws will permit him to tunnel into the cafe yard.

Bulls are color blind, and charge at the matador's cape only because it is moving.

Doc Gets Socked For Not Being Quick

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dr. Richard Weinberger had to go to a hospital for treatment himself after calling on a patient here.

A 19-year-old son of the patient complained that the doctor had not responded quickly enough, then punched him in the mouth, cutting his lip.

Dr. Weinberger continued attending the youth's mother, despite his cut lip, then went to a hospital and had his lip treated. He had been unable to answer the call earlier because he had been on a confinement case.

Russians View Fashions

LEIPZIG, (AP) — The wives of Russian officers and uniformed women soldiers of the Red army wearing rows of medals were among the most interested spectators at the fashion show held by Berlin and Leipzig firms recently. Some of the Russian women brought their husbands to see mannequins parade nearly two hundred models ranging from beach-suits to evening gowns across a flower-lined runway leading out from the stage of the local theater.

Rainwear Tips

Hang your wet raincoat where air circulates, near a doorway and away from a radiator. Wipe off extra moisture. Store rain garments where it is cool and dry. Shake out folds and wrinkles to avoid breaks.

Marriage No Bar

LONDON, (AP)—Policewomen no longer need resign when they marry and married women can now be taken on British police forces. Maternity leave also is provided.

Clothes Hangers

Wooden or plastic hangers are better for clothes than are wire or cardboard ones. Wire hangers may rust in damp weather and stain clothing, cardboard hangers become limp.

V-IS FOR VEGETABLES

EGG POTATO PIE . . . Protein for meatless days

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Well, here we are again talking about meatless meals and since that's the way it is, we might as well make them good ones. There are plenty of vegetables to be had, they're hearty as well as health-giving. Let's eat them up.

Egg Potato Pie

6 to 8 medium potatoes, cooked and mashed	2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons fat	3 tablespoons grated cheese
1 tablespoon flour	½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup milk	Dash of pepper
4 hard-cooked eggs

Prepare well - seasoned fluffy mashed potatoes. Melt fat, remove pan from fire and blend in flour. Return to fire, add milk and stir until thickened. Line the bottom and sides of a greased shallow baking dish with about half of the mashed potatoes. Reserve one hard-cooked egg to garnish top of pie. Arrange the remaining sliced eggs on top of the mashed potatoes. Top with parsley, cheese, white sauce, salt, and pepper. Cover with remaining mashed potatoes. Brush top with milk. Bake in a moderate oven (375°) until nicely browned and thoroughly heated, about thirty minutes. Garnish top with slices of hard-cooked egg.

Savory Squash

1 hubbard squash or 3 acorn squash	2 tablespoons sugar
Salt	½ teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine	1 to 2 oranges, if desired

Cut squash in halves and remove all seeds and fibers. If hubbard squash is used, cut again into quarters or even eighths, depending upon size. Sprinkle inner surface lightly with salt. Dot surfaces with butter or margarine. Mix sugar and cinnamon and sprinkle surfaces, using half the mixture. Arrange in baking pan. Cover bottom of pan with hot water. Cover and bake until squash is tender. Remove cover, fill hollows with sections of orange. Sprinkle remaining spiced sugar over top. Brown lightly under broiler heat.

Glazed Onions—or Parsnips—or Carrots

1 to 2 pounds onions, carrots or parsnips	2 tablespoons sugar or honey
2 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine	⅛ teaspoon cinnamon or ginger
½ teaspoon salt

Wash vegetables. Parboil in boiling salted water, quickly, until tender. Drain. Melt butter or margarine in large, heavy frying pan. Add sweetening and spices. Mix. Add vegetables. Heat gently until vegetables are coated with delicate glaze. Serve at once.

Beets With Herb Sauce

6 small beets	1 tablespoon minced parsley
2 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine	1 tablespoon minced onion
½ teaspoon salt	Dash thyme and tarragon

Wash, pare, slice the beets. Add butter or margarine, salt and boiling water, just sufficient to cover. Cover. Cook quickly until tender, and water completely absorbed. Add remaining ingredients. Toss lightly and serve.

Woman Cobbler Likes Her Job

VANCOUVER, (AP)—Pretty Frances Chambers is a skillful cobbler and cannot understand why anyone should consider shoemaking an unusual occupation for women.

"I wouldn't change with any stenographer," she told an interviewer. "I like cobbling because it requires more talent than other occupations open to women and it enables me to meet so many people."

Here's That Apartment

SPRINGFIELD, (AP)—Even a free apartment won't get you a servant these days.

An advertisement appearing in the Springfield Union offered a furnished apartment with meals, telephone, radio and laundry facilities, plus a "liberal" salary and two weeks' paid vacation in return for the services of an experienced housekeeper.

There were no takers.

To Check Mildew

Have the leather gloves and purses that you tucked away in a drawer for the summer begun to gather mildew? If so, here's how to protect them. First, remove any mold that may have appeared and dry the gloves or purse thoroughly in the sun and air. Then wrap the leather items first in tissue paper, then in waxed paper, and store them in a dry place.

Baltimore Gives Allegany County Facts In Story

Publication Of Association Of Commerce Has Article On Cumberland Area

Cumberland and Allegany County is given several pages of publicity in the October issue of "Baltimore," a monthly magazine published by the Baltimore Association of Commerce. The article was prepared by Frances Stark of "Baltimore's" editorial staff in co-operation with the Association's Maryland Development Bureau.

The article describes Allegany county as the central of three mountain counties in Western Maryland, and says it is noted for its scenic and rugged beauty.

"Known to the Indians as "Oolikhanna," meaning "beautiful stream," Allegany county was the 19th territorial unit in Maryland to be established as a county. It has an area of 428 square miles, and in 1940 ranked third in population among the state's 23 counties!"

Early Development Cited

Several paragraphs are given to the early development of the county and to historic landmarks. Industries and the economic life are listed, with the Celanese, Kelly, Baltimore and Ohio and Western Maryland Railways, prominently mentioned. The Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Mill is termed "the most important industrial operation outside the Cumberland area."

Mention is also made of the hills, woods and streams, where hunting and fishing are principal outdoor sports.

In a column of "Allegany County Statistics," the following interesting facts appear:

Area: Land 426 square miles; Water 2 square miles; Total 428.

Population: (1940) Urban, 50,707; rural-farm, 6,212; rural nonfarm, 30,054; total, 86,973.

Vital Statistics; Resident Births (1945) 1,724. Resident Deaths, (1945) 939.

Agriculture: No. Farms (1945) 1,161; Gross Farm Income, $2,759,000; Principal products, Dairy products, apples, hay, corn, and wheat.

POLICE HAND OUT TICKETS WHOLESALE IN PARKING DRIVE

There were no doubts about the effectiveness of the first day of strict enforcement of Cumberland's parking regulations since most of the 80 persons who filed into police headquarters yesterday presented tickets which indicated they has parked overtime.

Police said they did not know just how they would take care of the throngs or when magistrates would complete their work if all of the persons who filed $1 bonds should appear at 9 o'clock this morning for hearings.

Several of the group were charged with parking on red lines, the docket shows, while one motorist was booked as Norman Dee, this city, who police said posted $5 bond on a charge of running through a red light at Baltimore and Centre streets Monday.

The wholesale parking ticket presentation marked the first day that a special traffic violation officer has been assigned to the downtown section.

Charles L. Hays, 49 Broadway, Freehold, N. J., will be given a hearing in trial magistrates court today on a charge of exceeding 30 miles an hour on McMullen highway at Bowling Green last night at 8:30 o'clock. He was arrested by Trooper Glen D. Folk.

Baltimore Gives Allegany County Facts In Story

Publication Of Association Of Commerce Has Article On Cumberland Area

Cumberland and Allegany County is given several pages of publicity in the October issue of "Baltimore," a monthly magazine published by the Baltimore Association of Commerce. The article was prepared by Frances Stark of "Baltimore's" editorial staff in co-operation with the Association's Maryland Development Bureau.

The article describes Allegany county as the central of three mountain counties in Western Maryland, and says it is noted for its scenic and rugged beauty.

"Known to the Indians as "Oolikhanna," meaning "beautiful stream," Allegany county was the 19th territorial unit in Maryland to be established as a county. It has an area of 428 square miles, and in 1940 ranked third in population among the state's 23 counties!"

Early Development Cited

Several paragraphs are given to the early development of the county and to historic landmarks. Industries and the economic life are listed, with the Celanese, Kelly, Baltimore and Ohio and Western Maryland Railways, prominently mentioned. The Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Mill is termed "the most important industrial operation outside the Cumberland area."

Mention is also made of the hills, woods and streams, where hunting and fishing are principal outdoor sports.

In a column of "Allegany County Statistics," the following interesting facts appear:

Area: Land 426 square miles; Water 2 square miles; Total 428.

Keyser And Allegany To Clash Tonight

Mineral County Eleven Conceded Edge In Contest

Powers Returns To AHS Lineup; Game Is Set For 8 o'Clock

RECORDS OF TEAMS

112—Totals	25	Lost 3, Tied 1
Won 5, Lost 1

Defeated three times and tied once, Allegany High School's football team will make its fourth attempt to crash the victory column when it plays host to Coach Fred "Tack" Clark's Keyser High School eleven tonight at 8 o'clock in the local stadium.

If comparative scores mean anything, Keyser should enter the game as the favorite because the Mineral Countians trounced Ridgeley, 25-0, after the same Ridgeley eleven battled the Campers to a 7-7 deadlock.

Keyser comes to town with a record of five wins and one loss, the setback coming at the hands of Charles Town, which is going great guns this season and has run over all opposition to date. Keyser's victims have been the Alumni, Masontown, Fort Ashby, Thomas and Ridgeley.

With the return of Tommy Powers, the Campers hope to make a better showing than they did against Hagerstown last Friday night when the Hub City eleven steam-rolled the Campers to the tune of 38-0. Allegany has been woefully weak on offense and has scored only two touchdowns in the four games played to date. The Campobello eleven has yielded 89 points.

Dan Staley will referee the game, which should attract another large crowd to the hilltop stadium.

The probable starting lineups:

Pos.	KEYSER	ALLEGANY

KEEP YOUR HEAD DOWN— Place-kicking in football is an art and like golf there are two salient rules. Number one is: "Keep your eye on the ball!" Number two is: "Follow through!" Here are two classy exponents of the kick ing art, showing how to do it. They are Rabbit Smith, left, and George Jernigan of the University of Georgia. The boys have combined to kick 10 straight points after touchdown.

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., Oct. 17—Big George Hott, leading scorer of the Potomac Valley Conference, added two more touchdowns to his growing total today as Moorefield High School's Yellow Jackets scored their third straight victory in the seven-team circuit over Ridgeley High School. The score was 18-6.

Five minutes after the game got under way Hott went over for the first score from the five after the Jackets had marched 64 yards. Hott scored again in the third period, toting the ball over from the eight.

Ridgeley drove 45 yards for its lone touchdown in the second period with Joe Moss toting the leather over from the five.

Bill Harman scored Moorefield's third touchdown in the fourth quarter when he skirted end for the final 15 yards. Prior to this play Harman contributed two ten-yard runs.

The Blackhawks threatened in the last period and advanced to the one foot line. An offside penalty, however, set the visitors back and they were unable to penetrate Moorefield's defense in four plays. Hott then booted the Jackets out of danger. Standing in the end zone, the Moorefield fullback, punted the ball 75 yards downfield. Hott also featured with a 35-yard run.

We don't have any idea how much game will be taken but there's going to be plenty of shooting in Prince Georges county when the upland season opens next month. A total of 6,145 hunting licenses have been issued and this figure is almost double last year's figures.

LaSalle will engage in its 163rd football game tonight when the Explorers meet the Bedford Bisons in the Pennsylvania town. Since 1928 when the sport was introduced at the North Centre Street school by Art Slocum, of Keyser, LaSalle teams have won 71, lost 74 and played 17 tie games. The only undefeated team was coached by Denny Shay, former Notre Dame player, in 1930. This team won eight games and tied one.

The Explorers' record was 71-71 last season prior to the game which Bedford won by the score of 33 to 0.

Bob Ramazotti, graduate of the Altoona, Pa., sandlots, who once starred for Midland in the Bi-State Baseball League, is among the Brooklyn Dodgers who are to receive new automobiles as gifts from the Brooklyn management for their fine performance in the National League pennant race this season. Ramazotti, an infielder, played utility roles for the Dodgers, and will rejoin Brooklyn when spring training gets under way.

One of the best stories about boxers came out of Detroit the other day. It concerned two Mexican boxers, who should know by this time the purpose of the "little red boxes" all over Detroit.

The boxers Edward Serratoes, 25, and Chchu Quiz, 23, both of Mexico City, were touring the city when they stopped and investigated one of the "little red boxes."

Then everything happened!

The pair saw more fire engines and policemen that they'll ever want to see again. They were released from jail when their manager explained the Mexicans could not speak or read English—and never saw a fire box.

Johnny Neun, the one-time W.M.I. League soccer and basketball official, who takes over the reins as manager of the Cincinnati Reds next season, made the last unassisted triple play in the majors while playing first base for Detroit. The triple killing made by the popular Baltimorean was executed May 31, 1927, ending a game in which Detroit defeated Cleveland, 1-0.

Jimmie Joyce, son of Carl "Jerry" Joyce, who was the Caseys' No. 1 rooter during the seven years that the local independent basketball team played host to the leading pro road teams, is quarterbacking the Altoona Catholic High School quint this season. Young Joyce was on the Altoona basketball squad that played LaSalle here last season.

Bill Keegan, LaSalle cage mentor, recalls that Jimmie graduated from team mascot to his present position.

"He's the lad who helped to beat us in Altoona last season," Keegan recalled. "And did he rib me after we lost that one!"

Jimmie's dad is employed by the Burroughs Adding Machine Company in the Pennsylvania city.

Fort Hill High's Reserves Defeat Romney Silents

Hahn Uses 42 Players As Locals Top Deaf School, 26 To 6

Fort Hill High School's Reserves defeated the West Virginia School for the Deaf, of Romney, W. Va., yesterday afternoon at the local stadium by the score of 26 to 6.

It was the first test of the season for the Reserves, who are scheduled to play their next game with Beall High School in Frostburg on November 2.

The winners registered two touchdowns in the first period and marked up one six-pointer each in the second and third stanzas. Coach William P. Hahn used 42 players in the game.

Tucker ran thirty yards for a touchdown and Dicken passed to Moler for another score. The other scores were made by Nicholson and Lewis. Myers accounted for the two extra points.

The Romney eleven's lone score came in the second period and was made by Fullback Sowards.

Fort Hill reeled off nine first downs while the visitors were credited with nine.

LaSalle Rooters Going To Bedford In Special Buses

Students Of Four Schools To Make Trip; Hyndman Band Will Play

Four special buses carrying LaSalle rooters will leave from Carroll Hall, North Centre street, today at 6:30 p. m., for Bedford, Pa., where the Explorers are scheduled to play the Bedford High School Bisons tonight at 8 o'clock.

The buses have been chartered for the students of Catholic Girls Central High School, St. Mary's High School, Ursuline Academy and LaSalle.

LaSalle's grid squad headed by Brother Gregory, athletic director, and Coach John J. Long, will leave by bus at 5:15 o'clock from the school.

The Hyndman High School Band, directed by Mr. Miller, will represent LaSalle at the game. The services of the band have been donated and the 80 members will make the trip by buses, playing before the game gets under way and between the halves Bedford's 80-piece band also will play during the intermission.

Bedford is the favorite in tonight's game. The Bisons, coached by Bruce M. Fisher, have won five games and lost one against Pennsylvania foes. LaSalle's record is two losses and two tie games.

GRAFTON WILL PLAY FORT HILL IN SATURDAY NIGHT GAME HERE

McKinney's Team Cancels West Fairmont Game Over Leskovar Case

Grafton High School, coached by Ran McKinney, one-time Davis and Elkins College all-around athlete, will play Fort Hill High School's football team tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the local stadium.

Fort Hill had an open date this weekend but got a break when Grafton cancelled its scheduled game with Fairmont West Side High School's Polar Bears, objecting to the latter school using Bill Leskorar, whom many West Virginia schools claim is ineligible.

After McKinney made arrangements to play Fort Hill here, Coach William P. Hahn received a telephone call from "Biz" Dawson, coach of the Polar Bears, who made an effort to get Fort Hill to fill in for Grafton. It was too late, however, as the Sentinels had reached an agreement to bring the Taylor county eleven here.

Grafton is a member of the West Virginia "Big Ten" and always ranks among the leading scholastic grid teams on the Mountain State. Fort Hill will play a return game in Grafton next year, Hahn said.

Addition of Grafton gives Fort Hill a nine-game schedule for this season. The Sentinels have played four games, winning three and tying one, and have yet to play Grafton, Ridgeley, Hagerstown, Johnstown Catholic and Allegany.

Turning On The Heat

Football takes full charge of the sporting scene for the next six or seven weeks with the late world series finally shoveled out of the road. The heat will be turned on one or more spots on Saturday where unbeaten teams collide, for, as the Avonian Bard once remarked, "When two men ride a horse, one must ride behind."

The chief entries in this select group include Army vs. Columbia, Texas vs. Arkansas, and Tennessee vs. Alabama. But there are also several unbeaten teams who will have rough afternoons protecting their stainless shields. In this list you will find Northwestern facing Michigan in a Big Nine feature, LSU meeting up with Georgia Tech., UCLA hooked in with California and Georgia up against Oklahoma A and M.

Army and Columbia will offer one of the more interesting contests of a busy day, for here is the meeting of two spectacular offensive machines who know how to move along the ground or fly through the air. Together these two unbeaten squads will present six or eight fine backs including Blanchard, Davis, Tucker, Rossides, Kusserow and Kasprzak. Army's backs have this decided advantage. They face a thinner defense for Columbia must withstand stronger Army ends and a better Army line. This should be a high scoring game on both sides. It is a game that would attract 75,000 at the Yankee Stadium, where it might as well have been booked in the first place.

Tennessee and Alabama offer the most important game of the day. Tennessee should finish the season unbeaten, if Bob Neyland's young men can get by Frank Thomas and Alabama. If Alabama should win, the Chimson Tide still has a rugged fight on ahead with Georgia, not to mention one or two others. Tennessee has already beaten Duke and Georgia Tech, two of the best in the South. This party at Knoxville will be something to see, with Harry Gilmer tested to the limit. Texas has no soft touch against Arkansas, especially if Smackover Scott is ready to run again.

The Roll Call

ARMY-COLUMBIA—a giddy occasion that is sure to be loaded with action. Army has the more experienced backfield, the better ends and a slightly stronger line. Just how much the bitter Michigan battle removed from Army won't be known until after whistle call.

TENNESSEE-ALABAMA—two of the most famous of all bowl rivals—both strong. Alabama away to a slow start with Tennessee off and away at top speed. The early illness of Frank Thomas and a new set of assistant coaches hasn't helped Alabama's cause. With the game played at Knoxville, Tennessee is given a slight edge, although Gilmer, on a big day, can overturn any prophetic apple cart.

GEORGIA-OKLAHOMA A and M—the meeting between Georgia's Trippi and the Aggies, Fenimore had shaped up as one of the prize collisions of the season. But Fenimore has been hurt most of the season so far, and the terrific beating Oklahoma's Aggies received from Texas hasn't provided any psychological uplift. The pick is Georgia.

MICHIGAN - NORTHWESTERN—Michigan has lost only to Army in a nip-and-tuck affair, which proved the Wolverines' strength. A hard game, but the pick is Michigan.

LSU-GEORGIA TECH—a hard afternoon for unbeaten LSU. Little to choose, but LSU is given the nod, playing at home.

TEXAS-ARKANSAS—two of the stronger Southwestern squads. Texas has shown the most powerful scoring team in the country so far, with well over 100 points piled up against Missouri, Oklahoma A. and M. and Oklahoma, all good squads. Texas gets the vote.

NAVY-NORTH CAROLINA—another close affair, with Tom Hamilton's somewhat battered squad facing a tough schedule. We'll call this one a toss-up.

INDIANA-IOWA — Bo McMillin has routed Indiana back on the winning track. But this tall, big Iowa squad gave Michigan a rousing fight. The edge to Iowa.

UCLA-CALIFORNIA—the southern section of California should continue its winning march. UCLA.

We like Dartmouth over Brown, Tulane over Auburn, Holy Cross over Syracuse in three hard, close meetings.

YALE-CORNELL—two good scoring teams. This will be one of Yale's hardest tests. This time the Yale line should carry the needed margin.

PRINCETON-RUTGERS — the first of all the college rivals. For one of the few times in the last 75 years, Rutgers gets the call.

POLYNESIAN FAVORED IN $25,000 HANDICAP

LAUREL, Md., Oct. 17. (AP)—With only half a dozen probable starters expected, Mrs P. A. B. Widener's Polynesian loomed a solid choice today to win the 33rd running of the $25,000 Washington Handicap at Laurel Park Saturday.

The Washington, at a mile and a quarter, is the outstanding feature for older horses at the Laurel 25-day meeting. On the same program will be the $7,500 added Governor Ogle Steeplechase Handicap at two miles.

Polynesian, winner of the 1945 Preakness, will pack 119 pounds this week, compared to 126 pounds when he equalled the world's record of 1.09 1-5 for six furlongs in winning the Pageant Handicap at Atlantic City recently.

Five horses expected to oppose Polynesian are J. Graham Brown's Seven Hearts, H. Guy Bedwell's Prognosis and Hammerlock, W. L. Huntley's Top Reward, and C. S. Popovitz's Love Sonnet. Seven Hearts defeated Prognosis by three lengths yesterday in the Laurel Stakes at one mile. Prognosis had captured the mile and a quarter Maryland handicap last Saturday.

Football Group Booms Cavanaugh For State Post

"Bobby" Recommended For National Federation Representative

John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, president of the Western Maryland and Eastern West Virginia Football Officials' Association, was recommended as Maryland representative to the National Federation of State Hgh School Associations, at a meeting of the two-state association last night at the K. of C. home.

Dan Staley, well known local football official, made the motion, that in view of the Maryland Physical Education Association's affiliation with the Natonal Federation of State High School Associations and in view of the fact that the only high schools in Maryland complying with the national federation's code are in this area, that the federation representative from this state be John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, president of the Western Maryland and Eastern West Virginia Football Officials' Association.

The motion was seconded by John Angellatta and passed.

The present state representative resides in Hagerstown but Hagerstown and Baltimore schools play intercollegiate rules and do not comply with the national federation's code.

Thomas G. Ferguson, Baltimore, heads the Maryland Physical Education Association and Arthur G. Ramey, of the Allegany County Board of Education, has supervision over Western Maryland counties.

Play situations in recent games were discussed and interpretations given at last night's meeting.

Student's Hand Blown Off By Explosion At Uniontown Grid Game

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 17 (AP)—Explosion of a fireworks torpedo in the bleachers between halves at the Uniontown-South Union High School football game here tonight blew one student's hand off and injured eight other boys.

Uriah Barnhart, Jr., 16, of Uniontown High School, was holding the torpedo when it went off. His right hand, hanging by a shred of skin at the wrist, was amputated at Uniontown hospital.

Two other boys, who said they thought a bomb had fallen on them, fainted and fell 12 or 15 feet from the top of the bleachers.

Keyser And Allegany To Clash Tonight

Mineral County Eleven Conceded Edge In Contest

Defeated three times and tied once, Allegany High School's football team will make its fourth attempt to crash the victory column when it plays host to Coach Fred "Tack" Clark's Keyser High School eleven tonight at 8 o'clock in the local stadium.

If comparative scores mean anything, Keyser should enter the game as the favorite because the Mineral Countians trounced Ridgeley, 25-0, after the same Ridgeley eleven battled the Campers to a 7-7 deadlock.

Keyser comes to town with a record of five wins and one loss, the setback coming at the hands of Charles Town, which is going great guns this season and has run over all opposition to date. Keyser's victims have been the Alumni, Masontown, Fort Ashby, Thomas and Ridgeley.

With the return of Tommy Powers, the Campers hope to make a better showing than they did against Hagerstown last Friday night when the Hub City eleven steam-rolled the Campers to the tune of 38-0. Allegany has been woefully weak on offense and has scored only two touchdowns in the four games played to date. The Campobello eleven has yielded 89 points.

Dan Staley will referee the game, which should attract another large crowd to the hilltop stadium.

The probable starting lineups:

KEEP YOUR HEAD DOWN— Place-kicking in football is an art and like golf there are two salient rules. Number one is: "Keep your eye on the ball!" Number two is: "Follow through!" Here are two classy exponents of the kick ing art, showing how to do it. They are Rabbit Smith, left, and George Jernigan of the University of Georgia. The boys have combined to kick 10 straight points after touchdown.

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., Oct. 17—Big George Hott, leading scorer of the Potomac Valley Conference, added two more touchdowns to his growing total today as Moorefield High School's Yellow Jackets scored their third straight victory in the seven-team circuit over Ridgeley High School. The score was 18-6.

Five minutes after the game got under way Hott went over for the first score from the five after the Jackets had marched 64 yards. Hott scored again in the third period, toting the ball over from the eight.

Ridgeley drove 45 yards for its lone touchdown in the second period with Joe Moss toting the leather over from the five.

Bill Harman scored Moorefield's third touchdown in the fourth quarter when he skirted end for the final 15 yards. Prior to this play Harman contributed two ten-yard runs.

The Blackhawks threatened in the last period and advanced to the one foot line. An offside penalty, however, set the visitors back and they were unable to penetrate Moorefield's defense in four plays. Hott then booted the Jackets out of danger. Standing in the end zone, the Moorefield fullback, punted the ball 75 yards downfield. Hott also featured with a 35-yard run.

Franklin 7, Petersburg 6

PETERSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 17—Coach Dana Propst's Franklin High School Panthers scored their first victory of the season in the Potomac Valley Conference by edging the Petersburg High Vikings here today by the score of 7-6.

Franklin scored its touchdown in the first period on Quarterback Sites's pass to Hoover. Sites passed to Shobe for the extra point.

A 22-yard pass, Smith to Dolly, put Petersburg in a scoring position in the fourth period and Bob Hill went over from the five-yard line. Hill's line buck for the point was stopped.

Tommy Beisel, Cumberland's "Fighting Brakeman," decisioned Danny Booth, of Eckhart, in a four-round bout at Altoona, Pa., the other night and the Altoona paper reports: "The fans liked the battle."

The show turned out to be a "quickie" with the other four bouts on the program ending in knockouts. One wound up in the sixth round, another in the third, the third in two heats and the quickest K.O. came in two minutes of the opening stanza.

Several former amateur boxers who have turned professional have sent out feelers on their chances of regaining their simon pure status. The answer is an emphatic "No." Once an amateur jumps to the pros he can't return, according to the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union.

We don't have any idea how much game will be taken but there's going to be plenty of shooting in Prince Georges county when the upland season opens next month. A total of 6,145 hunting licenses have been issued and this figure is almost double last year's figures.

LaSalle will engage in its 163rd football game tonight when the Explorers meet the Bedford Bisons in the Pennsylvania town. Since 1928 when the sport was introduced at the North Centre Street school by Art Slocum, of Keyser, LaSalle teams have won 71, lost 74 and played 17 tie games. The only undefeated team was coached by Denny Shay, former Notre Dame player, in 1930. This team won eight games and tied one.

The Explorers' record was 71-71 last season prior to the game which Bedford won by the score of 33 to 0.

Bob Ramazotti, graduate of the Altoona, Pa., sandlots, who once starred for Midland in the Bi-State Baseball League, is among the Brooklyn Dodgers who are to receive new automobiles as gifts from the Brooklyn management for their fine performance in the National League pennant race this season. Ramazotti, an infielder, played utility roles for the Dodgers, and will rejoin Brooklyn when spring training gets under way.

One of the best stories about boxers came out of Detroit the other day. It concerned two Mexican boxers, who should know by this time the purpose of the "little red boxes" all over Detroit.

The boxers Edward Serratoes, 25, and Chchu Quiz, 23, both of Mexico City, were touring the city when they stopped and investigated one of the "little red boxes."

Then everything happened!

The pair saw more fire engines and policemen that they'll ever want to see again. They were released from jail when their manager explained the Mexicans could not speak or read English—and never saw a fire box.

Johnny Neun, the one-time W.M.I. League soccer and basketball official, who takes over the reins as manager of the Cincinnati Reds next season, made the last unassisted triple play in the majors while playing first base for Detroit. The triple killing made by the popular Baltimorean was executed May 31, 1927, ending a game in which Detroit defeated Cleveland, 1-0.

Jimmie Joyce, son of Carl "Jerry" Joyce, who was the Caseys' No. 1 rooter during the seven years that the local independent basketball team played host to the leading pro road teams, is quarterbacking the Altoona Catholic High School quint this season. Young Joyce was on the Altoona basketball squad that played LaSalle here last season.

Bill Keegan, LaSalle cage mentor, recalls that Jimmie graduated from team mascot to his present position.

"He's the lad who helped to beat us in Altoona last season," Keegan recalled. "And did he rib me after we lost that one!"

Jimmie's dad is employed by the Burroughs Adding Machine Company in the Pennsylvania city.

Hahn Uses 42 Players As Locals Top Deaf School, 26 To 6

Fort Hill High School's Reserves defeated the West Virginia School for the Deaf, of Romney, W. Va., yesterday afternoon at the local stadium by the score of 26 to 6.

It was the first test of the season for the Reserves, who are scheduled to play their next game with Beall High School in Frostburg on November 2.

The winners registered two touchdowns in the first period and marked up one six-pointer each in the second and third stanzas. Coach William P. Hahn used 42 players in the game.

LaSalle Rooters Going To Bedford In Special Buses

Students Of Four Schools To Make Trip; Hyndman Band Will Play

Four special buses carrying LaSalle rooters will leave from Carroll Hall, North Centre street, today at 6:30 p. m., for Bedford, Pa., where the Explorers are scheduled to play the Bedford High School Bisons tonight at 8 o'clock.

The buses have been chartered for the students of Catholic Girls Central High School, St. Mary's High School, Ursuline Academy and LaSalle.

LaSalle's grid squad headed by Brother Gregory, athletic director, and Coach John J. Long, will leave by bus at 5:15 o'clock from the school.

The Hyndman High School Band, directed by Mr. Miller, will represent LaSalle at the game. The services of the band have been donated and the 80 members will make the trip by buses, playing before the game gets under way and between the halves Bedford's 80-piece band also will play during the intermission.

Bedford is the favorite in tonight's game. The Bisons, coached by Bruce M. Fisher, have won five games and lost one against Pennsylvania foes. LaSalle's record is two losses and two tie games.

GRAFTON WILL PLAY FORT HILL IN SATURDAY NIGHT GAME HERE

McKinney's Team Cancels West Fairmont Game Over Leskovar Case

Grafton High School, coached by Ran McKinney, one-time Davis and Elkins College all-around athlete, will play Fort Hill High School's football team tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the local stadium.

Fort Hill had an open date this weekend but got a break when Grafton cancelled its scheduled game with Fairmont West Side High School's Polar Bears, objecting to the latter school using Bill Leskorar, whom many West Virginia schools claim is ineligible.

After McKinney made arrangements to play Fort Hill here, Coach William P. Hahn received a telephone call from "Biz" Dawson, coach of the Polar Bears, who made an effort to get Fort Hill to fill in for Grafton. It was too late, however, as the Sentinels had reached an agreement to bring the Taylor county eleven here.

Grafton is a member of the West Virginia "Big Ten" and always ranks among the leading scholastic grid teams on the Mountain State. Fort Hill will play a return game in Grafton next year, Hahn said.

Addition of Grafton gives Fort Hill a nine-game schedule for this season. The Sentinels have played four games, winning three and tying one, and have yet to play Grafton, Ridgeley, Hagerstown, Johnstown Catholic and Allegany.

Turning On The Heat

Football takes full charge of the sporting scene for the next six or seven weeks with the late world series finally shoveled out of the road. The heat will be turned on one or more spots on Saturday where unbeaten teams collide, for, as the Avonian Bard once remarked, "When two men ride a horse, one must ride behind."

The chief entries in this select group include Army vs. Columbia, Texas vs. Arkansas, and Tennessee vs. Alabama. But there are also several unbeaten teams who will have rough afternoons protecting their stainless shields. In this list you will find Northwestern facing Michigan in a Big Nine feature, LSU meeting up with Georgia Tech., UCLA hooked in with California and Georgia up against Oklahoma A and M.

Army and Columbia will offer one of the more interesting contests of a busy day, for here is the meeting of two spectacular offensive machines who know how to move along the ground or fly through the air. Together these two unbeaten squads will present six or eight fine backs including Blanchard, Davis, Tucker, Rossides, Kusserow and Kasprzak. Army's backs have this decided advantage. They face a thinner defense for Columbia must withstand stronger Army ends and a better Army line. This should be a high scoring game on both sides. It is a game that would attract 75,000 at the Yankee Stadium, where it might as well have been booked in the first place.

Tennessee and Alabama offer the most important game of the day. Tennessee should finish the season unbeaten, if Bob Neyland's young men can get by Frank Thomas and Alabama. If Alabama should win, the Chimson Tide still has a rugged fight on ahead with Georgia, not to mention one or two others. Tennessee has already beaten Duke and Georgia Tech, two of the best in the South. This party at Knoxville will be something to see, with Harry Gilmer tested to the limit. Texas has no soft touch against Arkansas, especially if Smackover Scott is ready to run again.

The Roll Call

ARMY-COLUMBIA—a giddy occasion that is sure to be loaded with action. Army has the more experienced backfield, the better ends and a slightly stronger line. Just how much the bitter Michigan battle removed from Army won't be known until after whistle call.

TENNESSEE-ALABAMA—two of the most famous of all bowl rivals—both strong. Alabama away to a slow start with Tennessee off and away at top speed. The early illness of Frank Thomas and a new set of assistant coaches hasn't helped Alabama's cause. With the game played at Knoxville, Tennessee is given a slight edge, although Gilmer, on a big day, can overturn any prophetic apple cart.

GEORGIA-OKLAHOMA A and M—the meeting between Georgia's Trippi and the Aggies, Fenimore had shaped up as one of the prize collisions of the season. But Fenimore has been hurt most of the season so far, and the terrific beating Oklahoma's Aggies received from Texas hasn't provided any psychological uplift. The pick is Georgia.

MICHIGAN - NORTHWESTERN—Michigan has lost only to Army in a nip-and-tuck affair, which proved the Wolverines' strength. A hard game, but the pick is Michigan.

LSU-GEORGIA TECH—a hard afternoon for unbeaten LSU. Little to choose, but LSU is given the nod, playing at home.

TEXAS-ARKANSAS—two of the stronger Southwestern squads. Texas has shown the most powerful scoring team in the country so far, with well over 100 points piled up against Missouri, Oklahoma A. and M. and Oklahoma, all good squads. Texas gets the vote.

NAVY-NORTH CAROLINA—another close affair, with Tom Hamilton's somewhat battered squad facing a tough schedule. We'll call this one a toss-up.

INDIANA-IOWA—Bo McMillin has routed Indiana back on the winning track. But this tall, big Iowa squad gave Michigan a rousing fight. The edge to Iowa.

UCLA-CALIFORNIA—the southern section of California should continue its winning march. UCLA.

We like Dartmouth over Brown, Tulane over Auburn, Holy Cross over Syracuse in three hard, close meetings.

YALE-CORNELL—two good scoring teams. This will be one of Yale's hardest tests. This time the Yale line should carry the needed margin.

PRINCETON-RUTGERS — the first of all the college rivals. For one of the few times in the last 75 years, Rutgers gets the call.

POLYNESIAN FAVORED IN $25,000 HANDICAP

LAUREL, Md., Oct. 17. (AP)—With only half a dozen probable starters expected, Mrs. P. A. B. Widener's Polynesian loomed a solid choice today to win the 33rd running of the $25,000 Washington Handicap at Laurel Park Saturday.

The Washington, at a mile and a quarter, is the outstanding feature for older horses at the Laurel 25-day meeting. On the same program will be the $7,500 added Governor Ogle Steeplechase Handicap at two miles.

Polynesian, winner of the 1945 Preakness, will pack 119 pounds this week, compared to 126 pounds when he equalled the world's record of 1.09 1-5 for six furlongs in winning the Pageant Handicap at Atlantic City recently.

Five horses expected to oppose Polynesian are J. Graham Brown's Seven Hearts, H. Guy Bedwell's Prognosis and Hammerlock, W. L. Huntley's Top Reward, and C. S. Popovitz's Love Sonnet. Seven Hearts defeated Prognosis by three lengths yesterday in the Laurel Stakes at one mile. Prognosis had captured the mile and a quarter Maryland handicap last Saturday.

Football Group Booms Cavanaugh For State Post

John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, president of the Western Maryland and Eastern West Virginia Football Officials' Association, was recommended as Maryland representative to the National Federation of State High School Associations, at a meeting of the two-state association last night at the K. of C. home.

Dan Staley, well known local football official, made the motion, that in view of the Maryland Physical Education Association's affiliation with the Natonal Federation of State High School Associations and in view of the fact that the only high schools in Maryland complying with the national federation's code are in this area, that the federation representative from this state be John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, president of the Western Maryland and Eastern West Virginia Football Officials' Association.

The motion was seconded by John Angellatta and passed.

The present state representative resides in Hagerstown but Hagerstown and Baltimore schools play intercollegiate rules and do not comply with the national federation's code.

Thomas G. Ferguson, Baltimore, heads the Maryland Physical Education Association and Arthur G. Ramey, of the Allegany County Board of Education, has supervision over Western Maryland counties.

Play situations in recent games were discussed and interpretations given at last night's meeting.

Student's Hand Blown Off By Explosion At Uniontown Grid Game

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 17 (AP)—Explosion of a fireworks torpedo in the bleachers between halves at the Uniontown-South Union High School football game here tonight blew one student's hand off and injured eight other boys.

Uriah Barnhart, Jr., 16, of Uniontown High School, was holding the torpedo when it went off. His right hand, hanging by a shred of skin at the wrist, was amputated at Uniontown hospital.

Two other boys, who said they thought a bomb had fallen on them, fainted and fell 12 or 15 feet from the top of the bleachers.

Gobblers Rated Slight Favorite Over Maryland

VPI And Terps To Clash At College Park Tonight

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 17 (AP)—Despite a terrific 49-0 lacing at the hands of William and Mary last week, the Virginia Tech Gobblers were rated a slight edge today for their Southern Conference football game with University of Maryland here tomorrow night.

Although comparative scores don't mean a thing in this mixed up season, Maryland was defeated 33-0 last week by North Carolina—a team tied 14-14 by the Gobblers earlier in the year.

Maryland enters the game needing a psychological hoist after losing two in a row to Richmond and North Carolina, and VPI likewise is vengeful after the William and Mary licking.

The Old Liners plan to use their one-two punch as employed against Bainbridge, but Coach Clark Shaughnessy will reverse the order by starting his heavier eleven with Tommy Mont at quarterback. He will follow with the lighter outfit headed by Vic Turyn.

Mont's passing stood out in the N. C. game, when he completed 16 of 25 attempts. Chapel Hill observers said it appeared amazing that Maryland never scored, but explained that most of the tosses were of the short, flat variety, and were thrown in Maryland territory. Mont was the only one of three Maryland punters who did not have a kick blocked by North Carolina's charging line.

Virginia Tech, in good trim, arrived here in time for a light workout late today. Coach Jimmy Kitts is stressing his aerial game for Maryland.

This will be the 24th battle in the series beginning in 1897, with VPI holding a 12-11 edge by reason of an upset victory over Maryland last fall.

The probable starting lineups:

Pos.	VPI	MARYLAND
LE	Hopkins	Simler
LT	Maskas	Goodman
LG	Barbour	Chovanes
C	Burns	Kurz
RG	Cooke	Fritz
RT	Ballard	Bishop
RE	Wilson	Shaughnessy or Davis
QB	T. Johnson	Mont
LH	Walton	Seibert
RH	Beard	Gambino
FB	R. Smith	Wright

Kickoff—8 p. m. (EST)

ASKS RELEASE — Veteran coach of the St. Louis Cardinals and rapped by some newsmen for his coaching tactics in the first game of the world series, Mike Gonzales, 55 - year - old Cuban, has asked for his release as coach of the Cards to go back to Cuba where he has winter baseball connections. Gonzales has been connected with U. S. baseball for 34 years. He was criticized for not telling Enos Slaughter to try for an inside-the-park homer on a triple he hit in the first game. But he did send Slaughter on home with the winning run in the final game.

Gobblers Rated Slight Favorite Over Maryland

VPI And Terps To Clash At College Park Tonight

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 17 (AP)—Despite a terrific 49-0 lacing at the hands of William and Mary last week, the Virginia Tech Gobblers were rated a slight edge today for their Southern Conference football game with University of Maryland here tomorrow night.

Although comparative scores don't mean a thing in this mixed up season, Maryland was defeated 33-0 last week by North Carolina—a team tied 14-14 by the Gobblers earlier in the year.

Maryland enters the game needing a psychological hoist after losing two in a row to Richmond and North Carolina, and VPI likewise is vengeful after the William and Mary licking.

The Old Liners plan to use their one-two punch as employed against Bainbridge, but Coach Clark Shaughnessy will reverse the order by starting his heavier eleven with Tommy Mont at quarterback. He will follow with the lighter outfit headed by Vic Turyn.

Mont's passing stood out in the N. C. game, when he completed 16 of 25 attempts. Chapel Hill observers said it appeared amazing that Maryland never scored, but explained that most of the tosses were of the short, flat variety, and were thrown in Maryland territory. Mont was the only one of three Maryland punters who did not have a kick blocked by North Carolina's charging line.

Virginia Tech, in good trim, arrived here in time for a light workout late today. Coach Jimmy Kitts is stressing his aerial game for Maryland.

This will be the 24th battle in the series beginning in 1897, with VPI holding a 12-11 edge by reason of an upset victory over Maryland last fall.

The probable starting lineups:

Pos.	VPI	MARYLAND
LE	Hopkins	Simler
LT	Mackay	Goodman
LG	Barbour	Chovanes
C	Burns	Kurz
RG	Cooke	Fritz
RT	Ballard	Bishop
RE	Wilson	Shaughnessy or Davis
QB	T. Johnson	Mont
LH	Walton	Seibert
RH	Beard	Gambino
FB	R. Smith	Wright

ASKS RELEASE — Veteran coach of the St. Louis Cardinals and rapped by some newsmen for his coaching tactics in the first game of the world series, Mike Gonzales, 55 - year - old Cuban, has asked for his release as coach of the Cards to go back to Cuba where he has winter baseball connections. Gonzales has been connected with U. S. baseball for 34 years. He was criticized for not telling Enos Slaughter to try for an inside-the-park homer on a triple he hit in the first game. But he did send Slaughter on home with the winning run in the final game.

POINT KICKER — Stanley "Stutch" Szafran, who served 3½ years in the service with the 13th Airforce, is Potomac State's point kicking specialist this season. He has made four conversions in seven tries. Stanley comes from Benwood, W. Va., where he played fullback four years for Union High School. He had the honor of playing with West Virginia All-Stars when they tangled with the Ohio All-Stars in 1941. "Stutch" stands only five feet two but he weighs 160, showing that he is one big bundle of muscle. He played with the Catamounts in 1941.

Steelers Hang Up Attendance Mark

101,680 See Pittsburgh Pros In Three Home Games To Date

By DUKE MORAN

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17. (AP)—The onetime pushover Pittsburgh Steelers, a major surprise in the young National Football League race, already have smashed all-time home attendance records—largely due to the magic touch of Coach Jock Sutherland.

Despite a power strike which cut off public transportation to their three home games to date, the Steelers have performed before 101,630 fans—now tops in league home attendance.

That surpasses by nearly 13,000 the best season's attendance in 13 previous years.

All three home games have been sellouts and in at least the first game the drawing power of Sutherland's name was the principal reason, for the fans had only a dismal record in 1945 by which to remember the Steelers. This year the squad has won two, lost one, and tied one.

With two games to go at home—against the Washington Redskins Nov. 3 and the Philadelphia Eagles Nov. 17—the Steelers ownership is confident the 1942 record "will be doubled" and nearly trebled if the weather is right and enough temporary seats can be obtained.

Mounties Battle Temple Tonight

West Virginia Will Be Met By Owls In Final Game Under Arcs

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17 (AP)—Temple's Owls and West Virginia's Mountaineers, reaching the halfway football season mark with each showing a black mark in the lost column, clashed here tomorrow night in the Owls' last arc light game of the year.

West Virginia's lone loss this year was at the hands of Pitt. The Mountaineers show victories over Otterbein, Waynesburg and Washington-Lee.

Spearheading the West Virginians will be Jimmy Devonshire, a Pennsgrove (N. J.) product, who'll start at right halfback.

KEISER GRABS LEAD IN KNOXVILLE GOLF

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 17. (AP)—Despite a run of three holes on which he lost four strokes to par, Herman Keiser of Akron, Ohio, fired a one-under-par 71 today to take a one-stroke lead at the halfway mark of the $10,000 Knoxville Invitational Golf Tournament.

Keiser, winner of the famed Augusta Masters last April but who hasn't won a tournament since, duplicated his 35-36 nine of yesterday for a 36-hole total of 142, one notch ahead of Clayton Heafner of Chicago, who had today's best round with a 69.

Heafner, who had a 74 yesterday, had nines of 34 and 35 today to pull into second place at 143, one stroke ahead of Dick Metz of Chicago and Henry Ransom of Ravina, Ill. Metz fired a second round 70 while Ransom posted even par 72 for the second straight day.

E. J. "Dutch" Harrison of Chicago, who led the opening round with a 68, soared to 77 today for a fifth place tie with Jim Ferrier of Chicago.

LEGAL BLOCKS INJURE KNEES, CLIPPING IS BAD ON ANKLES, NEALE SAYS

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17 (AP)—Take it from Greasy Neale, the authors of football's rule book ought to do a little clipping.

Clipping, that is, of the rules. Especially the one that bans clipping from behind in a football game.

"There's a rule," says the veteran Philadelphia Eagles coach, "that was passed to prevent injuries. Instead, it has increased them."

Clipping is defined by the rule books and officials as diving into the back of an opposing player, or dropping the body across the back of the player's legs. It carries a 15-yard penalty from the point of the foul, and has been called frequently this year both in the National Football League and in college games.

"Clipping can injure ankles, but more bad knees come from legal blocks," Neale contends.

"The legal blocks must come from the front or the side—that means the legs are hit in the direction the knee won't bend. Knee injuries result."

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 17—On my desk is a photograph of 22-year-old Jean Porter, who won a contest held by Ohio exhibitors, as the most beautiful girl in their state. Just to show you how things work in this town, Jean was given a trip to Hollywood and as a matter of courtesy, 20th Century-Fox gave her a test. Jean was honestly eager to be a movie actress, so she went to the actors lab and worked for a few months, then she came back to 20th and made another test. This one Boss Zanuck saw.

"If Director Henry King agrees with me," said Darryl, "she could be Catana." So Jean is now making still another test for the fiery, untamed girl whom Tyrone Power loves in "Captain From Castile." Darryl tells me that all of "Captain From Castile" will be made in Mexico. Henry King is already there completing arrangements for accommodations for 400 people.

You can't talk to Frank Sinatra five minutes without his telling you what a great dancer Gene Kelly is and how much he taught him in "Anchors Aweigh". Gene returns Frankie's enthusiasm for he has just sold M-G-M an original story called "Take Me Out To the Ball Game", and when he gave the script to Arthur Freed he told Arthur it was meant for the old reliable Kelly-Sinatra team. There has never been anyone on the Metro lot less temperamental than that Kelly boy, who is liked by directors, writers and publicity men, which is a wonderful thing—it makes everyone's life so much easier.

"What about David Selznick's deal with Vivien Leigh? Won't there be trouble if she goes to M-G-M?" I was asked. Not at all. Alexander Korda owned half of the popular Vivien's contract and he sold his interest in her to M-G-M when he was associated with that company. Vivien owns three stories which she is bringing with her to discuss as her first for M-G-M. The reason Larry Olivier signed with Garson Kanin and William Goetz is because Garson is one of his best friends—moreover Billy's tie-up with Arthur Rank probably had some bearing on Olivier's decision to do his picture making at Universal-International.

Lily Pons looked just like a little girl when I met her at the broadcasting station Sunday. She was all dressed up in a red dress and said she was nervous because she was getting ready to go on the Edgar Bergen show. I met her again with her husband, Andre Kostelanetz after the show, and she was so good on the air she was no longer nervous. She had a spot in "Carnegie Hall" for Boris Morros and Bill Le Baron and will be starred in "Carmen From Kenosha" for them when it starts in February. Andre will make with the pretty music for her singing. Lily was in two RKO musicals a few years ago, but either she didn't have the right stories or wasn't photographed properly, for her pictures were never as good as her singing.

I couldn't put "The Miracle of the Bells" down until I finished it. The author, Russell Janney, must have been inspired when he wrote this book about a high powered press agent, a little Pennsylvania priest, and a girl who made one motion picture and died before it was released. Through the ringing of the church bells in Coaltown, her home, for five days, many amazing events happened, which are considered miracles by the poor coalminers. I promise you'll love the book, and I believe it will make another "Going My Way" for there is comedy and human interest as well as spiritual uplift.

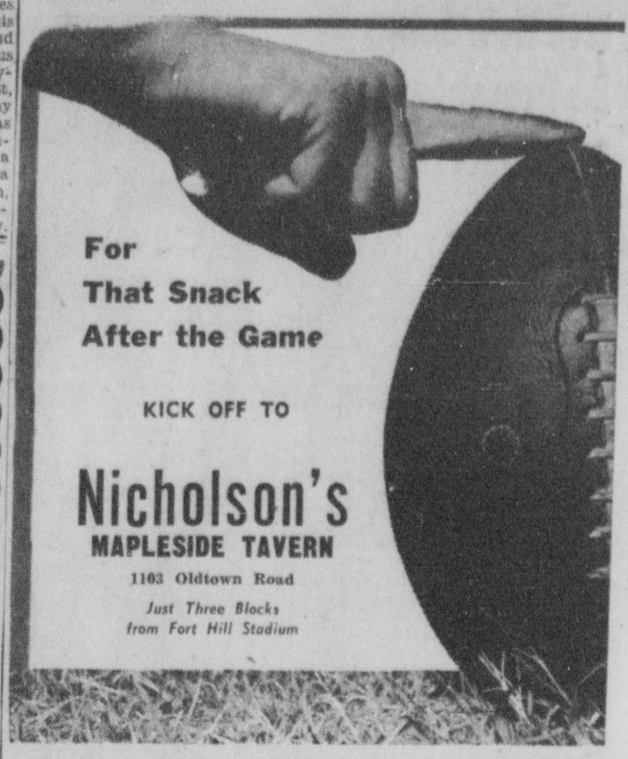

The war experiences of Kenny Morgan, who has just joined the Henry Rogers publicity office, are fascinating. Kenny, who was with the 7th Army in Heidelberg, told me that he was assigned to write the press stories of Fritz Kuhn, former domineering Bund leader. Kuhn is now a beaten man, says Kenny. He sits with his head in his hands and says in a meek voice, "May I have a cigarette please, captain?"—All his bravado is gone and he bears little resemblance to the Kuhn who used to scream at those big meetings. He is at Asberg prison where so many of the former diplomats are interned. Kenny also covered General Patton's funeral, the Nurenberg trial, and many other important events. He is married to Lucille Ball's sister Cleo.

Telephoned to Hedy Lamarr and she told me she was on a ladder when the phone rang, putting away dishes and scrubbing the kitchen walls. "I'm a house frau and love it", she said, "and I'm not even talking movies. My baby is due in March and I'm going to enjoy myself keeping house until then." Then she'll star in "The Last Snows" for Arnold Pressburger. I must say I've never heard Hedy sound as happy, and she told me that Denise, her little daughter, now weighs 32 pounds. At the moment, she and John Loder have no servants. They've just moved into their new house, she says, and getting settled these days is a problem.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: The indestructible Arline Judge is now seeing William Hawks, who was very sick, but has now completely recovered. . . . Orin Borsten of the Russell Birdwell office, is marrying Laura Rappaport the end of next week. She is the last WAVE to be sent home from Hawaii and is now on terminal leave . . . Ran into Linda Darnell at 20th. She is very pretty with her "Forever Amber" blonde hair, although she says she isn't used to it yet. She has lost at least 12 pounds and she should stay that thin, it's so becoming. . . . Mary Rogers, daughter of the late gum chewing philosopher, Will Rogers, and James Taggert a frequent dinner duet. . . . Phil Silvers, one of the funniest comedians of our day, is booked at Slapsy Maxie's new show "Funny Face", starting October 23. . . . Georgie Jessel says October 22 is the birthday of Sarah Bernhardt, Joan Fontaine and Jerrilynn Jessel—the actresses of yesterday, today and tomorrow. If you have seen five year old Jerrilyn do imations of everyone including her dad, you can well believe it. . . . Palm Springs enthusiasts are going to have another place to go. Charlie Morrison is opening The Stables, on October 25, a ranch with all the trimmings. He is taking a crowd of celebrities there for the big night. . . . Louis Prima writes me from Chicago and says that the story is ridiculous that he has any intention of marrying his secretary, Traceline Barrett, and that the story was never at any time true. . . . Allegany Beagle Club Trials Open Tomorrow

AKC Approved Officials Will Judge 13 And 15 Inch Classes In Two-Day Event

The Allegany Beagle Club of Cumberland will hold its first Plan "A" sanctioned field trial at its club grounds, Barton Dairy Farm, McMullen Highway, tomorrow and Sunday.

Beaglers will meet at the Cumberland stock ward at Triple Lakes to have the hounds measured and drawing will be held promptly at 8 a. m.

The entry fee is $3 with 40 per cent returned in prizes. Ribbons and other prizes donated by the Conkey Y. O., Gaines and Kasco dog food companies, will be presented the winners.

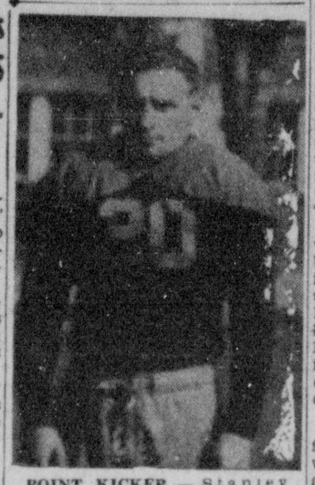

Tomorrow the 13 inch combined class will be run while the 15 inch combined class contest is scheduled for Sunday.

Judging will be in the capable hand of A. C. K. approved officials, Bob and Ike Brown, of Perryopolis, Pa.

Dinner will be served the beaglers by the women of the Cumberland Stock Yard Association.

Hounds are expected from Morgantown, W. Va.; Hagerstown, Md.; Meyersdale and Bedford, Pa., and other cities in nearby states.

Officers of the Allegany Beagle Club are R. L. Spiker, Cumberland, president; Dr. H. C. Diehl, Frostburg, vice president, and T. James Stevenson, Cumberland, secretary-treasurer.

POINT KICKER — Stanley "Stutch" Szafran, who served 3½ years in the service with the 13th Airforce, is Potomac State's point kicking specialist this season. He has made four conversions in seven tries. Stanley comes from Benwood, W. Va., where he played fullback four years for Union High School. He had the honor of playing with West Virginia All-Stars when they tangled with the Ohio All-Stars in 1941. "Stutch" stands only five feet two but he weighs 160, showing that he is one big bundle of muscle. He played with the Catamounts in 1941.

Steelers Hang Up Attendance Mark

101,680 See Pittsburgh Pros In Three Home Games To Date

By DUKE MORAN

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17. (AP)—The onetime pushover Pittsburgh Steelers, a major surprise in the young National Football League race, already have smashed all-time home attendance records—largely due to the magic touch of Coach Jock Sutherland.

Despite a power strike which cut off public transportation to their three home games to date, the Steelers have performed before 101,630 fans—now tops in league home attendance.

That surpasses by nearly 13,000 the best season's attendance in 13 previous years.

All three home games have been sellouts and in at least the first game the drawing power of Sutherland's name was the principal reason, for the fans had only a dismal record in 1945 by which to remember the Steelers. This year the squad has won two, lost one, and tied one.

With two games to go at home—against the Washington Redskins Nov. 3 and the Philadelphia Eagles Nov. 17—the Steelers ownership is confident the 1942 record "will be doubled" and nearly trebled if the weather is right and enough temporary seats can be obtained.

Mounties Battle Temple Tonight

West Virginia Will Be Met By Owls In Final Game Under Arcs

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17 (AP)—Temple's Owls and West Virginia's Mountaineers, reaching the halfway football season mark with each showing a black mark in the lost column, clashed here tomorrow night in the Owls' last arc light game of the year.

The Owls expect to start the same team that last Saturday held Pitt Panthers 0-0 in the rain and mud at Pittsburgh. There may be one switch—Bob Callahan, 215 pound freshman, may take over right tackle in place of Mark Dolin, a junior.

West Virginia's lone loss this year was at the hands of Pitt. The Mountaineers show victories over Otterbein, Waynesburg and Washington-Lee.

Spearheading the West Virginians will be Jimmy Devonshire, a Pennsgrove (N. J.) product, who'll start at right halfback.

Probable lineups:

KEISER GRABS LEAD IN KNOXVILLE GOLF

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 17. (AP)—Despite a run of three holes on which he lost four strokes to par, Herman Keiser of Akron, Ohio, fired a one-under-par 71 today to take a one-stroke lead at the halfway mark of the $10,000 Knoxville Invitational Golf Tournament.

Keiser, winner of the famed Augusta Masters last April but who hasn't won a tournament since, duplicated his 35-36 nine of yesterday for a 36-hole total of 142, one notch ahead of Clayton Heafner of Chicago, who had today's best round with a 69.

Heafner, who had a 74 yesterday, had nines of 34 and 35 today to pull into second place at 143, one stroke ahead of Dick Metz of Chicago and Henry Ransom of Ravina, Ill. Metz fired a second round 70 while Ransom posted even par 72 for the second straight day.

E. J. "Dutch" Harrison of Chicago, who led the opening round with a 68, soared to 77 today for a fifth place tie with Jim Ferrier of Chicago.

LEGAL BLOCKS INJURE KNEES, CLIPPING IS BAD ON ANKLES, NEALE SAYS

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17 (AP)—Take it from Greasy Neale, the authors of football's rule book ought to do a little clipping.

Clipping, that is, of the rules. Especially the one that bans clipping from behind in a football game.

"There's a rule," says the veteran Philadelphia Eagles coach, "that was passed to prevent injuries. Instead, it has increased them."

Clipping is defined by the rule books and officials as diving into the back of an opposing player, or dropping the body across the back of the player's legs. It carries a 15-yard penalty from the point of the foul, and has been called frequently this year both in the National Football League and in college games.

"Clipping can injure ankles, but more bad knees come from legal blocks," Neale contends.

"The legal blocks must come from the front or the side—that means the legs are hit in the direction the knee won't bend. Knee injuries result."

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 17—On my desk is a photograph of 22-year-old Jean Porter, who won a contest held by Ohio exhibitors, as the most beautiful girl in their state. Just to show you how things work in this town, Jean was given a trip to Hollywood and as a matter of courtesy, 20th Century-Fox gave her a test. Jean was honestly eager to be a movie actress, so she went to the actors lab and worked for a few months, then she came back to 20th and made another test. This one Boss Zanuck saw.

"If Director Henry King agrees with me," said Darryl, "she could be Catana." So Jean is now making still another test for the fiery, untamed girl whom Tyrone Power loves in "Captain From Castile." Darryl tells me that all of "Captain From Castile" will be made in Mexico. Henry King is already there completing arrangements for accommodations for 400 people.

You can't talk to Frank Sinatra five minutes without his telling you what a great dancer Gene Kelly is and how much he taught him in "Anchors Aweigh". Gene returns Frankie's enthusiasm for he has just sold M-G-M an original story called "Take Me Out To the Ball Game", and when he gave the script to Arthur Freed he told Arthur it was meant for the old reliable Kelly-Sinatra team. There has never been anyone on the Metro lot less temperamental than that Kelly boy, who is liked by directors, writers and publicity men, which is a wonderful thing—it makes everyone's life so much easier.

"What about David Selznick's deal with Vivien Leigh? Won't there be trouble if she goes to M-G-M?" I was asked. Not at all. Alexander Korda owned half of the popular Vivien's contract and he sold his interest in her to M-G-M when he was associated with that company. Vivien owns three stories which she is bringing with her to discuss as her first for M-G-M. The reason Larry Olivier signed with Garson Kanin and William Goetz is because Garson is one of his best friends—moreover Billy's tie-up with Arthur Rank probably had some bearing on Olivier's decision to do his picture making at Universal-International.

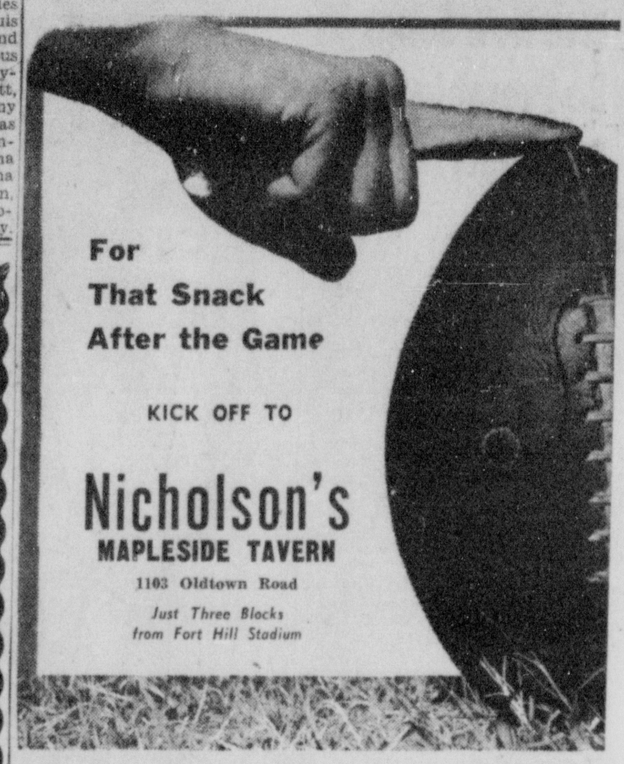

Lily Pons looked just like a little girl when I met her at the broadcasting station Sunday. She was all dressed up in a red dress and said she was nervous because she was getting ready to go on the Edgar Bergen show. I met her again with her husband, Andre Kostelanetz after the show, and she was so good on the air she was no longer nervous. She had a spot in "Carnegie Hall" for Boris Morros and Bill Le Baron and will be starred in "Carmen From Kenosha" for them when it starts in February. Andre will make with the pretty music for her singing. Lily was in two RKO musicals a few years ago, but either she didn't have the right stories or wasn't photographed properly, for her pictures were never as good as her singing.

I couldn't put "The Miracle of the Bells" down until I finished it. The author, Russell Janney, must have been inspired when he wrote this book about a high powered press agent, a little Pennsylvania priest, and a girl who made one motion picture and died before it was released. Through the ringing of the church bells in Coaltown, her home, for five days, many amazing events happened, which are considered miracles by the poor coalminers. I promise you'll love the book, and I believe it will make another "Going My Way" for there is comedy and human interest as well as spiritual uplift.

The war experiences of Kenny Morgan, who has just joined the Henry Rogers publicity office, are fascinating. Kenny, who was with the 7th Army in Heidelberg, told me that he was assigned to write the press stories of Fritz Kuhn, former domineering Bund leader. Kuhn is now a beaten man, says Kenny. He sits with his head in his hands and says in a meek voice, "May I have a cigarette please, captain?"—All his bravado is gone and he bears little resemblance to the Kuhn who used to scream at those big meetings. He is at Asberg prison where so many of the former diplomats are interned. Kenny also covered General Patton's funeral, the Nurenberg trial, and many other important events. He is married to Lucille Ball's sister Cleo.

Telephoned to Hedy Lamarr and she told me she was on a ladder when the phone rang, putting away dishes and scrubbing the kitchen walls. "I'm a house frau and love it", she said, "and I'm not even talking movies. My baby is due in March and I'm going to enjoy myself keeping house until then." Then she'll star in "The Last Snows" for Arnold Pressburger. I must say I've never heard Hedy sound as happy, and she told me that Denise, her little daughter, now weighs 32 pounds. At the moment, she and John Loder have no servants. They've just moved into their new house, she says, and getting settled these days is a problem.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: The indestructible Arline Judge is now seeing William Hawks, who was very sick, but has now completely recovered. . . . Orin Borsten of the Russell Birdwell office, is marrying Laura Rappaport the end of next week. She is the last WAVE to be sent home from Hawaii and is now on terminal leave . . . Ran into Linda Darnell at 20th. She is very pretty with her "Forever Amber" blonde hair, although she says she isn't used to it yet. She has lost at least 12 pounds and she should stay that thin, it's so becoming. . . . Mary Rogers, daughter of the late gum chewing philosopher, Will Rogers, and James Taggert a frequent dinner duet. . . . Phil Silvers, one of the funniest comedians of our day, is booked at Slapsy Maxie's new show "Funny Face", starting October 23. . . . Georgie Jessel says October 22 is the birthday of Sarah Bernhardt, Joan Fontaine and Jerrilynn Jessel—the actresses of yesterday, today and tomorrow. If you have seen five year old Jerrilyn do imations of everyone including her dad, you can well believe it. . . . Palm Springs enthusiasts are going to have another place to go. Charlie Morrison is opening The Stables, on October 25, a ranch with all the trimmings. He is taking a crowd of celebrities there for the big night. . . . Louis Prima writes me from Chicago and says that the story is ridiculous that he has any intention of marrying his secretary, Traceline Barrett, and that the story was never at any time true. . . . Five New Songs To Be Presented By Press Service Head

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Oct. 17--Five new songs by Kent Cooper are to be presented for the first time in the weekly broadcast of the Paul Lavalle Melody on NBC at 8 Friday night. Lanny Ross has been selected as soloist. Lyrics of the songs are from Cooper's forthcoming book, "Ann Zenfer: Mother of Freedom," which is a novelized biography of America's first woman newspaper publisher.

The MBS network has introduced two 15-minute shows in its 8 o'clock time. One is by Burl Ives, singer of American folk songs and is presented from recordings under the same auspices of the new Bing Crosby series on ABC Wednesday nights.

The other period at 8:15 will have the songs of Monica Lewis under the listing of Monica's Music Box. Bobby Doyle also will sing.

Prize fight broadcasting on ABC at 10 is to be in the lightweight division, with the principals Lulu Constantino and Johnny Dell.

Secretary of War Patterson, originally scheduled to appear in last week's Meet the Press, has been re-listed for this week's 10:30 broadcast.

Bill Stern, broadcasting for NBC at 10:30 from Knoxville, Tenn., will be presenting the seventh anniversary program. . . . An award to American railroads for their part in war transportation will be announced in an MBS broadcast at 3:30. . . . Jack Kroll, as the NBS speaker at 10:45, is to discuss "The CIO Political Action Committee in 1946."

Britons Try To Break Bottle Bottleneck

LONDON Oct. 17 (AP) — Four million gallons of Christmas wine are lying in bond under customs seal because of a bottleneck in bottles. Importers say that although stocks now are sufficient to meet any demand thousands of would-be purchasers won't find wines this Christmas unless the public helps to put new wine in old bottles.

Glass manufacturers are already turning out more bottles than before the war and efforts are being made to import them. But there is a shortage of at least 50,000,000 bottles.

Minister of Food John Strachey has authorized the import of 14,000 tons of port and sherry and 16,000,000 dollars worth of French wines. Thirty-three thousand cases of Italian wines have arrived recently.

"It's a race against time for Christmas," says J. W. Mahoney, secretary of the wine and spirit association. "Glass manufacturers are working overtime, but they can't keep pace with the demand."

Mr. and Mrs. M. Dilworth, aged 60 and 62, of Cullompton, England, have just completed a 500-mile tandem-bicycle tour.

Ecuador has had 13 constitutions since 1830.

Couple Engaged By Radiotelephone

AUCKLAND, New Zealand — (AP) — The engagement by radiotelephone of an American girl and a New Zealand airman who have never met has been announced in Auckland.

The two are Bernice Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Green of Kansas City, and Leading Aircraftman Jim Fitzsimmons of Auckland. The romance began when Fitzsimmons wrote Miss Green, whose address he had received from an American service man.

Fitzsimmons, a plumber, expects to leave the air force shortly. His future father-in-law, also a plumber, will employ him.

Water Supply Crisis Threatens Rio

RIO DE JANEIRO — (AP) — This South American capital, threatened with a complete failure in its antiquated water supply system, is taking emergency measures to construct new facilities. Strikes in United States machinery companies have held up arrival of expected equipment. The city has a loan of $10,000,000 to build a new aqueduct to supply the entire Federal District with additional water.

Five New Songs To Be Presented By Press Service Head

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Oct. 17--Five new songs by Kent Cooper are to be presented for the first time in the weekly broadcast of the Paul Lavalle Melody on NBC at 8 Friday night. Lanny Ross has been selected as soloist. Lyrics of the songs are from Cooper's forthcoming book, "Ann Zenfer: Mother of Freedom," which is a novelized biography of America's first woman newspaper publisher.

The MBS network has introduced two 15-minute shows in its 8 o'clock time. One is by Burl Ives, singer of American folk songs and is presented from recordings under the same auspices of the new Bing Crosby series on ABC Wednesday nights.

The other period at 8:15 will have the songs of Monica Lewis under the listing of Monica's Music Box. Bobby Doyle also will sing.

Prize fight broadcasting on ABC at 10 is to be in the lightweight division, with the principals Lulu Constantino and Johnny Dell.

Secretary of War Patterson, originally scheduled to appear in last week's Meet the Press, has been re-listed for this week's 10:30 broadcast.

Bill Stern, broadcasting for NBC at 10:30 from Knoxville, Tenn., will be presenting the seventh anniversary program. . . . An award to American railroads for their part in war transportation will be announced in an MBS broadcast at 9:30. . . . Jack Kroll, as the NBS speaker at 10:45, is to discuss "The CIO Political Action Committee in 1946."

News To Close Campaign For Jones Family Fund

Contributions Of $214.24 Yesterday Bring Total Given By Citizens To $6,035.90

Contributions from benefit performances, organizations, political candidates, business firms and individuals to the "Jones Family Fund" received by the NEWS yesterday totalled $214.24 bringing the fund total to $6,035.90, with only one more report to be made by the NEWS before it closes its active campaign for funds to aid the family of Mr. and Mrs. William Joseph Jones of Midland.

Mr. Jones and 13-year-old daughter, Betty Fay, are now patients in the State Sanitarium at Sabillasville, Md., receiving treatment for tuberculosis and Mrs. Jones will enter the same sanitarium within the next few days. The NEWS started the fund in order to make it possible to keep six of the seven Jones children together at home while their parents are in the Sanitarium.

Response Is Wonderful

The response to appeals for funds has been marvelous throughout the Tri-State area and as a result the "Jones Family Fund Committee" at Midland which is handling the fund collected by the NEWS, has been able to employ a competent housekeeper to care for the children, and to have money enough to support them until their parents are able to return home.

Contributions received yesterday included:

Mountain Chapter No. 166, the Military Order of the Purple Heart (proceeds from dinner-dance) $37.24; Queen City Brewery Boys, $32; American Legion Auxiliary, Farrady Unit, No. 24, Frostburg, $25; Gov. Herbert O'Conor, Democratic Candidate for the United State Senate, $25; W. Preston Lane, Jr., Hagerstown, Democratic candidate for Governor, $25; Textile Block No. 3, Down Twist, Uptwist and Engineering-C. Shift, Celanese Corporation of America, $16.

Philos Lodge, No. 91, I.O.O.F., Westernport, $10; Moscow Parent-Teacher Association, $10; Memorial Unit No. 159, American Legion Auxiliary, Mt. Savage, $5; Eckhart Homemakers, Eckhart, $5.

Councilman and Mrs. Clifton Fuller sent a contribution of $5, and said "we consider it a pleasure to be able to contribute to such a noble and grand cause. We want to congratulate the Cumberland News and hope that you will reach the $6,000 mark. We hope your efforts will be crowned with success."

Sending a donation of $25 the American Legion Auxiliary, Farrady Unit No. 24 wrote "Our Auxiliary is proud to join in this worthy enterprise."

Will List Contributions

After tomorrow, the NEWS suggests that persons who desire to contribute to the fund, should send donations to William A. Wilson, chairman of "Jones Family Fund Committee", Midland, Md. However, if more convenient contributions can be mailed to Harry H. Robinson, managing editor, The Cumberland News, Box 567, Cumberland, Md., or left at the Times-News Office, 7 South Mechanic street. The NEWS will then turn the contributions over to the Midland committee. Contributions which are received after this week will be listed once or twice a week in the NEWS as long as they are received by the Midland committee.

Baltimore Group To Visit Here On Thursday

Chamber Of Commerce Group To Tour Kelly And Celanese Plants

Final arrangements for greeting 75 members of the Baltimore Association of Commerce, who will be in Cumberland on a Goodwill Tour, Thursday, Oct. 24, were discussed at the monthly meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, held in the chamber office last night in the Liberty Trust Building.

The Baltimoreans, traveling in two buses, are expected to arrive in Cumberland about 12:30 p. m. They will be met by local men and taken directly to the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant where they will have lunch in the cafeteria. Following lunch a tour will be made of the Kelly plant after which the party will go to the Celanese plant where they will be taken on a tour of several departments of the Celanese.

Dinner Is Arranged

Thursday at 5:30 p. m. the Baltimore group will be joined by a number of members of the local Chamber of Commerce at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club where dinner will be served. There will be no formal program at the Shrine club, but the dinner was arranged in order to entertain the visitors and to allow Cumberland business men to become acquainted with them.

The Baltimore men will be quartered in the Fort Cumberland and Algonquin hotels Thursday night and will leave here early Friday morning for Town Hill Hotel on Route 40 where they will have breakfast. Harold W. Smith, secretary of the local chamber, urges members who plan to attend the dinner at the Shrine Club to send their reservations to him at once, in order that he will know how many plan to attend.

The directors discussed a number of other matters last night in a general way. Announcement was made that work on the economic survey project is now moving rapidly and that a draft of the section on employment and payrolls was submitted to the Chamber for comment. This contains about 25 pages of typed material and 30 graphs and charts. The material, as presented, according to Smith, provided an excellent picture of the subject. The survey is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

New Folder Distributed

George F. Hazelwood, who attended a conference with President Truman, relative to restoring a number of projects in the Omnibus bill passed by the last Congress, said that the President gave the committee no encouragement. Hazelwood said the president stated bluntly that he was primarily interested in balancing the budget.

In view of the situation, the directors were advised last night, that no progress can be expected on flood control work and completion of the Savage River dam, until, and if, the new Congress takes some action.

The new descriptive folder which the Chamber has prepared on Cumberland, for distribution to out of town concerns seeking information about Cumberland, was distributed to the directors.

Teachers To Meet Today In Baltimore

Allegany public school children, along with those in other counties of Maryland, will have a holiday today while approximately 5,000 of their teachers convene in Baltimore for the 79th Annual Convention of the Maryland State Teachers' Association.

According to an Associated Press dispatch received from Baltimore last night, the teachers will take over Baltimore City school rooms for section meetings and informal discussions and gather in the Fifth Regiment Armory to hear speakers from 16 states and Great Britain discuss their profession.

For the first time since before the war the All-Maryland High School Chorus and Orchestra, numbering 400 students, will present a program Saturday. Oscar P. Steinwald, supervisor of orchestral music in Baltimore, will conduct.

The representative assembly will meet tomorrow for a business session and election of officers. Eugene W Pruitt, Frederick county school superintendent, is president of the Association.

Charles W. Phillips, public relations director at the Woman's College, University of North Carolina, will speak at a dinner tonight given by the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Other speakers at the two-day session will be Dr. Donald Andrews, Johns Hopkins University chemistry professor who worked on the atomic bomb project; Alexander J. Stoddard, Philadelphia's school superintendent and a member of Gen. MacArthur's Educational mission to Japan; and Sir Wilmot Lewis, Washington correspondent of the London Times.

Three Applications Filed For Beer Licenses

Three applications for beer licenses were filed in Circuit Court yesterday.

Bud Alderton applied for a Class D light beer license for the premises at Braddock and Vocke roads.

Margaret E. Boyden, Homewood Addition, Mt. Savage, applied for a Class B beer and light wine license for premises 300 yards from her present location.

Mrs. Mildred Cunningham applied for a Class B beer and light wine license at 437 Virginia avenue. Court officials said the application is for a transfer of the license now held by Elizabeth Miller at the same location.

Local News In Brief

East Side Fire Company was called to the 1200 block of Bedford street yesterday at 11:45 a. m. to extinguish a blaze in the front seat of a car owned by R. L. Welsh, this city. Firemen said a lighted cigaret apparently caused the blaze.

Central Fire Company answered a false alarm at Pioneer place yesterday at 4:30 p. m.

Ronald Neal Sterne, 17, who was injured Sunday morning when a Times and Alleganian Company newspaper delivery truck crashed against a pole, was reported in good condition last night in Memorial Hospital.

National Guard Enlistments Open In Two Companies

Local Units Enroll First Group Of Recruits; 250 Men Needed

A number of men applied last night at the State Armory for information regarding the formation of two local National Guard Companies, and nine men enlisted, according to Capt. Robert L. Powell, commander of Headquarters Company.

Capt. Powell said last night that men desiring to enlist should do so immediately, as it will be possible to enlist within the next couple of weeks, in the grade held at date of discharge from the army.

"This is not to be understood as meaning that only veterans are eligible for enlistment," Powell explained, "but we do need veterans with ratings to fill a number of key positions."

Especially needed are communications men, both for the radio and wire sections, Powell said. There are also openings for clerks, supply sergeants, cooks, riflemen, scouts and all the other occupations familiar to infantrymen.

To Be Paid For Drills

Men with no previous military training are eligible if they are in good physical condition and between the ages of 17 and 45.

All men enlisting and attending drill will receive pay for each night of drill, and also for the 15-day period of summer encampment. Veterans will be credited with longevity and time served in the National Guard increases longevity pay allowances.

Among those who enlisted last night were several men who served in Company G, the old National Guard outfit here, and some who saw service with the 29th division throughout the war.

Robert Lee Crawford, 115 Laing avenue, enlisted as Company Clerk. He was a yeoman in the Navy two years and saw service in the Pacific on the U. S. S. Register.

Kelly Watson Welcht, 355 Baltimore avenue, enlisted as a sergeant. He had five and a half years in the army as a communications sergeant and was a former Company G man, later going to the Air Corps.

Lawrence Elmer Lease, 312 Emily street, served four years as a corporal in the Medical Corps.

Howard B. Wilson, Williams road enlisted in the grade of private.

Norris B. Jones, 513 Valley street, was a technical sergeant in the 29th division and was an old Company G man, enlisting in 1933, and serving throughout the war.

More Enlistments Needed

Charles N. Seibert, 728 Maryland avenue, a staff sergeant, served throughout the war with the 29th division. He is also a former Company G man.

John A. Rotruck, of Cresaptown, and Robert H. Bender, this city, also served with the 29th Division during the war.

Paul E. Darr, Bedford road, enlisted as a sergeant. He was in the 29th Division during the war, and was discharged as a technical sergeant.

Two companies of National Guardsmen, Headquarters and Company C, are to be organized here as a part of the First Battalion 115th Infantry Regiment. Local units will include 250 men and 15 officers. Robert C. Matlick has been named captain of the rifle company. Lt. Col. Oliver H. Bruce III, is commander of the battalion.

Men interested in enlisting in either company may do so at the State Armory either Tuesday or Thursday from 7 to 9 p. m.

America Does Not Need Dictators, Salvation Army Evangelist Says

Has No Use For Insidious Teachings Going On In U. S. Today

"We can't afford to accept any dictators in America, either from the top or bottom," Lt. Col. Harold P. Madsen, Salvation Army Evangelist, of Atlanta, Ga., told members of the Kiwanis Club yesterday at noon in an address on "Being An American."

Col. Madsen, a native of Denmark, who has been an American citizen for many years asserted that too many Americans "don't appreciate the blessings which we have in this, the greatest nation on the face of the earth. We take too many things for granted and don't often appreciate things which come to us easy. I have no use for many of the insidious teachings which are going on in America today," the Evangelist asserted.

The colonel said he told his three boys when they went into the armed forces that in case it was necessary for them to give their lives in the service of their country that it would not be "too huge a price to pay to 'Keep America American.'"

James Alfred Avirett, of Cumberland, a member of the Speakers Bureau of the Community Chest, spoke briefly in behalf of the Community Chest campaign and urged Kiwanians to give, not only money but of their time to raise the chest goal in order to keep the Chest agencies in operation. He added that forces which are trying to wreck America would like nothing better than to see such agencies as those which make up the Chest fail.

The club nominated directors, from which three will be elected at next weeks meeting, to serve a term of three years. The nominees are Alex R. Buchanan, W. Earle Cobey, Thomas B. Finan, Clarence Lippel, William E. Landefelt, Dr. Charles L. Owens, John J. Robinson, John C. Shoupe and John F. Workmeister.

Vets' Survivors Should Check Social Security

Local Office Manager Says Law Changes May Mean More Benefits

Only six survivors of qualified World War II veterans have filed application for social security benefits provided by the recent amendment to the Social Security Act, according to William W. Wood, Jr., manager of the local Social Security office.

Wood explained that there are two groups of survivors eligible to file benefit claims at once on the accounts of qualified veterans who died between the time of their discharge from World War II service and the effective date of the amendment.

"In the first place," Wood explained, "there are the families of deceased veterans who are now receiving monthly social security benefits or have received lump sums. These people may file for a recomputation of benefits, and if it is found they would be entitled to a larger benefit under the amendment, they will receive the additional payment.

May File Claims

"The second group," Wood continued, "is composed of survivors of veterans who left no survivors insurance in the old-age and survivors insurance program and survivors who have not claimed insurance they would have been eligible to receive. Subject to certain qualifications on the part of the veteran, his survivors may file claim for benefits under the amendment.

"The final date for filing these applications for monthly benefits is February 10, 1947," Wood said, "if benefits are to be retroactive to the month the veteran died."

General requirements that a World War II veteran must meet in order for his survivors to qualify for social security benefits under the provisions of the amendment are:

Ninety Days' Service Needed

That the veteran was discharged from the armed forces under circumstances other than dishonorable within four years after the official date ending World War II. This date has not yet been set. That the veteran had at least 90 days' active service between September 16, 1940, and the end of the war, or, was discharged because of disability or injury incurred or aggravated in service in line of duty; and that the veteran died within three years of the date of his discharge.

Survivors who are now receiving Veterans Administration payments cannot qualify for benefits under the Social Security Act amendment, Wood cautioned. National Service Life Insurance, however, is not considered such a payment.

Wood said it was not expected that there would be any large number of beneficiaries who might qualify at once for the protection extended by this new section of the law, but it is believed there are some people in the Cumberland area who have not yet made proper application and may not know of benefits coming to them.

Capper, two suits for damages of $100,000 filed against McCrory Stores Corporation as a result of a Midlothian boy being burned while wearing a cowboy suit have been removed to Washington County for trial in Circuit Court at Hagerstown.

The orders for the removals were signed on the motion of Charles Z. Heskett, attorney for the chain store.

Contractors Hear Discussion Of CPA Directives, Rules

O. Wilton Carman, State Director, Addresses City Hall Session

Directives and regulations regarding procedures of obtaining permits for housing construction and essential non-housing construction were discussed at length yesterday afternoon by O. Wilton Carman, state director of the Civilian Production Administration, at a meeting sponsored by the Mayor's Emergency Housing Committee in City Hall.

Carman, who was accompanied here from Baltimore by his assistant, Jess Armiger, was introduced to the audience of 30 contractors and suppliers by Edgar D. Vandegrift, committee chairman.

The state director said that the local office of the National Housing Agency, headed by E. Price Steiding, has the duty of assisting in the procurement of building materials for priority holders, as well as the job of correcting any maldistribution of materials which may exist.

Explains Functions

Explaining the different functions of the NHA, CPA and the Federal Housing Administration, Carman said that the NHA decides on construction policies; the FHA handles priorities for housing construction, and the CPA handles priorities for non-housing construction.

He said that the present shortage has made housing construction the top problem of the entire building program, and that all other construction has been made secondary in importance as regards priorities. Carman added, however, that priorities for limited repairs to existing buildings, or for non-housing construction may be granted in cases of extreme emergency.

He urged all contractors who want to start such construction to send a detailed analysis of the case to the CPA in Baltimore, explaining what hardship will be entailed if the work is not done.

Discusses Regulations

Discussing priorities regulations 1, 3 and 33, which he termed most important, Carman said the first outlines the basic rules of the entire priority system; the second establishes procedure of passing rating values from the builder to the supplier, and the third establishes priority ratings for home construction. He urged all business men to keep copies of regulations 1 and 3 on file.

Regarding the confusing wording of priority regulations, the state director explained that since they are federal laws, they must be drawn up in legal terms. He added, however, that when an order is found to be too confusing, or when too many amendments must be added to put it into practice, it is withdrawn and a new order is written.

Following his talk, a discussion period was held. Mayor Thomas S. Post and Steiding were among those present. Carmen and Armiger left for Hagerstown after the meeting, where they attended a similar session last night.

Tenant Wins $85 For Firing Furnace

A Circuit Court jury decided yesterday morning that a tenant who was told by his landlord he would have to fire the furnace if he wanted heat was entitled to $85 for his services.

The action to collect $85, representing $15 a month from October 1, 1945, to March 20, 1946, was brought by Mr. and Mrs. James R. Keller, tenants of George Millenson at 321 and 321½ Virginia avenue. William L. Wilson, Jr., represented the Kellers and F. Brooke Whiting was counsel for Millenson.

In another action a jury awarded a 14-year-old boy damages of $650 as the result of an accident last January 5 when the youth was hurled from his bicycle on the Wills Creek bridge half a mile west of Cumberland.

The action was brought by James Herpick, 131 Frederick street, by his mother, Mrs. Gladys Herpich, against Charles Francis Martin, 617 North Mechanic street.

Martin failed to answer the suit in the allotted time when it was filed, thereby awarding a judgment to the plaintiff by default. Yesterday's hearing thus constituted an inquisition, or a matter of settling the amount of damages to be paid to the plaintiff, represented by David Kauffman.

At the conclusion of the two civil appeals, Chief Judge William A. Huster dismissed the members of the petit jury until 9:15 a. m. Monday.

The criminal docket, containing 70 indictments, will be taken up Monday morning by the court and State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris.

Arraignment of traversers will take place Saturday morning in the court room.

Take Radio Tests

Republicans Get 973 More Voters Than Democrats

GOP Party Leaders Say Registration Indicates Trend In Election

The Republican party gained 973 voters over the Democratic party on three registration days this year, on the basis of returns made to Patrick F. King, clerk to the Board of Election Supervisors, and GOP party leaders point to the gain as indicating the trend in the November 5 general election.

Total figures were compiled yesterday, return day for registration officials, and they showed that on the three registration days, one in June and the latter two October 1 and 8, the GOP registered 2,468 voters and the Democrats 1,495, a gain of 973.

Prior to the registration this year Republicans had a total of 25,361 voters on the books and the Democrats had 20,361. Because of a state law, names of 6,029 voters, 3,091 Republicans and 2,938 Democrats, who had not cast ballots in the past five years were stricken off, reducing the registered voters to 22,270 Republicans and 17,423 Democrats.

The registration this year, however, boosted the Republican total to 24,738 and the Democratic figure to 18,918, a GOP majority of 5,820.

Figures for October gave the Republicans 456 voters on October 1 and the Democrats 262. On October 8 the Republicans got 682 and the Democrats, 354, a total for the two days of 1,138 Republicans and 616 Democrats, and a grand total of 1,754 new voters. The June registration gave the Republicans 1,330 voters and the Democrats 879, for a grand total of 2,209.

The increase in the Republican registration this year is slightly better than 4 to 1 above the GOP gain in 1944, according to a check of the figures. That year the Republicans got 225 more voters than the Democrats.

In comparison with 1942, the GOP gain was slightly more than two to one better than the Democrats were able to do, the former getting 401 more voters than the latter on the registration books.

This is an indication, Republicans leaders declare, that GOP candidates will come out victorious over Democratic standard bearers in the general election next month.

Complete registration figures from the county's 75 precincts were received and they show that on October 1 Republicans registering numbered 456 while Democrats numbered 262.

Plans Progress For City Survey

Plans for a survey of Cumberland's municipal government, expected to take from three to four months, were made yesterday at a conference attended by Dr. Joseph M. Ray, head of the Department of Government and Politics of the College of Business and Public Administration, University of Maryland, and the Mayor and Council.

Stating that he will clear material with the council before any report is published, Dr. Ray explains he does not expect endorsement of his recommendations by the council but only their support in making the study.

Dr. Ray said he will discuss various governmental problems with department heads, city employes and elected officials, adding that his study will be entirely non-political.

Some of the recommendations Dr. Ray made in a recent survey of Hagerstown city government are already in effect here, as employes are covered by a merit system and an annual audit of the books is made.

Aside from his proposal that Hagerstown adopt a council-manager form of government, Dr. Ray said that all other recommendations made in the Hagerstown survey have been adopted.

They include a new charter; home rule; appointment of department heads by the chief executive officer, directly responsible to him alone and subject to removal by him; annual general report to the citizens and periodic reporting from all departments to the central executive office; establishment of a regular planning agency; and implementing the budgeting function more thoroughly on the administrative as well as the legislative level.

He said the contract was the "first fruits" of an intensive organizing drive of the Shenandoah Valley poultry firms being conducted by Michael Roth, Chicago, and William Kraft, of the Meat Cutters union here.

Baltimore Group To Visit Here On Thursday

Chamber Of Commerce Group To Tour Kelly And Celanese Plants

Final arrangements for greeting 75 members of the Baltimore Association of Commerce, who will be in Cumberland on a Goodwill Tour, Thursday, Oct. 24, were discussed at the monthly meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, held in the chamber office last night in the Liberty Trust Building.

The Baltimoreans, traveling in two buses, are expected to arrive in Cumberland about 12:30 p. m. They will be met by local men and taken directly to the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant where they will have lunch in the cafeteria. Following lunch a tour will be made of the Kelly plant after which the party will go to the Celanese plant where they will be taken on a tour of several departments of the Celanese.

Dinner Is Arranged

Thursday at 5:30 p. m. the Baltimore group will be joined by a number of members of the local Chamber of Commerce at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club where dinner will be served. There will be no formal program at the Shrine club, but the dinner was arranged in order to entertain the visitors and to allow Cumberland business men to become acquainted with them.

The Baltimore men will be quartered in the Fort Cumberland and Algonquin hotels Thursday night and will leave here early Friday morning for Town Hill Hotel on Route 40 where they will have breakfast. Harold W. Smith, secretary of the local chamber, urges members who plan to attend the dinner at the Shrine Club to send their reservations to him at once, in order that he will know how many plan to attend.

The directors discussed a number of other matters last night in a general way. Announcement was made that work on the economic survey project is now moving rapidly and that a draft of the section on employment and payrolls was submitted to the Chamber for comment. This contains about 25 pages of typed material and 30 graphs and charts. The material, as presented, according to Smith, provided an excellent picture of the subject. The survey is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

New Folder Distributed

George F. Hazelwood, who attended a conference with President Truman, relative to restoring a number of projects in the Omnibus bill passed by the last Congress, said that the President gave the committee no encouragement. Hazelwood said the president stated bluntly that he was primarily interested in balancing the budget.

In view of the situation, the directors were advised last night, that no progress can be expected on flood control work and completion of the Savage River dam, until, and if, the new Congress takes some action.

The new descriptive folder which the Chamber has prepared on Cumberland, for distribution to out of town concerns seeking information about Cumberland, was distributed to the directors.

Capt. Powell said last night that men desiring to enlist should do so immediately, as it will be possible to enlist within the next couple of weeks, in the grade held at date of discharge from the army.

"This is not to be understood as meaning that only veterans are eligible for enlistment," Powell explained, "but we do need veterans with ratings to fill a number of key positions."

Especially needed are communications men, both for the radio and wire sections, Powell said. There are also openings for clerks, supply sergeants, cooks, riflemen, scouts and all the other occupations familiar to infantrymen.

America Does Not Need Dictators, Salvation Army Evangelist Says

Has No Use For Insidious Teachings Going On In U. S. Today

"We can't afford to accept any dictators in America, either from the top or bottom," Lt. Col. Harold P. Madsen, Salvation Army Evangelist, of Atlanta, Ga., told members of the Kiwanis Club yesterday at noon in an address on "Being An American."

Col. Madsen, a native of Denmark, who has been an American citizen for many years asserted that too many Americans "don't appreciate the blessings which we have in this, the greatest nation on the face of the earth. We take too many things for granted and don't often appreciate things which come to us easy. I have no use for many of the insidious teachings which are going on in America today," the Evangelist asserted.

The colonel said he told his three boys when they went into the armed forces that in case it was necessary for them to give their lives in the service of their country that it would not be "too huge a price to pay to 'Keep America American.'"

James Alfred Avirett, of Cumberland, a member of the Speakers Bureau of the Community Chest, spoke briefly in behalf of the Community Chest campaign and urged Kiwanians to give, not only money but of their time to raise the chest goal in order to keep the Chest agencies in operation. He added that forces which are trying to wreck America would like nothing better than to see such agencies as those which make up the Chest fail.

The club nominated directors, from which three will be elected at next weeks meeting, to serve a term of three years. The nominees are Alex R. Buchanan, W. Earle Cobey, Thomas B. Finan, Clarence Lippel, William E. Landefelt, Dr. Charles L. Owens, John J. Robinson, John C. Shoupe and John F. Workmeister.

Vets' Survivors Should Check Social Security

Local Office Manager Says Law Changes May Mean More Benefits

Only six survivors of qualified World War II veterans have filed application for social security benefits provided by the recent amendment to the Social Security Act, according to William W. Wood, Jr., manager of the local Social Security office.

Wood explained that there are two groups of survivors eligible to file benefit claims at once on the accounts of qualified veterans who died between the time of their discharge from World War II service and the effective date of the amendment.

"In the first place," Wood explained, "there are the families of deceased veterans who are now receiving monthly social security benefits or have received lump sums. These people may file for a recomputation of benefits, and if it is found they would be entitled to a larger benefit under the amendment, they will receive the additional payment.

May File Claims

"The second group," Wood continued, "is composed of survivors of veterans who left no survivors insurance in the old-age and survivors insurance program and survivors who have not claimed insurance they would have been eligible to receive. Subject to certain qualifications on the part of the veteran, his survivors may file claim for benefits under the amendment.

"The final date for filing these applications for monthly benefits is February 10, 1947," Wood said, "if benefits are to be retroactive to the month the veteran died."

General requirements that a World War II veteran must meet in order for his survivors to qualify for social security benefits under the provisions of the amendment are:

Ninety Days' Service Needed

That the veteran was discharged from the armed forces under circumstances other than dishonorable within four years after the official date ending World War II. This date has not yet been set. That the veteran had at least 90 days' active service between September 16, 1940, and the end of the war, or, was discharged because of disability or injury incurred or aggravated in service in line of duty; and that the veteran died within three years of the date of his discharge.

Survivors who are now receiving Veterans Administration payments cannot qualify for benefits under the Social Security Act amendment, Wood cautioned. National Service Life Insurance, however, is not considered such a payment.

Wood said it was not expected that there would be any large number of beneficiaries who might qualify at once for the protection extended by this new section of the law, but it is believed there are some people in the Cumberland area who have not yet made proper application and may not know of benefits coming to them.

Contractors Hear Discussion Of CPA Directives, Rules

O. Wilton Carman, State Director, Addresses City Hall Session

Directives and regulations regarding procedures of obtaining permits for housing construction and essential non-housing construction were discussed at length yesterday afternoon by O. Wilton Carman, state director of the Civilian Production Administration, at a meeting sponsored by the Mayor's Emergency Housing Committee in City Hall.

Carman, who was accompanied here from Baltimore by his assistant, Jess Armiger, was introduced to the audience of 30 contractors and suppliers by Edgar D. Vandegrift, committee chairman.

The state director said that the local office of the National Housing Agency, headed by E. Price Steiding, has the duty of assisting in the procurement of building materials for priority holders, as well as the job of correcting any maldistribution of materials which may exist.

Explains Functions

Explaining the different functions of the NHA, CPA and the Federal Housing Administration, Carman said that the NHA decides on construction policies; the FHA handles priorities for housing construction, and the CPA handles priorities for non-housing construction.

He said that the present shortage has made housing construction the top problem of the entire building program, and that all other construction has been made secondary in importance as regards priorities. Carman added, however, that priorities for limited repairs to existing buildings, or for non-housing construction may be granted in cases of extreme emergency.

He urged all contractors who want to start such construction to send a detailed analysis of the case to the CPA in Baltimore, explaining what hardship will be entailed if the work is not done.

Discusses Regulations

Discussing priorities regulations 1, 3 and 33, which he termed most important, Carman said the first outlines the basic rules of the entire priority system; the second establishes procedure of passing rating values from the builder to the supplier, and the third establishes priority ratings for home construction. He urged all business men to keep copies of regulations 1 and 3 on file.

Regarding the confusing wording of priority regulations, the state director explained that since they are federal laws, they must be drawn up in legal terms. He added, however, that when an order is found to be too confusing, or when too many amendments must be added to put it into practice, it is withdrawn and a new order is written.

Following his talk, a discussion period was held. Mayor Thomas S. Post and Steiding were among those present. Carmen and Armiger left for Hagerstown after the meeting, where they attended a similar session last night.

Tenant Wins $85 For Firing Furnace

A Circuit Court jury decided yesterday morning that a tenant who was told by his landlord he would have to fire the furnace if he wanted heat was entitled to $85 for his services.

The action to collect $85, representing $15 a month from October 1, 1945, to March 20, 1946, was brought by Mr. and Mrs. James R. Keller, tenants of George Millenson at 321 and 321½ Virginia avenue. William L. Wilson, Jr., represented the Kellers and F. Brooke Whiting was counsel for Millenson.

In another action a jury awarded a 14-year-old boy damages of $650 as the result of an accident last January 5 when the youth was hurled from his bicycle on the Wills Creek bridge half a mile west of Cumberland.

The action was brought by James Herpick, 131 Frederick street, by his mother, Mrs. Gladys Herpich, against Charles Francis Martin, 617 North Mechanic street.

Martin failed to answer the suit in the allotted time when it was filed, thereby awarding a judgment to the plaintiff by default. Yesterday's hearing thus constituted an inquisition, or a matter of settling the amount of damages to be paid to the plaintiff, represented by David Kauffman.

At the conclusion of the two civil appeals, Chief Judge William A. Huster dismissed the members of the petit jury until 9:15 a. m. Monday.

The criminal docket, containing 70 indictments, will be taken up Monday morning by the court and State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris.

Arraignment of traversers will take place Saturday morning in the court room.

Take Radio Tests

Republicans Get 973 More Voters Than Democrats

GOP Party Leaders Say Registration Indicates Trend In Election

The Republican party gained 973 voters over the Democratic party on three registration days this year, on the basis of returns made to Patrick F. King, clerk to the Board of Election Supervisors, and GOP party leaders point to the gain as indicating the trend in the November 5 general election.

Total figures were compiled yesterday, return day for registration officials, and they showed that on the three registration days, one in June and the latter two October 1 and 8, the GOP registered 2,468 voters and the Democrats 1,495, a gain of 973.

Prior to the registration this year Republicans had a total of 25,361 voters on the books and the Democrats had 20,361. Because of a state law, names of 6,029 voters, 3,091 Republicans and 2,938 Democrats, who had not cast ballots in the past five years were stricken off, reducing the registered voters to 22,270 Republicans and 17,423 Democrats.

The registration this year, however, boosted the Republican total to 24,738 and the Democratic figure to 18,918, a GOP majority of 5,820.

Figures for October gave the Republicans 456 voters on October 1 and the Democrats 262. On October 8 the Republicans got 682 and the Democrats, 354, a total for the two days of 1,138 Republicans and 616 Democrats, and a grand total of 1,754 new voters. The June registration gave the Republicans 1,330 voters and the Democrats 879, for a grand total of 2,209.

The increase in the Republican registration this year is slightly better than 4 to 1 above the GOP gain in 1944, according to a check of the figures. That year the Republicans got 225 more voters than the Democrats.

In comparison with 1942, the GOP gain was slightly more than two to one better than the Democrats were able to do, the former getting 401 more voters than the latter on the registration books.

This is an indication, Republicans leaders declare, that GOP candidates will come out victorious over Democratic standard bearers in the general election next month.

Complete registration figures from the county's 75 precincts were received and they show that on October 1 Republicans registering numbered 456 while Democrats numbered 262.

Plans Progress For City Survey

Plans for a survey of Cumberland's municipal government, expected to take from three to four months, were made yesterday at a conference attended by Dr. Joseph M. Ray, head of the Department of Government and Politics of the College of Business and Public Administration, University of Maryland, and the Mayor and Council.

Stating that he will clear material with the council before any report is published, Dr. Ray explains he does not expect endorsement of his recommendations by the council but only their support in making the study.

Dr. Ray said he will discuss various governmental problems with department heads, city employes and elected officials, adding that his study will be entirely non-political.

Some of the recommendations Dr. Ray made in a recent survey of Hagerstown city government are already in effect here, as employes are covered by a merit system and an annual audit of the books is made.

Aside from his proposal that Hagerstown adopt a council-manager form of government, Dr. Ray said that all other recommendations made in the Hagerstown survey have been adopted.

They include a new charter; home rule; appointment of department heads by the chief executive officer, directly responsible to him alone and subject to removal by him; annual general report to the citizens and periodic reporting from all departments to the central executive office; establishment of a regular planning agency; and implementing the budgeting function more thoroughly on the administrative as well as the legislative level.

Unions Sign Contract With Poultry Company

A joint agreement has been signed between the Stephens City, Va., Poultry Company and Local 387, Meat Cutters Union, and Local 453, Teamsters Union, C. E. Stutzman, business agent, said yesterday.

Stutzman said five to 15 cent wage increases, a closed shop and check off and job classifications were included in the contract.

He said the contract was the "first fruits" of an intensive organizing drive of the Shenandoah Valley poultry firms being conducted by Michael Roth, Chicago, and William Kraft, of the Meat Cutters union here.
